Ice, Short Week Off, Gives Hockey Program Momentum And Fans Fresh Interest

Meeting Tonight Discusses Operating Westminster Rink.

TWO WORKOUTS

ntermediate and Junior Squads Work Tuesday and Thursday.

Ice in the new arena is little more than a week away and hockey interis at the fever point.

ndoor workouts are scheduled to errow and Thursday nights at the gym and a full array of the hockey nt both junior and intermediate of the city is expected out at these two affairs. The workouts start at eight o'clock, first under Physical Director Sinclair of the Y. M. C. A. and then under temporary Coach Sid Rankin and the two evenings will sufficiently strenuous to have the on skates next week if the ice program of the arena officials does n st get sidetracked. All the pipes are laid and everything is practically and everything is practically y for the ammonia to start its men who are taking part in the indoor workouts are taking their work seriously and with the near ap-proach of an opportunity to get on the ice, should redouble their condiefforts this week.

This week a meeting of the junior city league will be held, time and place to be notified later. The peronnel of the league and whether or ot a winner will be entered in the not a winner will be entered in the O. H. A. or N. H. L. are matters that will not be definitely known until this meeting clears up the situation definitely known until Western U and two collegiates will leved enter teams. Any other organization thinking of entering this series is requested to have repre-sentatives ready to attend the meeting, the exact date of which will be notified today or tomorrow.

Amateur hockey leagues of the city have arranged a special meeting to-night in the Chamber of Commerce with the members of the hockey subwith the members of the hockey sub-committee of the L. A. A. A., and Whit Lancaster, owner of the West-minster rink, with a view to having the latter structure operated this

It is believed that this meeting will reveal a way in which the Westminster rink may be operated at a profit this winter despite the prence of the new arena.

There are the Church, Garrison C. A. A., Junior City and "Wossa" s to be accommodated this nster rink might prove a refuge the public school teams in case a "black winter" to which the signs seem to point. Besides all these scheduled games, there are many odd games for which accommodation should be found.

Within Next Few Days.

Something definite will likely be done within the next few days with regard to London's chances of entering the senior O, B. A. ranks this year.

The idea still prevails that London has sufficient material in sight to justify the plunge being made this season, even facing the fact that so far there have been no workouts held, and what have been no workouts held, and what is not any more encouraging, the fact that no coach has been chosen.

Senior basketball in London would help all down the line, and it is believed that if a team is even now mustered, every co-operation will be forthcoming from other organizations. Some of the senior candidates, impatient at delay, have already joined teams and may be lost, but there are still enough may be lost, but there are still enough players about the city not yet affiliated with any team to make a senior team

OUTCLASSED.

The rugby season closed Saturday and champions have been returned in all the divisions. The season closes with nothing very definite as far as program goes for next season. Queen's withdrawal may mean the suspension of the Dominion senior finals because, if other members of the Intercollegiate Union should follow suit, the Dominion finals wouldn't provide anything but a lot of room for controversies and "paper" champions.

Sarnia's decisive beating at the hands of the R. M. C. Cadets was rather a surprise to Western Ontario fans. It lends weight to the contention that Dundas had better confine itself to the intermediate ranks for some time to come.

"GOING DOWN!"

Clarke Pittenger's release to the Philadelphia Athletics means the return of the former London third sacker to the minors. A batting average of a little over .200 gives the reason for Pitt's return. Pittenger is young yet and he has everything but hitting to make him a big leaguer. Probably he'll discover how to hit in a couple of seasons and he'll ascend again.

GRANITES HERE ON 18TH.

A provisional date for Granites' appearance here on the 18th of this month (if there is ice) still finds the situation fogged up as regards opposition. Granites have won their games so decisively that even if another senior team were brought here, the fans would almost surely witness a Granite win. Why not let them do their stuff against district home-brews?

MUD-BOOTS NO EXPLANATION.

Hamilton C. I. were loaned "mud-boots" by the Hamilton Tigers for their muddy game with Oakwoods Saturday, during which they won Ontario nonors. Oakwoods were more experienced and pounds heavier, and coneded the title almost as soon as the season began, and there certainly must have been more than "mud-boots" on the side of the Hamilton squad. Probably a "school spirit" unusual outside of private schools had somet

Special to The Advertiser. New York, Dec. 10.—The baseball ans of this year were shocked today when they read of the tragic death of "Wild Bill" Donovan in the New York Central wreck at Forsyth, N. Y., early this morning. "Wild Bill" Donovan was a lovable soul, with a winning smile and a personality that won him a legion of friends, not only in this city, not alone on the ball-field, but wherever he went. He was a spectator at the last world's series game when the Yankees beat the Giants and won the championship, and his smile was broader than ever. The Yankees were Bill's old team a team that he tried for three years to win the American League pe for Colonel Jake Ruppert and Colonel T. L. Huston, but failed because of e many injuries that befell his best players during the pennant races. Although discarded by Ban Johnson and Col. Ruppert in favor of Miller Huggins in 1917, he closely followed the fortunes of his old team.

His Pitching Won for Tigers.

Hughey Jennings probably will feel the loss of Bill Donovan as much as anyone. Hughey and Bill were pole anyone. Hughey and Bill were pals their friendship beginning when Jennings assumed charge of the Detroit Tigers in 1906.
