

A Reminder to the Fishermen

How Morris and McGrath Tried to Wreck the Concerns Where the Fisherman Had Invested His Money.

Why should the fisherman be denied the right to organize, to demand better prices for his fish, to procure his supplies, his provisions and his clothes cheaper? Has he not the same right to sell his labor and the produce of his labor in the dearest market as well as the cooper, the longshoreman and the artisan class. Every trade is organized in this city in addition to the laboring classes. Union combination was formed absolutely essential to secure fair play and a living wage.

It was not until Coaker organized the fishermen into the great social, commercial and political organization which we now know as the Fishermen's Protective Union that any successful attempt was made to combine the fishermen of this country for their own interests; and it will be useful for the fisherman to ask himself how their Union has been treated by Morris. It must be fresh in everyone's memory that when Morris failed to stop the criticisms of his corrupt policy by the Union and the Fishermen's Advocate, McGrath made a fierce attack on the President of the Union. That worthy set apart a week in the Chronicle, a paper which has early met the fall awaiting the Morris Government, and made a ferocious onslaught on Coaker, on the Union Trade-ing Company, on the co-operative stores and the Union and its interests generally. Everyone knows the result. McGrath, the mud-slinger-in-chief of Morris, the man whose name stands for all that is vile, or as the Tory Plaindealer put it, all that is basest, meanest and lowest in our public life, received better than he sent. Coaker met him on his own ground and beat him ignominiously. And having done so he made the slanderer eat several dishes of crow for the libels published of the Union Trading Company.

There cannot be any serious doubt that McGrath acted for Sir Edward Morris in making these attacks. These men are in daily conference with each other. Morris made no attempt to stop the onslaught of slander and abuse hurled at the F. P. U., the Trading Company and its President by McGrath. He must then be held more accountable for this attempt to wreck the Union than McGrath. For if he was not directing the attack, or not in sympathy with it, he had only to order McGrath to cease. McGrath works for boodle, and the mere threat to advert the golden stream flowing from the Treasury to his pockets would be sufficient. It is clear no such orders were given, for McGrath did not cease his campaign until he was completely routed by Coaker.

Morris's FAILURES

FREE LIST BAIT.

Morris has failed absolutely to relieve the strain of taxation on the country. Cashin proposes this year to take out of the people twice as much as the Bond Government did ten years ago. True, last session, Cashin placed certain articles on the Free List, but people regard that as a belated election dodge and call the bait stale. In four successive Budgets his Government made no attempt to reduce taxation. Morris said in his Manifesto it was easy enough to do this, but instead of doing it, he set to work to pile up burdens of debt on the people, and his Finance Minister in 1912 told the people that he didn't believe in the policy and there would be no reduction. However, he changed his mind and offered the bait in election year and the people properly spurned it as mere bait to catch the votes of those who had been fooled for four years.

OUTPORT HOSPITALS.

Morris proposed to establish small cottage hospitals at suitable outport centres. The only outport we have been told he established one was in a shack at Burin. We were sent a photograph of a shack which was called by our correspondent as "The Burin Hospital." The Government newspaper disclaimed this and declared that no Government money had been spent on it. If that is so, what has Morris done to carry out the pledge he made five years ago of establishing small cottage hospitals at suitable outport centres?

ELECTIVE ROAD BOARDS.

Morris also promised to pass through the Legislature a simple and inexpensive measure for the election of Outport Road Boards so that the people in outport settlements might enjoy a fuller share in the management of their own local affairs. Five sessions have been held and the Assembly which kept him in power is dissolved, but where is the measure he promised? To-day the Board of Works scandal is one of the worst of the many scandals which is overwhelming the Morris Government with unpopularity. Grants to individuals and families have earned the derisive name of Hush Grants and Family Grants, and people are expressing a wholesome detestation of the wholesale giving-out of public money, for which no adequate returns are made on the roads and other public works. Since May 1st over a quarter of a million dollars has been sent out by the Board of Works. This department needs a thorough overhauling. Officials have been pensioned who were well able to do their work and who objected strongly to be placed on the retired list, but out they had to go to give place to healers who wanted jobs. Salaries have been raised most erratically, not to use a stronger term, for anything but public service, and the service has become a scandal and a machine to raise political capital for the Government. The people are, however, aroused and they will insist on outport monies being managed for the best interests of the people and by the people themselves so far as local management can effect it.

We should like at this juncture, when the Morris candidates will be looking for the votes of Union and non-Union fishermen, to remind all of these potent facts. This was the first successful attempt of the fishermen to organize a union. The Union had borne fruits in various ways well known to all Union men. Yet it is no sooner successfully established and the money of the fishermen embarked in the enterprise than these vicious attacks, these attempts to wreck and destroy it are made by the Morris Government's party newspapers.

You haven't heard of any such attacks made on the Unions of St. John's. Ask yourselves, fishermen of all classes, Union and non-Union, why you were selected by Morris for this onslaught of McGrath? Why should your money be placed in jeopardy because President Coaker refused to cease from criticising the Morris Government in your paper, the Advocate? We need only remind you that if Coaker and the Union were prepared to give political support to Morris, the F. P. U., the Trading Company, the Advocate and other interests carrying your money would have received sympathetic support from Morris and his paid newspapers. But because Coaker refused to countenance the gross corruption everywhere shown in the actions of Morris's Government, this base and vile attempt was ordered to be made to wreck him and the F. P. U., a society which enabled the fisherman for the first time in this country to raise a united voice and demand his rights.

Trenchant Pens.

Trenchant pens are working for the Liberal Party and Bond. Coaker had the offer of $250,000 to betray the men who were behind him, but he would not be bribed. Hundreds of thousands of dollars of public money are being thrown out in bribes, but the people won't swallow.

Who did they try to bribe last year? Who will they try to bribe this year?

Now, Patsy you'll cry more that you did after the Chicago Record Letter, when we get after you. Look out for squalls.

Statesmen, truly good men, must have a hand in this campaign. Sir Robert Bond is a gentleman, is a true man and a good man's son. If days of depression he saved the country, and the idea of the little Patsy being up against him. How ridiculous!

Would that the ballots were counted.

What an exemplary victory. Where are their men coming from?

Obituary.

PATRICK WALSH.
Suddenly and very unexpectedly death came to an estimable citizen Thursday when Mr. Patrick Walsh, of Water Street West, was called to the Great Beyond. Quiet and unostentatious Mr. Walsh, however, was a man of integrity and also of strong force of character and genial personality. He had many friends in the West End and had few if any enemies. He leaves a wife and several children and three sisters, viz., Mrs. P. Allan, Mrs. John Fitzgerald and Mrs. Louis Muldowney, of Witless Bay. To the bereaved family The Evening Telegram offers its sincere condolence.

MR. MARK FAGEUR.
Mr. Leonard Rose, Warden of H. M. S. Penitentiary, had a letter a couple of days ago advising him of the death of his brother-in-law Mr. Mark Faguer at 742 Franklin Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Faguer's death occurred on August 31st and was a man well known in Brooklyn, was a native of Lower Island Cove, and was 18 years out of the Colony, going at first to Pittsburg, Pa., and later to Brooklyn. He married Miss Robin, of Bonavista, and died in the promise of life, being only 40 years at his death. Besides his wife he leaves a mother, one daughter, two sisters and a brother to whom The Evening Telegram extends its sympathy.

Rossley Opens Vaudeville Season.

To-night the A. B. Marcus Tabloid Co., known as the Musical Minstrel Maids, open their engagement. This is a first-class vaudeville combination, each and every member a qualified performer. Among the principals are several well known New York artists. There is an operatic singer, Western cow-boy rope spinner, human mechanical doll, acrobatic dancer, buck and wing dancer, baby queen, an infant prodigy; a Scotch and Irish dancer, and winner of 32 medals; a black face comedian, a Gypsy violinist, a Hebrew comedian, a musical director, a dancing director, an electrician, gorgeous costumes, novel electrical effects, splendid stage settings. Surely enough variety to please all, and each and every show is clean and they guarantee a laugh per minute. In fact a lollar show for twenty cents.

Nervous Dyspepsia, Gas or Indigestion

Each "Pape's Diapepsin" digests 3000 grains food, ending all stomach misery in five minutes.

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome our gassy or out-of-order stomachs surely within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Get from your Pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no more sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nauseas, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disorder.
