KEEP THEM ON

It was with feelings of great pride that we listened to the words of the Hon. Mr. White, the Minister of Finance, calling on all the manufacturing and business houses to keep cool and collected and keep all their men of their payrolls even if it were a little sacrifice. That is a noble spirit and we trust that all who "have ears to hear will hear." Unfortunately one department of the government doesn't seem to be filled with the spirit they so much desire to see in other people, for we are informed that the general manager of the Intercolonial Railway has given orders that every man that can be done without will be discharged. If such an order as this goes into effect it will mean tremendous suffering and want in our province and must not be allowed. Outside of all political matters, we can only look on such an order as this, emanating as it does from a man, who, naturalized or not is at heart a German American, as a direct insult to the people of this province, and if persisted in, will not be lightly forgotten. By the way is the "two years" not nearly up? We understand Mr. F. P. Guelius was loaned from the C. P. R. for two years, and the time does seem very long.

THE DUTY OF THE HOUR

(Quebec Telegraph.)
There is no cause now for a war panic. Business promises to quickly revive. Avoid parsimony just as you should avoid extravagance; but purchase confidently actual necessities for food, clothing and the comforts of home and living. It is usually those who are extravagant, who in a season of panic rush to the other extreme of parsimony, and by excessive contraction of business precipitate the very disaster they seek to avoid. Canada's harvest unfortunately this year does not promise to be the best; but high prices will offset crop deficiency, and the two mother countries need every surplus natural product Canada has to sell.

CAN'T COMPLAIN

A public man cannot complain of a lack of public confidence when he finds it inconvenient to answer questions in a public enquiry because they would disclose private dealings between himself and those working on a public enterprise. Public men should be above suspicion.

Three Suspicious Characters Found at Bayfield

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 28.—The Post learns that a day or two ago, three strange and rather suspicious looking men were observed lurking around the shore in the neighborhood of Bayfield, a small fishing village about eight miles east of Antigonish. They were watched by the neighboring farmers and, as their movements were considered rather unsatisfactory, the police were communicated with and the unwelcome visitors were arrested and taken to jail. One of the men revealed that they were "hired" to look for hidden treasure in the woods and concealed others about their clothing were complete maps of the coastline between the Strait of Canso and the harbor of Antigonish. Hastily sketched plans of wharves in the district were discovered and complete data as to the depths of some waters and the probable depths of others were found. The men, it is understood, have been sent to Halifax to be dealt with.

A GIFT FROM BRAND-RAM-HENDERSON LIMITED

News comes from Ottawa, that on August 10th, Mr. J. R. Henderson telegraphed Sir Robert Borden as follows: "I have learned through my son that the Naval Service Department require forty-five thousand pounds White Lead have wired the Deputy Minister as follows—With further reference Brandram-Henderson, Limited, a quotation just called my attention thirty-thousand pound 'Pure White Lead' required by the Naval Service at Halifax fifteen thousand pounds Esquimaux have please in cancelling same and in offering material as a gift to the country and empire in this time of need."

(Sgd.) J. R. Henderson, To this Sir Robert Borden sent the following reply: "My colleagues and I most warmly appreciate your generous and patriotic offer and send our sincere thanks."

(Sgd.) E. L. Borden, The Hon. J. D. Hazen also expressed the thanks of the government as follows: Ottawa, August 11th, 1914. Dear Mr. Henderson—

Mr. Desbarats, Deputy Minister of the Naval Service has informed me of your generous and timely offer to supply free of charge all our requirements of white lead for the Ships of the Naval Service in the present emergency. As Minister of the Naval Service I desire to express to you on behalf of the Dominion Government their appreciation of your generous and patriotic offer. The government accepts this timely gift as being doubly valuable in these anxious days. I have the honour to remain, Sir, Your obedient servant, J. D. Hazen, Minister of the Naval Service.

BOY WANTED

This is the age of the boy. Mechanical invention has lessened the need for skill and experience. The tempering of steel blades once required the trainee eye that could follow every change of color in the glow of the coal flame, but now it can be supervised and better done by a boy watching a thermometer. The rifle ranges also show how the boy can crowd the man off his pedestal of superiority. With the old "V" sight to guide the slow, heavy bullet of high trajectory, the man of long experience was supreme. There was no wind-gauge that a boy could adjust quite as well as a man. The practiced eye and trained perception told how far off the target to windward the aim should be directed. The coarse sight that would stand all kinds of ill-usage required the familiarity of long practice. Its shadowy outlines had none of the modern definiteness that approaches the exactness of a surveyor's instruments. The heavy arm with its vindictive recoil demanded proportionate weight and muscular strength. All this is now changed, as the boys' scores show.

Invention runs almost unconsciously toward making things easier for a boy. Every substitution of a boy for a man or a woman for a man means profit for the inventor, and it is not surprising that the boy crowds the man at the rifle ranges. Farming has been described as the only man's job left, but the report of its many operations performed by a current from the Hydro-electric wire shows that the boy will soon be promoted from a mere gate-keeper and cow-driver. An arm seems approaching when even what Bernard Shaw calls the shifty cunning of experience will lose its value, and the boy will fill the wheel in his own hands.—Toronto Globe.

CLERGYMEN WERE SLAUGHTERED BY GERMANS

Many Civilians, Women and Children Among the Slain

London, Aug. 28.—A despatch to the Post from Tremeuse, a seaport in the Netherlands, describing the sack of Louvain, from what it claims to be an authoritative source, says many civilians were killed, including women, children and the clergy. Their nationality, it is declared, did not save one English and one American clergyman. All the public buildings were destroyed. The despatch adds that there will shortly start for the United States, a commission consisting of Messrs. Vandervelde, Hyman, Goblet and Bievelia, all ministers of state, whose mission it will be to make public German atrocities.

BRITISH WAR OFFICE'S EXTREME SECRECY

London Times Not Sure the Effect is Good

London, August 27, 5.01 a.m.—The military correspondent of the Times comments upon the extreme secrecy with which the British War Office is shrouding the movements of the British army. He contrasts this attitude with the French policy of issuing periodic summaries of the movements of their army and says that it is to be feared that the present policy is having an ill-effect upon recruiting. He adds that the nation does not yet realize the nature of the task to which it is committed.

Touching on the same subject, the Times editorially: "The British press has no desire to print information which might assist the enemy, if it risks a better news and more skillful censorship it does so in the public interest. Influences are at work which will not fully comprehend the psychology of the nation. Britons cannot co-operate with unrestricted enthusiasm in a war they cannot see and about which they are denied all knowledge, even to a supply of those harmless pictures which appeal so warmly to the people."

DESSERTERS CAUGHT

Last evening Officer Mann arrested four Germans at Athol, and bundling them into an auto brought them to town. They were four of the five Germans who deserted from their ship some time ago, and no trace of them was found till last night. They were handed over to the ships officers last night.

GOOD RESPONSE TO HOSPITAL FUND

Nearly $500 is Collected as Contribution to Canada's Hospital Ship

As a result of the efforts of the Women's Institute, it is with pleasure that we report the fact that nearly $500 was collected by them in a few days, as our contribution to the outfitting of Canada's Hospital Ship. The town was divided into districts and taken in charge by Miss Mary H. Graham, Miss Mabel Henson, Miss Mrs. Duncan, Miss Lillian Joudry, Miss Ida Cameron, Miss Margaret Gallagher, Mrs. E. F. Moore, Mrs. E. J. Macdonald, Mrs. J. J. Davies, Mrs. E. H. Hamilton, Mrs. A. A. Anderson, Mrs. S. S. Harrison and Mrs. I. D. Gault.

The summary of the collections is as follows:—
Miss Graham and Miss Henson $142.8
Miss Duncan and Miss Joudry 138.1
Miss Cameron and Miss Gallagher 45.4
Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Le-Gallagher 38.1
Mrs. Davies and Mrs. Hamilton 36.1
Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Gault 75.1
Graphic Office 13.1
Total $489.

Of this sum the amount of $479 was transmitted through the Bank of Montreal to the Central Fund, of amounts coming in after the amount had been forwarded. It is probable that any sums coming in later will be used by the Women's Institute to procure material for making comfort and "housewives" for the men at front, or may be used as a nucleus for the Patriotic Fund as was done by ladies of Richmondville.

The Women's Institute desire to thank the people of the town for their generous response to this collect and especially thank the ladies who took up this work and made successful of the collecting.
