GEN. BULLER'S FORCES HAVE BEEN FIGHTING FOR TWO DAYS

Sir Charles Warren With 12,000 Men, 30 Guns and Large Force of Cavalry is Working Around the Enemy's Right Flank.

Sir Redvers is Holding the North Bank of the Tugela With 8000 Men, 18 Guns and Cavalry—Gen. Clery Fights His Way Up for Three Miles—Gen. Warren Had Hard Up-hill Fighting on Sunday, but General Buller Thinks They Are Making Substantial Headway—Over 300 British Wounded—War Office Bulletins Tell the Story.

Official bulletins issued by the War Office show that the great series of battles upon which the duration of the Transvaal war will depend are now being fought by Gen. Buller's forces in their effort to relieve the beleaguered garrison at Ladysmith. The first bulletin giving definite information as to the position of affairs in Natal was issued by the War Office on Saturday evening. This despatch, signed by Gen. Buller, dated Spearman's Camp, Saturday evening, stated that Gen. Clery with a part of Gen. Warren's force had been in action from 6 a.m. till 7 p.m., that by a judicious use of his artillery Gen. Clery had fought his way up, capturing ridge after ridge, for about three miles. The troops were then bivouacking on the ground gained, but the main Boer position was still in front of the British. The casualties were not heavy.

The next despatch from Gen. Buller is dated from Spearman's Camp at 9 p.m. on Sunday. Gen. Warren had been engaged all day, chiefly on his left, which he had swung forward for a couple of miles. The ground was very difficult, being up hill. Gen. Buller adds: "But I think we are making substantial progress."

The War Office also issued a bulletin relating to the fighting. This was from Spearman's Camp, Sunday, at 6.55 a.m., which stated that in order to relieve the pressure on Gen. Warren and to ascertain the strength of the enemy in the position in front of Potgieter's Drift, Gen. Lytton had made a reconnaissance in force on Saturday. This kept the enemy in their trenches in full strength all day.

Another War Office despatch gives a list of officers wounded in action near Ventor's Spruit on Saturday. Eleven officers and 276 non-commissioned officers and men were wounded. Capt. C. A. Hensley of the 2nd Dublin Fusiliers is since dead.

Lord Roberts has just issued an order to the effect that British commanders of columns are to treat the non-commissioned officers properly in all matters affecting their own interests or the interests of the troops. Supplies must be paid for on delivery, and receipts for the amounts taken. Soldiers are not allowed to enter private houses or to molest the inhabitants on any pretext whatever. There must be no petty looting.

The American hospital ship Maine arrived at Cape Town on Saturday. The farmers of Denmark have shown their loyalty to Great Britain by sending to the Princess of Wales 12,000 boxes of choice butter for the British soldiers in South Africa.

The second New Zealand contingent sailed from Wellington for South Africa on Saturday. The Premier, in a speech to the troops before embarking, said that, if necessary, every man capable of bearing arms would volunteer.

Capt. Bates Denison and 155 prisoners of the Kuruman garrison have arrived at Pretoria. In the fight before the garrison surrendered the Boers lost 6 killed and 18 wounded.

News from Mafeking, dated Jan. 10, states that from all accounts the siege of the place was to be raised. The British have killed many of the besiegers since New Year's Day.

Lord Roberts reports that on Friday Gen. French made a demonstration with cavalry and two guns toward Hebron, but otherwise the situation in his district is unchanged.

The War Office has published a third supplementary list of the British casualties in the attack upon Ladysmith on Jan. 6. It shows that 28 non-commissioned officers and men were killed and five dangerously wounded. This brings the total list of British casualties in that engagement to 488.

Carefully compiled figures from Boer sources show that the Boer losses to date are approximately 6,425 men, including 2,000 casualties during the siege of Ladysmith. The second contingent of London volunteers, numbering 300, left London yesterday and embarked from Southampton for Cape Town. London, Jan. 22 (4.30 a.m.)—The justifiable severity of the censorship at the present moment prevents the special correspondents from giving additional information to supplement Gen. Buller's latest despatch. The success of the movement depends almost entirely upon how far he proves able to outmanoeuvre the Boers, whose available forces are doubtless larger than his own. The chief difficulty lies in the ability of the Boers to transport men, stores and ammunition quickly, and to trench new positions. Secrecy regarding Gen. Buller's progress, therefore, is essential.

WAR OFFICE BULLETINS.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The War Office shortly after midnight posted the following despatch from Gen. Buller, dated Spearman's Camp, Jan. 20, evening: "Gen. Clery, with a part of Gen. Warren's force, has been in action from 6 a.m. till 7 p.m. to-day. By a judicious use of his artillery he has fought his way up, capturing ridge after ridge, for about three miles.

"The troops are now bivouacking on the ground he has gained, but the main position is still in front of them. "The casualties were not heavy. About one hundred wounded had been brought in by 6.30 p.m. The number of killed has not yet been ascertained."

GENERAL BULLER SAYS "I THINK."

London, Jan. 21.—General Buller cables as follows to the War Office: "Spearman's Camp, Jan. 21.—(9 p.m.)—Gen. Warren has been engaged all day chiefly on his left, which he has swung forward about a couple of miles. The ground is very difficult, and, as the fighting is all the time uphill, it is difficult to say how much we have gained, but I think we are making substantial progress."

ENEMY ENTRENCHED ALL DAY.

London, Jan. 21.—The War Office has received the following from General Buller: "Spearman's Camp, Jan. 21.—(6.55 a.m.)—In order to relieve the pressure on Gen. Warren and to ascertain the strength of the enemy in the position in front of Potgieter's Drift, Gen. Lytton made a reconnaissance in force yesterday. This kept the enemy in their trenches in full strength all day. "Our casualties—Third Battalion King's Royal Rifles, two killed, twelve wounded and two missing."

GENERAL BULLER'S CASUALTIES.

The War Office has posted this despatch from General Buller, dated Jan. 21, 10 a.m.: "The following were wounded in action near Ventor's Spruit yesterday: "Officers—Staff Col. B. Hamilton and Major C. McGregor. "Second Lancashire Fusiliers—Capt. R. S. Blunt and Second Lieuts. M. G. Crofton and E. J. M. Barrett. "First Border Rifles—Capt. C. D. Vaughan and Second Lieut. Murrie. "First York and Lancshires—Second Lieut. A. H. Keirrey. "Second Dublin Fusiliers—Capt. C. A. Hensley (since dead), and Major F. English. "Second Gordons—Second Lieut. P. D. Stewart. "And 279 non-commissioned officers and men."

date are approximately 6,425 men, including 2,000 casualties during the siege of Ladysmith. The second contingent of London volunteers, numbering 300, left London yesterday and embarked from Southampton for Cape Town. London, Jan. 22 (4.30 a.m.)—The justifiable severity of the censorship at the present moment prevents the special correspondents from giving additional information to supplement Gen. ## SERIOUS EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICAN TERRITORY

Seven People Killed Outright and Sixty Were Injured at Colima, Mex.—State Buildings at Guadalajara Damaged.

Colima, Mexico, Jan. 21.—An earthquake shock began here at a quarter before midnight Friday and assumed serious proportions at Tequilama, many houses being injured, and some of light construction wrecked. There was great consternation, and people rushed into the streets, some barely escaping with their lives. Seven people were killed outright, and 60 injured. It was reported that the volcano at Atlixcatlan, a few miles from Colima, had burst into eruption, but now it appears that the phenomenon was confined to subterranean manifestations.

Travelled Under the Pacific.
Local scientific men believe that the earthquake traveled from under the Pacific Ocean, and that when news reaches here from the coast there will be interesting details. The Governor of this state has appointed a commission to inspect churches and public edifices, while owners of houses injured in the earthquake will be compelled to put them in a condition of security.

Massive Structures Injured.
The Church of the Three Kings at Atlixcatlan, in the suburbs, was cracked, and the arches and staircase of the State Palace and the porticoes of the University and the Degollado Theatre, the latter one of the most massive structures here. The churches of San Francisco and San Jose were damaged. The former is one of the handsomest edifices on the continent, and is locally known as the Golden Cup, from the magnificence of its interior.

Slight at Vera Cruz.
Vera Cruz, Mexico, Jan. 21.—The earthquake traveled across the country, reaching here last after midnight Saturday morning. The shock was comparatively light. The Government has closed Sagrara Church, fearing the dome will fall in the earthquake. The dome is one of the most complete of the kind ever attempted. With lines operating in five cities, all close together, the United Fruit Company officials were unable to get a man to touch a Troy car. Three hundred and sixty-five men went out to the strike as the result of the action of Capt. Edgar S. Passett in refusing to consider an application from the Troy employees for 20 cents per hour and 10 hours to constitute a day's work.

The Fur-Newness at Dineens.
The fur shop, or the department store handling fur garments "on the sly," which advertise "fur clearing sales," or "furs at reduced prices" now, must have experienced a surprisingly slow trade earlier in the season. Dineens' fur stock this winter—the largest ever shown in Canada—has been replenished three times, and Dineens' fur offers have been confined exclusively to the qualities that would fully meet the most critical inspection of careful buyers, whether the article was a plain coat, or a costly and elaborate one.

RELIGIOUS WAR THREATENED

Dean Carmichael is Aroused Over a Catholic Mission in St. Patrick's.

Other Protestant Clergy Also Aroused.

Archbishop Bruchest has sanctioned the movement and retaliation is imminent.

Montreal, Jan. 21.—(Special.)—"If the archbishop wants war, then we will have war, and no one can tell where and when it will end."

The above statement was made last evening by Dean Carmichael, while referring to the mission for Protestants that is about terminating in St. Patrick's Church.

There can be no doubt of the fact that the decision of the church authorities to carry on such a mission has created a strong retaliatory feeling amongst the Protestant clergy, and that a mission for Catholics has been decided upon in most of the English and French Protestant churches.

Mar. Bruchest Interviewed.
The World correspondent having interviewed the Archbishop of Montreal on the subject of the mission, His Grace replied that he had not been consulted in the matter, but, since the plan of campaign had been mapped out, Monsignor said he would not interfere, and in fact he took part at the first meeting.

His Grace was then asked if such a mission would not leave the door open to different Protestant denominations to do as he liked, and also if, as head of the Roman Catholic Church, he would not forbid the faithful attending non-Catholic churches.

His Grace could not see a parallel case, but it is now evident that there is fun ahead. Dean Carmichael says he is delighted that Mr. Bruchest attended the mission, thus giving it official sanction, and that it is now the turn of the Protestants.

What the Result Will Be.
The result of all this will be that Roman Catholics will go to hear what the Protestant preachers have to say; the archbishop will hasten to issue a mandament forbidding them, and that will put an end to all further attempts of this kind.
