

THE HERALD

WEDNESDAY, JULY 31st, 1901. SUBSCRIPTION—$1.00 A YEAR, PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY JAMES McISAAC, Editor & Proprietor.

NOT as many of our subscribers as we would wish sent in their subscriptions in accordance with our repeated requests of the past few weeks. We want them to make amends for this delay by remitting at once. We want the money and we don't want our friends to disappoint us.

We have not heard anything about the prospective Grit candidature for West Queen's since the return of Premier Farquharson from the Pacific coast. Have himself and Mr. Hazard adjusted their difficulties and become reconciled, or are they growing at one another, each one afraid to be the first to speak out?

The trial of the election petition filed by Mr. Murdoch McKinnon, Conservative, against Mr. Bruce Grit, declared elected to the Provincial Legislature in December last, was commenced at Georgetown before Judge Hodgson on Monday last. Mr. McKinnon, who had been the sitting member from 1897 to 1900, was the Conservative candidate in opposition to Bruce in the general election of last December, and was defeated by only two or three votes.

going on. McLean, K. C., and Morson, K. C., are conducting the case for McKinnon, and Mr. D. A. McKinnon is arguing for Bruce.

Protection in Britain. (Halifax Herald.)

Public opinion, as expressed through the press, is certainly more in favor to-day of the adoption of a protective tariff policy in Britain than it has been at any other time during fifty years.

Even in Manchester, the home of Cobdenism, the Guardian publishes an interview with the president of one of the English steel companies, in which that gentleman declares the approach of the time "when the great mass of workmen in England will bring pressure to bear on their representatives in parliament which will induce them to reconsider their fiscal policy, at any rate to the extent of retaliatory import duty on finished steel, and emancipating themselves from the features of so-called free trade."

The London Financial News says: "Europe cannot afford to tolerate the American invasion, and will simply be obliged, before long, to take steps to guard herself against the giant flood of American surplus productions." Mr. H. W. Wilson, writing in the Fortnightly, looks to protection as the remedy against competition, saying: "There is only one means by which we can preserve our existing system, and it is not absolutely certain that this means would be effective. We can put a tariff wall around our islands and around the Empire."

The London Daily Express discusses the matter at length, declaring that "self-preservation is the first law of nature for nations as for individuals," insisting that the talk about technical schools and much other talk, is not to the point, and among other things says: "You cannot fight a Carnegie-Morgan Trust with a technical college diploma; nor will any number of lectures upon rural economy suffice to stay the flood of foreign food imports which is devastating our countryside."

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

CANNOT BE AT PEACE.

A Jamestown, St. Helena despatch of the 27th announces that had blood among the Boers at St. Helena making the oath of allegiance to King Edward caused so much fighting and disorder that it has become necessary to remove those who have taken the oath to a separate enclosure.

THE SHAMROCK SAILS.

The challenger Shamrock II, sailed from Greenock for New York on Saturday amid great enthusiasm of thousands of people. The crew, led by Sir Thomas Lipton, gave a hearty response to the farewell. Lipton remained aboard the challenger until off Cuba where he returned to the shore telling the men they had the best boat ever sent for the cup; that they were to meet generous opponents and he knew the best boat would win.

COLUMBIA BEATS CONSTITUTION.

The Columbia on Thursday, in a sailing match to Westport, New London to Newport, R. I., gave the Constitution a new and unexpected beating, the Constitution finishing a good third of a mile astern of her antagonist, being defeated by two minutes 5 seconds. The race was sailed in weather that, as a rule, has just suited the Constitution, the wind never exceeding a twelve knot gale, and the sea being smooth.

KING EDWARDS TITLE.

In the House of Lords on Friday, Lord Salisbury, the premier, introduced a bill authorizing King Edward to assume by proclamation, within six months of the adoption of the bill, such title as he may think fit to recognize his dominion beyond the seas. The premier added this would probably be as follows: "Edward the Seventh, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, of British dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith and Emperor of India."

TROTTER RECORD BROKEN AGAIN.

A Cleveland, Ohio, despatch of the 27th says: Amid the enthusiastic cheers of nearly ten thousand people, Cresceus, the world's champion trotting stallion, again demonstrated that he is peer of all trotters, by trotting a mile yesterday afternoon, over the Glenville track, in 2:02. This is a new world's trotting record for both sexes replacing the former world's record, 2:03, held by Abbot.

SCHLEY INQUIRY.

A Washington despatch of the 28th says: The precept to the Schley court of inquiry, which the navy department has been preparing for several days, was given to the public to-day. It is a document addressed to Admiral Dewey as president of the court instructing him concerning the matters to be investigated.

While it declares that the "entire matter" of Admiral Schley's conduct during the operations in West Indian waters shall be investigated, making use of the very words employed by Admiral Schley in his letter to Secretary Long, it also selects certain distinctive acts of the rear admiral concerning the facts and propriety of which it calls for particular investigation. These points cover briefly Admiral Schley's alleged delay with the flying squadron at Cienfuegos, the slowness of his progress toward Santiago after leaving Cienfuegos, the retrograde movement toward Key West, the effectiveness of the bombardment of the Spanish fleet at the range used in the reconnaissance of May 31, the state of the coal supply on various ships when he telegraphed the department that he would return to Key West, the loop of the Brooklyn at Santiago, the accuracy of his reports and matters relating to the controversy between him and Commander Hodgson over the alleged colloquy which is said to have taken place aboard the Brooklyn when the loop was made during the naval engagement of Santiago.

THE BOXERS AGAIN.

The North Chinese Daily News announces that there has been a renewal of outbreaks by the Boxers in the province of Shan Tsung, in consequence of the success of the allied villagers in the Chi Li province amongst the troops of Li Hung Chang.

THE MAD MULLAH.

In a fight between Mad Mullah and the British, July 17th, the former was routed, losing 70 killed. The British casualties were Lieut. Fredericks and 12 men killed, and Lieut. Dixon and 20 men wounded.

SPAIN'S NEW PROGRAMME.

Premier Sagasta has announced the Spanish government's programme, which will include the reorganization of the army, the establishment of bases for naval operations and the construction of an arsenal on a vast scale.

UPROAR IN COMMONS.

Says a London despatch of July 30th: There was wild uproar in the house of commons between one and two o'clock this morning at the conclusion of the debate on the taxation of agricultural property. The conservatives interrupted Mr. Walton, the liberal, with cries of "Divide." William Redmond, on a point of order, called the attention of the speaker to the interruption, but the speaker ruled that the point was not well taken. Mr. Walton resumed, but quite inaudibly, owing to the persistent cries of "Divide." Mr. Redmond shouted "Pollo, pollo." The speaker said this expression was disorderly.

house and named him. Mr. Balfour, the government leader, moved Mr. Redmond's suspension, and this was carried by a vote of 803 to 71. Patrick O'Brien persisted in the same point of order and was in turn named and suspended. The bill was adopted.

In South Africa.

The London Daily Mail publishes Lord Kitchener's official report regarding the Vlakfontein affair, which is as follows: "Lieut. W. S. B. Duff has given the following information:—

"On the day after the fight at Vlakfontein, May 29th, Lieut. Hearn told him that while lying on the ground wounded, he saw about 20 yards from him, Lieut. Spring and Sergeant Findlay, both slightly wounded. They were binding up each other's wounds, when a young Boer, with a pink puggaree around his hat, came up and shot both dead. Lieut. Hearn lay quite still. The Boers, thinking him dead, contented themselves with taking his spurs and leggings. Lieut. Hearn also said that others of our wounded were shot by Boers."

Lieut. Duff collected the testimony of eight privates and non-commissioned officers, who affirmed that they saw Boers shoot our wounded. Several of the men saw a Boer, evidently someone in authority, trying to stop his men from shooting our wounded."

The foregoing is taken from Lord Kitchener's first report on the subject. He has wired that he would supplement it by sworn testimony.

The Cape Town correspondent of the London Standard says: "Mail advices say it is reported in Pretoria that Lord Kitchener will give up his command August 31 and proceed to England, where he will remain five months, then taking over the supreme command in India, and that Sir Bindon Blood is expected to succeed him in South Africa."

A despatch from Kimberley dated July 26th says: Two hundred rebels, under Van Zant, attacked Selatgong on Friday, but were repulsed. General Delarey is reported to have been present. He afterwards recrossed into the Transvaal and attempted to blow up the railway. Seven pounds of dynamite were concealed and set so as to explode the dynamite when a train passed. The rails were not dented sufficiently to press the needle, and several trains passed without harm. A "ganger" discovered the mine.

LONDON, July 30.—Lord Stanley, the Financial Secretary to the War Office, replying to a question in the House of Commons, said that the total number of Boers made prisoners, or who had surrendered since the declaration of war up to July was thirty thousand.

A fight is reported to have taken place between Jamestown and L'Anse-au-Loup, eastern Cape Colony. Four Boer's commando attacked one hundred Connaught Rangers. Scouts from Aliwal North appearing, the Boers retreated, apparently thinking that the scouts were strongly supported. The Boers are said to have lost heavily.

Obituary.

At Hope River, on July 17th, James Pendergast departed this life in the 78th year of his age. He leaves a widow, three sons and one daughter to mourn an irreparable loss. He was born in County Kilkenny, Ireland, in the year 1823. When he had attained his fifth year, his family bade adieu to all that was near and dear to them in the dear old land of their birth and came to seek a home in the New World.

General Hewitt, and after a long and weary passage landed at Quebec. From here they re-embarked for Malpeque, P. E. I., where they lived only one year. Following the coast eastward, they finally located in Hope River, where they founded the homestead, on which the deceased lived a long and happy life. He was sober, industrious and honest, and was very popular with a large circle of friends. His stores of information were inexhaustible, and his conversational powers made his company most agreeable. During the spring his health began to fail, but all thought that the warm summer would bring back his usual good health. Still death claimed him, and he hopefully answered the call that all must obey. His funeral took place on the 19th July, and a large number of mourning relatives and friends followed the remains to their last resting place in the cemetery of St. Anne's Church, Hope River. The pallbearers were John Canning, James Canning, Wm. H. Hogan, Patrick Bell, Wm. Power and John Coughlan. High Mass of Requiem was sung by the pastor, Rev. James E. McDonald, and his body was committed to the earth to await a glorious union with the soul in heaven. Requiescat in pace.

Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

The Royal is made from the most highly refined and wholesome ingredients, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is cheaper at its price than any similar article.

Samples of mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food, and in many cities their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a corrosive poison, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.
