A communication was read from the Municipal Council of Kingston, asking that the London City Council co-operate with them in their fight with the insurance companies regarding their assessment. The matter was laid over pending the advice of the solicitor with regard to the local companies.

matter was tail over pending the advice of the solicitor with regard to the local companies.

School Trustee Dewar hereupon broke into the charmed circle with a question for the committee to answer. He wanted to know how the estimates for the Askin street school would be affected by the change from the Smead, Dowd & Co. to the Stevely system of ventilating. The committee thought that the estimate could remain unchanged, and that the items would not appear in it.

The communication was read from the Western Art League, asking for a grant of $500 towards the erection of the art annex to the main exhibition building. Mr. S. K. Davidson, president of the Art League, addressed the Board in support of the grant, and impressed the committee with the need of the annex on the ground that there was not proper light, especially for oil paintings.

As the building would be owned eventually by the city the speaker thought that there should be no objection owned eventuary by the City the speaker thought that there should be no objection to the grant.

Chamberlain Pope—Perhaps I can give you a little light on the question. There was a supplimentary debenture issued for $10,000 for exhibition purposes some time ago and of that amount $386 23 is still in the treasury.

Mayor Taylor then moved that the committee recommend to the City Council that the balance mentioned, together with an amount sufficient to make up the sum of $500, be handed to the league for the erection of the samex. The motion was seconded by Ald. Anderson and passed. The delegation from the Art League bowed their thanks and retired, Col Lewis firing as a feu de joic, a "Thank you for the enlightenment, Chamberlain," as he disappeared through the door.
