PARNELL'S POSITION.

Parnell is making a desperate fight for the retention of the leadership of the Irish Party.

He has managed to divert the attention of the Irish, at any rate, to English Liberals, to the Catholic clergy, and to a large number of Home Rulers, both in Ireland and America.

IMPRESSON OF VICTORIA.

A Philadelphia Journalist Recently and Truly Writes His Two Days' Experience in Victoria.

In September last, Mr. A. M. Spangler, the oldest journalist in Philadelphia, a man of large intelligence and strong powers of observation, paid a visit to Victoria and other points on the Pacific coast.

Mr. Spangler accompanied his husband, and though both were well advanced in years, they were both in the prime of life.

Mr. Spangler describes his trip to the coast. His letter from Victoria is unusually interesting, and below is produced in its entirety.

It is an evidence of the impressions received by an intelligent American in a short visit to our beautiful bay city, and will be perused by our readers with pleasure and profit.

We had now entered the beautiful Straits of Juan de Fuca. I am sure I have never seen—and I am equally sure I have never heard—of a more beautiful bay, and water than that over which the steamer was now speeding its way.

It could only be compared to a mirror, in which was reflected the great cloud of black smoke that issued from the funnel of the steamer.

The impression of the bay was very unusual. The impression of the bay was very unusual. The impression of the bay was very unusual.

THE AMERICAN NAVY.

The annual report of the United States Secretary of the Navy shows that the American Government are determined to have a powerful fleet.

On March 4th, 1890, nine new vessels were in various stages of progress, two being practically out of the contractors' hands.

Three of these were of the Chicago class, the largest being the Chicago, which was 4,500 tons burthen.

Four more large war vessels will be completed this winter. When the present Government came into power, the construction of five others was more or less advanced.

The largest of these, the Maine, was launched the other day. She measures 6,648 tons, and is the largest of the eight ships that have been mentioned.

The designs of seven more war vessels were then nearly completed, but their actual construction had not been undertaken.

The largest of these is the New York, which is an armored cruiser, and will be ready for service in the summer of 1892.

All these vessels are well advanced in construction, and are well advanced in construction, and are well advanced in construction.

All these vessels are well advanced in construction, and are well advanced in construction, and are well advanced in construction.

All these vessels are well advanced in construction, and are well advanced in construction, and are well advanced in construction.
