Palace Gate, though a pet gate for strangers, is doomed, we fear, as well as Hope Gate. * It is to be hoped that St. John's Gate will be spared.

"In the course of the demolition of the city gates it was to have been expected that corner stones or inscriptions of historical value would have turned up somewhere, but the search has so far heen productive of little result. At Hope Gate this spring, (1874) a stone with a plate and Latin inscription was found, supposed to contain a deposit of coins, &c. This was donated by the contractors to J. M. Le Moine, Esquire, who had it placed in the City Hall for inspection by the authorities, previous to its removal to his museam at Spencer Grange. To-day the contractor Mr. Piton's men in breaking up the heavy old timber doors of Palace Gate, found the following inscription between the inner planks.

"These Gates were made in 1831 by William McKeawn Robert Milburn William

"Those Gates were made in 1831 by William McKeewn, Robert Milburn, William Presston; W. Poriston, master carpenter; Wm. Mountain, Superintendent: This thing (the inscription?) by Wm. McKeewn, of the County Armagh, Ireland."--
