

Bullion's Series of Grammars.

From the Report of the Galway Academy to the Regents of the University, December, 1842.

GALWAY ACADEMY.—During the past year no change was made in the text books, except by the introduction of Bullion's English and Latin Grammars, his Greek Grammar having been adopted years before. We have no hesitation in coinciding with the opinion so generally expressed, that these grammars, as a whole, are decidedly the best in use, either in England or America.

The Pictorial Spelling Book

Has been prepared with great care. The engravings are all new, embracing a great variety of subjects, and made expressly for this work. It is printed and bound in a neat and substantial manner; no expense having been spared to render it well deserving the attention and patronage of those to whom is entrusted the instruction of children. Relying on its merits for success, it is submitted to the public, with the hope that it will receive a thorough and impartial examination; and with a belief that it will have a preference over the spelling books in common use.

From Rev. R. P. Lamb, to the editors of the Pen Yan Democrat.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—Having formerly been engaged in the instruction of the young, and having some practical knowledge of the merits of various elementary works, I would, by your permission, through the medium of your paper, express my decided preference for those prepared by Rensselaer Bentley. The Pictorial Primer, and Pictorial Spelling Book, to those who are acquainted with them, need no other recommendation than their own worth. If there be another elementary work of the class fairly entitled to competition with these, I have not learned the fact. They are well adapted to engage the attention of children, and to secure, with a little care, a rapid progress. Many families are so located that the small children cannot attend the public schools. The Pictorial Primer and Spelling Book should be placed in the hands of such children, and with ordinary intellects, they will hardly fail of soon learning to read with acility.

From the Youth's Companion.

This is certainly the most attractive Spelling Book among the dozens which have been published. Its author seems to have had them all before him, and with a skillful hand, to have combined their chief excellencies, adding others of his own.
