

of the Trilateral Commission and serves on the boards and advisory councils of many organizations, including the Asia Society, the Society for International Development, the Advisory Council to the Japanese Prime Minister on Women's Affairs, and the Mitsubishi Bank Foundation.

IDRC is a corporation created by the Parliament of Canada in 1970 to stimulate and support research designed to adapt science and technology to the needs of developing countries. By statute, the Centre is independent of the government of Canada but is answerable to Parliament. Its policies are determined by its international Board of Governors.