Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 7 .- While Col. > TRYING FOR HARMONY. [Canadlan Press.]

Chicago, Ill., June 7.-The Republican and Progressive national conventionsthe first at the Coliseum and the second at the Auditorium-opened here today an hour apart, with growing hopes of harmony and a possibility that this week may see the end of the bitter Republican feud born in this city four years ago. Leaders of the two parties who sought their beds at dawn for brief naps after a night of conferences, did so with the almost settled conviction that incidents which would become historic in American political annals were impending. Hope for Peace.

This hoped-for program of peace between Progressives and Republicans, however, may go glimmering, but the men who early today made the "end of the war" prediction, asserted their faith was founded upon a tangible sequence of events of more than ordinary significance and importance. Here is what lead to the "peace is

and other Republicans, who have been working hard for harmony for several days, yesterday afternoon completed their canvass of heretofore uncertain western delegates, including those from California, Washington and Oregon, At once Senator Borah entered the lists as an unqualified champion of Justice Hughes, declaring that "nobody but Hughes could win against Wilson." Borah Sees Perkins.

After several hours of work among the delegates, Senator Borah went into conference with George W. Perkins of New York, the Progressive leader. While at Mr. Perkins' rooms, the senadmitted that he "was better satisfied" with the prospects for harmony than he had been at any time since he arrived in Chicago.

Some time later, Mr. Perkins emerged from a conference with Senator and said that the outlook for harmony between the two conventions was "brighter."

Stop T. R. Ads.

These incidents were followed by the announcement that Mr. Perkins had vetoed the Progressive plan to print full-page advertisements throughout the country in behalf of Col. Roose-Coincident with the statement that abandonment of the advertising campaign had been ordered came the declaration that the two conventions today would attempt to name conference committees. The plan, if materialized, then will be presented to the two conventions for ratification, and there were men on the ground today who already had visalized-to their own satisfaction at least, a spectacular reunion of "the that the arrival here yesterday of ter Bay," was in fact the appearance of a silent advance agent, whose coming may presage that of Col. go on with increasing vehemence. But the world outside of Chicago, the keen interest in balloting, with preminaries out of the way, cannot be atisfied for at least forty-eigh+ hours, with the possible exception of the Progressive convention. Events in the next 24 hours may show striking developments and indicate strongly the probable selection of a certain man for the Republican nomination, but as yet there is no certainty what the delegates will do once they get under way on roll call.

NEW YORK COTTON

Short Covering Advances Values 10 Points.

[Reported by Thomson & McKinnon.] New York, June 6. Prices advanced about 10 points o big buying of Liverpool of 10,000 to 15, 000 baies of July, October and January and some covering of the shorts. Th reported loss of Lord Kitchener on the Hampshire caused some weakness for a time, but the most striking factor was the big buying by Liverpool. This was supplemented by some big buying by spot houses and shorts.

Cables say that London and Liverpool exchanges have been closed out of respect to the memory of Lord Kitchener. Whether they will remain closed tomorrow is not known. It is believed that this loss, great as it is, will not effect cotton directly, though it might have some passing effect if the stock markets are influenced by it.

Apart from this, however, the buying to liquidate straddles here by Liverpool has of late been the principal thing in shaping the course of prices. Exports were small today, being only 2,000 bales, but it looks as though ocean freights were tending downward, and it would not be surprising to see liberal exports this month. This might have a tendency to cause a narrowing of the differences between New York and reported loss of Lord Kitchener on th exports this month. This hadden tendency to cause a narrowing of the differences between New York and Liverpool. Certainly Liverpool seems to something of the kind judging by persistency in liquidation its persistency in liquidation of straddles by buying here. It is mainly a trading market with less pressure o-long liquidation.

MALL STREET.

New York, June 7—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Irregular price changes attended the moderate operations of today's early market, with a fairly equal distribution of gains and losses. Standard stocks were again subordinated to specialties, although Norfolk and Western calties, although Norfolk and Western cialties, although Norfolk and Western and Louisville and Nashville were again strong, the former at a new record. Marine, preferred, recovered a point of yesterday's decline, with as much or more for United Fruit, Crucible Steel and South Porto Rico Sugar. Later the list developed a better tone, Reading leading the movement. Willys-Overland featured the motors, rising 7½ points. Metals were under further restraint. Noon.—Norfolk and Western became the outstanding feature on its continued advance to 137%, exceeding its previous high quotation by over a point. Changes in active special stocks were previous high quotation by over a point. Changes in active special stocks were toward greater irregularity, but Reading and other prominent rails more than held their ground, while a 2 point advance in Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis called renewed attention to the southern group. The inquiry for Harvester issues resulted in substantial gains. Inactive specialties, such as American Tobacco, International Paper, preferred, Woolworth and Kayster, were particularly strong. Bonds were firm.

NO DECISION YET MADE AS TO SUCCESSOR FOR BRITISH WAR OFFICE

David Lloyd George, Lord largely instrumental in planning and Derby and Sir Wm. Robertson Are Discussed.

[Canadlan Press.]

London, June 6.-10:20 p.m.-The ews that Earl Kitchener, secretary of state for war, and his staff, who were proceeding to Russia aboard the cruiser Hampshire, were lost off the Orkney | tion has been re-organized into a board Islands last night, was the most stunning blow Great Britain has received since the war began.

This is the second shock the country nas sustained within a week. The other was when the newspapers appeared Friday evening with first inelligence of the naval battle in the North Sea in the form of a list of the ships lost, with virtually no intimaion that there was any compensation in the way of enemy losses. The bulletin telling of the death of Kitchener gave the country an even greater Kitchener was the one outstanding personality whom the people talked of and believed in as a great man, not withstanding newspaper attacks which at a former period of the war threatened to undermine his popularity and blic confidence in h Loss to Foreign Office.

The foreign office was saddened by ne loss of its most valued member Hugh James O'Beirne, while Sir Frederick Donaldson and Brigadier-Gen. Ellershaw of the department of muniions were known to be men whom he nation could ill afford to lose. The fact that the cruiser Hampshire with between 200 and 300 men had sunk was generally accepted as an nfortunate detail in these days when thousand go under almost as an inident of warfare, and the Canadians pattle gets scanty column in the news-

Speculation as to Successor. The King came from Windsor and ent for Premier Asquith when heard the news. The war council held long session. Naturally, speculation ner's succ ediately. Among those discussed were David Lloyd George, Lord Derby and the chief of the imperial staff, Sir William Robertson.
