Criticising Other People's Happiness.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

One man's meat is another man's poison does not sound like a very important proverb, but I often wish most heartily that more of us could get the gist of it into our attitude towards life.

For there are a great many people in the world who continually disturb themselves because other people will not find happiness in just the way they do. Apparently such people would rather see their friends poisoned by that which is meat to themselves, than find that which happens to be their poison.

One woman in my acquaintance never fails to introduce into every conversation the way in which one of her childhood friends finds happiness. "I really don't see how Janet can be happy way out in the country out of touch with everything," is the burden of her plaint; "I think it is outrageous for her to bury herself like that."

Now Janet is fond of country life and is undoubtedly very happy, and yet I do not doubt that if her critic had the ordering of things, she would force the city life, which is meat to herself, upon her friend, to whom it would probably be poison.

One girl cannot understand how another girl is willing to wear cheap and unattractive clothes and go without all the little day to day luxuries for the sake of taking some expensive trip once a year; and the criticised one in her turn complains because her critic spends most of her salary on pretty clothes and lesser luxuries and can never afford to indulge in travel. Again Mrs. R. is always telling us how foolish it is for the S's to keep a maid when it is evident by the simplicity of their clothes and their general manner of living that they cannot afford it. As a matter of fact, the services of a maid are necessary to the continued life and health of the little house-mother, and consequently the family consider the money well spent, even if it does necessitate scrimping in some other directions.

As it happens, the S's are not the kind of people who are fretted when they see other folks finding happiness in some direction other than their own, and so they do not return the criticism, but there ARE people who frequently declare that they cannot see how the R's can be happy in such a cramped apartment, even if it is in the most fashionable part of the city.

Love affairs always bring forth a perfect deluge of such criticism. We cannot understand what she sees in him, or if he happens to suit us, we cannot make out how he should be satisfied with her.

And so it goes—we cannot be content to want and try to get it; we want everyone else to want it, and think they are in some way lacking if they do not.

And yet, stop to think a moment. If you could, would you have things different? Would you want everyone to think alike? Wouldn't that soon become monotonous? Of course it would. And inconvenient into the bargain, when the law of supply and demand began to work. Suppose you remember this the next time you feel inclined to criticise your neighbor's way of being happy, and try to be content with choosing your own happiness.

or crash is a patent leather strip of from one to two inches in width, which fastens with a colonial buckle of highly polished gold, silver or gunmetal.

The pannier sash is perhaps the one of leading importance at the moment. This only starts from the waist line at the back, where it usually hooks on the gown, and drops in two wide bands to about the knees, where it is again caught to the dress with an ornament and a line of fringe. These bands are not taut from the waist to the knee, but hang so that they form a little loop. It is from this looping that the name of pannier is obtained.

New Pole Vault Record.
Philadelphia, June 3.—A world's record and a collegiate record was broken, while five inter-collegiate records went by the board at the inter-collegiate track and field championships on Franklin Field.

The new world's figures were made in the pole vault by R. S. Gardner of Yale, and was the most notable performance of the meet. After the and H. S. Babcock, of Columbia, had broken the inter-collegiate record of 12 feet 8 1/2 inches, made by Babcock last year, by going over the bar at 12 feet 9 1/2 inches, the stick was put up to 13 feet 1 inch. The Yale man on his second try cleared it. The world's record stood at 12 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Promoter Goes to Prison.
Sentenced to a Year and Fined $500 For Using Mails to Defraud.
New York, June 19.—William T. Wintemute, of Summit, N. J., promoter of the Gold Run Mining and Tunnel Company, of Colorado, was found guilty in the United States District Court to-day of using the mails to defraud.

He was sentenced by Judge Ought to pay a fine of $500 and to serve one year in prison. Fayette B. Tiffany, a Denver lawyer, who was indicted with Wintemute was found not guilty. Wintemute was arrested in the summer of 1910. He was believed to have received a total of $1,500,000 from 700 persons in this country and England. His contention on trial was that he believed all the claims made by him in circulars, of the value of the properties in question to be true. Among Wintemute's English victims were Lady Tankerville and her niece, Miss Louisa Elout, and some of the most damaging testimony against Wintemute were the letters and cablegrams sent by him, congratulating them on their investments in Gold Run, and urging them to buy more.

Does Damage.
Saturday afternoon the automobile owned and driven by Mr. S. K. Bell collided with the cab outfit of Arthur Simmons, near the Crobie Hotel while the latter was waiting for a freight, considerable damage was done to the carriage, the horse took fright and but for the coolness of the driver in holding her in the mishap would have been more serious. The automobile man was at fault and is making good the damage wrought.

LIGHTS OUT.—A break in the main electric wire last night was the cause of some of the street lamps not being lit and the city was in darkness all night. This brought home to the minds of many how badly we could afford to dispense with an illuminant.

Brigade Parades.

C. L. B.

The full battalion of the Church Lads Brigade paraded yesterday forenoon to the 9.30 service at St. Michael's Church and the lads mustered out in large numbers. Headed by its splendid band the brigade which was commanded by Lieut-Col. Rendell marched from Armoury, Harvey Rd. to Church where the service was taken by Rev. J. Beaton, who preached a very eloquent sermon. After service to the spirited music of the band the brigade marched down Water Street and to the Armoury by way of Adelaide Street, New Gower Street and Theatre Hill a concourse of people accompanying it. The lads presented a smart appearance and were much admired by all who witnessed the parade.

C. C. C.

The Catholic Cadet Corps commanded by Lt-Col. G. O'N Conroy and Major J. F. Donnelly also held a church parade yesterday forenoon attending last mass at St. Patrick's Church. The battalion mustered out in almost its full strength, coming along LeMarchant Road from the Armoury to the church and on arrival, the officers held seats in the Sanctuary while the battalion occupied the nave. Mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Galway of Wheeling, W. Va., U.S.A., who also occupied the pulpit and delivered an excellent discourse on "duty." After mass and when the priests of the Deanery had been serenaded, the corps marched down Water Street to the Armoury by way of Cochrane St. and Military Road. The fine band of the corps under Lieut. Bailey played some excellent marches and quick-steps and the brigade was greatly admired by the many who reviewed the parade.

Trinity College of Music.

In the published lists of the preparatory grade only the names of the St. John's candidates appeared.

To these should be added, Gerald Strapp, Hr. Grace, who led the grade with 81 per cent. Mary Brazil, bracketed second and Willie Jones, well up in the list. These were the pupils of Miss Hanrahan, daughter of Mr. Hanrahan, Supt. of Education.

In the Intermediate Division the first six should have appeared as passing with honours, i.e. per cent. or over.

These include four from Harbour Grace, (Miss Cody) one of them first with 89 per cent, two with 87 per cent, and one with 81 per cent.

Helen Rodgers of St. Patrick's Convent was bracketed second and Helen Hiscock of the Presentation Convent took third place.

In the Junior Grade, Bride Mullings of the Mercy Convent, Military Road and Mary P. A. Hogan tied for the first place in the Honours Division with 86 per cent.

Miss Cody of Harbour Grace and St. Patrick's Convent tied for second place with candidates Monica Jackson and Mary Dooley, while the third place went to Lillie Gaul of the Presentation Convent, Cathedral Square. Alice Brien of the Convent, Brigades and Annie Lynch a pupil of Miss Hanrahan, Harbour Grace, each with 80 per cent of the total marks.

A Simple Treatment that Will Make Hair Grow Now Sold in Newfoundland.

Every up-to-date woman should have radiant hair. There are thousands of women with harsh, faded, characterless hair, who do not try to improve it. In England and Paris women take pride in having beautiful hair. Every Canadian woman can have lustrous and luxuriant hair by using SALVIA the Great American Sage Hair Tonic.

Every reader of the Telegram can have an attractive head of hair in a few weeks by using SALVIA. McMurdo & Co. sells a large bottle for 50 cents, and guarantees it to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in ten days, or money back.

SALVIA is a beautiful, pleasant non-sticky Hair Tonic.

For The Nervous Woman.

Or the woman who experiences hot flashes nothing is so good to soothe, quiet and calm the nervous system as a pure glyceric extract of native medicinal plants, and made without alcohol, which has been sold by druggists for the past forty years, and most favorably known as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In younger years some women suffer from dizziness, or fainting spells, hysteria, headache, bearing-down feelings and pain. All these symptoms of irregularity and female disturbance are relieved by the use of this famous "Prescription" of Doctor Pierce.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system, and in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For over-worked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, it is an excellent appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

"My disease was called retroversion," writes Mrs. Lorna McDonald, of Meosota, Mich., Route 1. "I had nervous chills and numb spells and they would leave me very weak. Then I had inflammation and the doctor said I had a floating kidney. I doctored seven months with our family physician. He said I would have to have an operation. Then I stopped taking his medicine. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicine I have not had any nervous chills or weak spells. I am better than for years."

"My daughter is now taking the 'Prescription' and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, also the 'Pellets' for nervousness and weak, tired feeling. These remedies have helped her ever so much in a short time. We have great faith in your medicines for female troubles."

Mrs. McDonald, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets induce mild natural bowel movement.

Fads and Fashions.

One piece linen dresses of solid color or have bands of a contrasting shade to trim them.

There is a very beautiful wash coat—a crepe that has a silky finish and a silk-on-cotton mixture that is to be found among the blouse materials.

Silks are being washed and unaffected by salt water are offered this season for bathing suits. They are much like hair in texture and rather expensive.

This has been a season of coat oddities. A new sport coat is known as "chamack" now, because it is made of the blanket fabric used by the lumbermen of the west.

Sleeves are seen which reach almost to the knuckles. They are cut bell-shaped, though otherwise tight from the elbow. No ruffles or edged trimmings adorn them.

The dominating note everywhere is a pretty short costume of silk, which

The Stomach Needs Help

The liver, kidneys and bowels must be kept active with DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

The liver and kidneys are over-worked in their efforts to remove the poisonous waste matter from the system. They fail and become torpid and clogged. The bowels become constipated and stomach derangements follow.

There is one medicine which will overcome this condition, more certainly and more quickly than any other, and this is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

This medicine gets the bowels in action at once, and by awakening the liver and kidneys ensures the thorough cleansing of the filtering and excretory systems.

has nothing of the tailor-made about it, yet keeps the name of tailor-made for some unknown reason.

Entire dresses of taffeta with spring patterns have made their appearance, and have been corded and ruffled with pale stein matching a particular color in the design.

One special feature of the present season is certainly the sash. It takes many forms and variations, but the old conventional sash of two plain flowing ends is almost forgotten.

White remains the most popular and modish of colors. The latest phase of white preference is in the form of summer frocks made entirely of crepe de chine, crepe meteor or of taffeta.

For quite young girls there are narrow belts of black patent kid, having at back and front small insets of suede in plain plain designs and colors, and buckles of the trunk type in gilt or German silver.

A present mode that is likely to influence the coming fashions is the favor of shown the quaint tulle de Jouy patterns, which this season have been produced in taffeta, in silk mousseline and in chiffons.

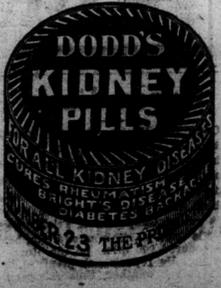

Deep, cape collars of sheer linen, embroidered and edged with a ruffle of pleated tulle, almost cover the entire blouse, and are most attractive to wear with dresses of silk, linen, daintily or the finer materials.

Many of the smartest dresses of the present season have been made with long sleeves, and almost without exception the sleeves have had the kimono epaulet and have introduced a little fullness at the elbow.

The "Apache" is a collar designed for summer wear with coat or with the negligee type of blouse or dress. Despite its name it is nothing more nor less than an adaptation of the Byron collar, cut wide in front and rolling sides and back.

Because of the vogue of the tolle de Jouy there has been a sort of reflected vogue for the more showy Pompadour patterns. These, in silk and in chiffon, are employed for dress costumes, in combination with lace flounces and pannier ideas.
