THE LOTTERY SWINDLERS
THE RESPECTABLE CITIZENS OF THE
ROYAL CITY, REPUDIATING THE GUILPH ONE.

More About Brother Brunton From an Honest Freeman of London—Both of the Lottery Swindling Very Bad—Brunton Being a Fast Horse.

OSWEGO, June 27.—The article in Tuesday's edition of the World, bringing to light the Guelphe lottery swindle, is creating quite an excitement among the citizens, and especially those whose names appeared in the World as being connected with the affair. A number of the promoters of the scheme were standing at the door of the Globe this morning, earnestly discussing the merits of the article, and wondering how the World discovered the scheme so soon. Some of the gentlemen interested seemed to take it in good part, but others of a more sensitive nature go to bursts of indignation at their names being used in connection with a lottery swindle. Mr. Meyers in particular seemed to feel the shame in the flesh the most, as he was thundering out his anathemas against the World and its proprietors and denouncing it as a rag, and that if they had the editor there that they would mob him. At the same time he was emphatically denying all knowledge of the affair further than that his name was placed on the committee for the purpose of organizing a joint stock company to erect an opera house in Guelphe, but it was well known both to him and to the rest of the parties concerned that they were to advertise the scheme in the Guelphe Mercury, and that the Mercury received six cents for each copy, and that Mr. Meyers did not care to give up the money. Threats of libel suits against the World are hinted, but most of the parties implicated would much rather have the affair smothered up than to carry it to a trial of justice. The citizens generally are quite in sympathy with the World in the matter, and give it credit for its cleverness in unearthing the swindle, as it is supposed that it was a plot on the part of the originators to make a big haul and it is believed to be a piece of roguesy from first to last. Nothing has hurt the lottery swindle or its promoters more than Chadwick's attack on the World in the Herald of Wednesday night. Chadwick's record as a business man, as well as his character as a man, is well known to all who are interested in the matter, and when it merely took the form of vulgar and badly written abuse respectable people shudder at the World in its attack on the swindlers. (Christopher Robinson's name was most dishonestly dragged into the affair as a witness against the World's attack on the swindle, and he merely answered certain questions about dividing the property that made up the prize.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE WORLD.
Sir: I see in your issue of yesterday the name of A. G. H. Skinner as reference on the Guelphe lottery swindle. Would you kindly contradict the same so far as my name is concerned, as I never lent my name for any such purpose and to place much confidence in the article, and when it merely took the form of vulgar and badly written abuse respectable people shudder at the World in its attack on the swindlers. (Christopher Robinson's name was most dishonestly dragged into the affair as a witness against the World's attack on the swindle, and he merely answered certain questions about dividing the property that made up the prize.

WHAT THE PEOPLE OF THE ROYAL CITY SAY ABOUT IT.
"We've made a bad mess of it, Marjy—Ned O'Connor."
"Yes, after all, I'd sooner sell whiskey—Johnny Murphy."
"I told you Chadwick's name would kill the scheme—King of Coffeytown."
"Me too—the mayor of the Federal."
"The wicked world. And me a gold kirk porter—Registrar Higginbotham."
"It was hot to the salt water, or had have been a reference—Barnes Wagon."
"Don't work with that gang—Henry Hatch."
"In plain English, a fraud—A. F. B. Skinner."
"With you there Fred—Brother George."
"I'm going to charge—J. McElderry."
"And your papa-in-law a trustee too—the other McElderry."
"Why am I left out—Joe Hillman."
"None of it for me—Frank Gahan."
"I am ashamed of you all—Father Peck."
"I shall never be able to pay my father-in-law—The Water-Gate."
"I hope Howell won't notice it—Collector of Customs Hillman."
"I got up hardy up to the scheme, 'epose I was going to get bit myself—Washing on Harold O'Connell."
"Were that the Patent Barrel Co.—Several Bitten O'Connell."
"I put in my name but they don't handle my money—The Waterworks Secretary."
"That's as good as Federal stock, Tom—Grand Frank Tinkles."
"Don't be a fool—Ted's Pa."
"In Scotland they'd be in the cage—Sooty Armstrong."
"I'd like to see 'em all if I dared—C. J. Attorney."
"They didn't give me in, abins they tried uncle hard—P. McSkinner."
"A dirt-sold transaction—Archdeacon John."
"What will be thought about it, a Knockhead—Lord Cheddington."
"But it's the same old story—Chorus of Citizens."

REPUDIATING THE LONDON LOTTERY.
TO THE EDITOR OF THE WORLD.
Sir: In a recent issue you gave publication to the fact that rather staid public here in general, and the fraternity of which I am a member in particular. I may say that, humiliating as it is, you deserve the thanks of every Freeman in the county for daring to expose what appears to be a contemptible and a fraudulent fraud, as the principal actor, and what has been called in his evidence "the beneficiary," makes a lame attempt in the London Standard to evade the public opinion, and to denounce both by the public and by the committee, Mr. W. Brunton, who has been awarded the money he has paid for the lottery tickets to be scattered over the other man, and to be devoted to charity in the shape of donations to charitable institutions without his permission being asked for. It is not a matter of public interest, but it is a matter of public character of the family. If W. Brunton had been a man of honor, he would have been content to let the money be scattered over the other man, and to be devoted to charity in the shape of donations to charitable institutions without his permission being asked for. ANOTHER COLLAPSE AT CHICAGO.
A General Trouble in Provisions and Produce—Two Failures Reported.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The markets on Chicago suffered another bad break this morning. The forenoon session was marked by uneasiness and at times great excitement. The depression extended to provisions and grain, but was especially felt in pork and wheat. Pork has shown a heavy decline for the past three days, this morning took another tumble of 42 1/2 to 50c. Lard declined 7 1/2 to 17 1/2. Wheat, which has displayed weakness in the past week, dropped 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 a bushel. These declines revealed all the uneasiness of the past two weeks and a noon hour panic followed. One cause assigned for the weakness is the bad showing made by the firms McGeech, Everingham & Co. and Nichols & Co.

UNION STATES NEWS.

The saloon keepers' tax was paid in Cincinnati yesterday. It amounted to a hundred and four thousand eight hundred dollars. New York brokers and bankers will only take the trade fall at 90 cents, Newark, N. J., won't take it at all, and Newburg declines to be paid in it. The printers on all the Omaha papers struck last evening for an advance in the price of composition from 30 to 35 cents per line. The papers will be published in reduced proportions to-day.

The St. Louis fair association is not prepared to take a revum from the liquor traffic. They own booths and these they rent out for a single week to the highest bidder for cash in advance. This year they have rented for $21,248 in the aggregate. Dr. J. Ray DeBourgh, a Quebec, has been appointed a delegate to the Medical Psychological association at Paris and the British medical psychological association of Great Britain by the medical superintendents of insane hospitals now in session at Newport, B. I.

A DIVIDED PARTY.
The Late Station Master at Cornwall Dies From His Injuries.
MONTREAL, June 28.—Richard Wagner, late station master of the Grand Trunk at Cornwall, who was ejected from the station, died in the hospital here to-day from the effects of his wounds. He was brought here by an operation performed that would likely have saved his life, and he was taken to the hospital in presence of two others on Tuesday last. Although apparently improving yesterday, the patient gave up the struggle this morning. The tramp has made his escape, and although active search has been made for him the results of his hideouts can be obtained by his whereabouts.
