THE PROPOSED AVENUE-ROAD EXTENSION.

It seems to us the Board of Control is taking a very narrow view of the proposed extension of the Avenue-road trolley line to Upper Canada College and Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The benefit the people of Toronto will enjoy in getting to the cemetery for a single fare will far more than counterbalance the advantage that will accrue to the people who live just outside the city limits. The institution that will be principally benefited is of course Upper Canada College, which surely has some claim to a favorable consideration of this question by the council. The college is a Government institution. Its location in Toronto has been of no little advantage to this city. Every other city in the Province would be glad to get the college. The fact that it is located here and cannot be removed is no reason why we should treat it as an undesirable acquisition to the city. It was of course a great mistake in the first place to locate the college in a suburb and especially in one that is isolated and without communication of any kind. But its location in an out-of-the-way district is a fact, and we have to make the best of conditions as we find them. It is certainly in the interests of Toronto that the college should flourish. Its success means financial advantage to Toronto merchants. Why then should we discourage and throw cold water on this institution? The extension of the Avenue-road line to the college will not cost the city a cent. The city is making a mistake in pursuing a dog-in-the-manger policy.

HOW A HIGH DUTY DEVELOPED AN INDUSTRY.

One of the great differences between protectionists and free traders is that the former are not bound down by any cast iron rule. They are guided by circumstances. Protectionists do not contend that the duty on every article should be high under all circumstances. They believe that until an industry is so thoroughly established that it does not need to fear foreign competition the tariff should be very high, but when an industry is so well developed that it can compete with the whole world it is quite in accord with protectionist principles to lower the duty if any compensating tariff advantage can be obtained from foreign countries.

American bicycle manufacturers have been protected by a duty of 45 per cent. According to free trade theories this ought to have had the effect of making bicycles very costly in the United States, but it had the opposite effect. It gave the Americans complete control of their own market and the price was quickly reduced. Now as a result of such high protection, the American bicycle industry has been so developed and prices have been so reduced that the American manufacturers feel able to compete with the whole world, and some of them are in favor of greatly reducing the tariff in the hope of getting reciprocal concessions from all the countries of Europe. France, Italy, Austria, Russia, Sweden and Norway have extremely high tariffs on bicycles, and in a number of other foreign countries the bicycle manufacturers are urging their Governments to increase the duty because the American wheels are getting control of their markets.

The American bicycle manufacturers have now no reason to fear the European manufacturers, and if by lowering the American duty they can get reciprocal concessions they may be able to get control of all the markets of Europe. The New York Commercial states that a number of bicycle manufacturers are getting up a petition to Congress, which they will ask every important bicycle manufacturer in the United States to sign, asking that the American tariff on bicycles be reduced to about ten cents per pound. It may be taken for granted that the Congress which gave the United States the Dingley tariff will take good care not to allow any foreign country to benefit by any reduction that may be made in the tariff unless a reciprocal concession is made.

The present duty of 45 per cent. yields practically no revenue to the United States Government, because it prevents the importation of bicycles. With a reduced tariff bicycles would be imported, but it is not likely that a large revenue would ever be derived from this source, for if the importations of bicycles became large enough to affect the trade of the home manufacturers they would probably ask for the restoration of a high tariff.

THE FOUNDATION OF PAVEMENTS.

The citizens of Toronto will never be able to form a rational judgment regarding the respective merits of wood, brick, asphalt and stone pavements until they learn that no pavement is worth anything at all unless it has a good foundation. It is an utter waste of money to plant wood, bricks or stone in shifting sand. The proper way to make a foundation is to put down, first a layer of broken stones packed solidly and cover this smoothly with cement. This makes a firm and even foundation for whatever kind of pavement may be desired. Property owners should not be allowed to decide what kind of foundation they will have for their pavements. Every street should have a good foundation, and if this is assured it will not make so much difference what materials property owners may choose for the surface of the pavement.

The City of Montreal has not as many paved streets as Toronto—it depends more upon macadam. But in paving streets with wood, stone or asphalt, care is taken to lay a good solid foundation of broken stones covered with cement. Consequently there is all the difference in the world betweeen a wooden pavement in Montreal and a wooden pavement in Toronto.

BRITAIN'S DEPENDENCE ON THE UNITED STATES.

The London Statist in an article commenting on the better feeling that has sprung up between Great Britain and the United States says: "Just imagine in what a position we should have been here at home if for any reason we had been unable to buy from the United States during the last ten years. Suppose, to take an extreme case, continental Europe had combined against the United States and blockaded all its ports, so that we could get neither food nor raw material, we should almost inevitably have been brought to the very brink of famine."

Great Britain's dependence upon the United States is real enough, but it is not a matter of necessity, as The Statist seems to think. If Great Britain had adopted a policy of Imperial preferential trade ten years ago, Canada and Australia would now be able to supply all the food Great Britain gets from the United States. The United States is becoming every year more independent of Great Britain. Why should not Great Britain seek to become more independent of the United States? The Statist admits that no matter how friendly the relations may be the Americans can never be expected to help the British to fight for the protection of India, South Africa or other outlying possessions. Why then should the British not encourage the development in Canada and Australia of two powerful nations that would gladly and enthusiastically help to protect any part of the Empire from invasion by contributing money, ships and men as they could well afford to do if their great natural wealth were developed as it would be by Imperial preferential trade.

ANOTHER POWDER MILL BLOWN.

Two Men Who Are Thought to Have Done the Work Captured.

Cincinnati, O., June 20.—The finishing department of the King Powder Company, located at King's Mills, was destroyed last night, evidently having been fired by two men. One of them was badly burned and was captured. People coming to the fire met a stranger going toward South Lebanon. The prisoner is apparently a foreigner, but is so badly injured that he can scarcely talk. The monetary loss is small. This company has a contract to supply the Government and this is thought to be the reason the destruction of the plant was attempted.

Wedded in June.

The marriage was celebrated last evening at the house of the bride's mother, Wellington-place, of Mr. Norman Redgrave Doward to Miss Mabel Eva Webb. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Joseph Odery of Broadway Tabernacle, there being present the relatives of the contracting parties and the friends of guests. The bridesmaid was Miss Katie Orr, the groomsman being Mr. W. J. Sanderson. After the reception at the house Mr. and Mrs. Doward left on a trip through the Thousand Islands and down the St. Lawrence.

Large Flour Mill Burned.

Oxbow, N.W.T., June 20.—The Oxbow Milling Company's flour mill was burned to the ground at 12 o'clock last night. There was no insurance. The fire is thought to be the work of an incendiary, no fire having been in the mill for 30 hours.

An application was filed yesterday for a new trial in the grain case, the decision in which by Judge Morson aroused much discussion in mercantile circles.

Every woman wears a crown who is the mother of a healthy baby. The mother of a puny, sickly, peevish baby bears a cross. It rests with every woman to decide for herself which kind of a mother she will be.

The woman who takes the right care of herself during the months preceding maternity may rest content in the assurance that her baby will be a strong, healthy, happy one. The woman who suffers from disorders of the distinctly feminine organism during this critical period, and fails to resort to the right remedy, is pretty sure to have a puny, peevish, sickly baby, born into the world with the seeds of weakness and disease already implanted in its little body. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all medicines for prospective mothers. It imparts health, strength, vigor, and elasticity to the delicate and important organs that bear the brunt of motherhood. It prepares a woman for the time of trial and danger. It strengthens and invigorates, and insures the perfect well-being and absolute health of both mother and child. It does away with the squeamishness of the interesting period. It makes sure an ample supply of nourishment for the little new-comer. It transforms weak, sickly, nervous and despondent invalids into healthy, happy wives and mothers. Thousands of homes to which babies once came to stay but for a brief day and then die, now bless this wonderful medicine for the gift of happy, healthful babies.

The dealer who tries to persuade you to take some other medicine, than that you ask for insults your intelligence.

"The best doctors in Kansas City told me that unless I went to the hospital and had an operation performed I could not live," writes Miss Brookie Galloway, of Wilder, Johnson Co., Kans. "I had ulceration and weakness, and each month I would get down in bed and suffer severely for twenty-four hours. Four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' cured me."

ENJOYED BRIEF LIBERTY.

Frank Osier Discharged From Detroit House of Correction and Rearrested for Burglary.

Detroit, Mich., June 20.—Frank Osier was arrested in Port Huron last winter for smuggling and Uncle Sam fined him $250, besides six months in the Detroit House of Correction. Osier's time was up to-day, and as he swore he couldn't pay his fine he was let go. Osier walked out of the court room a free man, but was immediately arrested on complaint of a Canadian officer, Detective Murray, charged with breaking into a store at Sarnia and stealing the goods that he smuggled. He refused to go without being extradited and was jailed to await examination.
