Rev. Dr. Sage read an interesting paper on "The Religious Teaching of H. G. Wells." He stated that it is only since the outbreak of war that this author has introduced religion into his writings. His works are read by many but understood by few, being misintert understood by few, being misinter-eted by Christians. His God was an preted by Christians. His God was an aggregate of humanity, and not a personal God. Wells asserts that wrongdoing exists because God cannot prevent it. His works were no positive gain to religion, and left readers in a fog regarding theology. They showed a tolerance of many doctrines, approaching on hereay Wells believes in a tolerance of many doctrines ap-proaching on heresy. Wells believes in sin—not as wickedness—but as a weak-ness requiring strength, and according to Dr. Sage contradicts himself on res matters in his teaching. Ilgious matters in his teaching.

The general opinion of the meeting was that the speaker had been too good to Mr. Wells, in his remarks.

At the conclusion of the meeting occasion was taken to congratulate Very Rev. Dean Davis, who is today cele-

is it that he is called to report now? He is not in this call on account of his age.

A.—It may be possible that he gave his age incorrectly when filling out his application for exemption, or it may be due to an error. Better write to the deputy registrar, Royal Bank Building, London, Ont. regarding the matter. In the meantime he should not fail to report on the day ordered.

IMPROVING STREET .- The city improving Thompson avenue, between the London and Port Stanley tracks and the London and Port Stanley tracks and Adelaide street. The roadbed at this point has been made narrow by the action of the spring freshets. Large tiles are being placed in the ditch and covered over with earth in order that the road may be widened. This improvement has been necessary for some time the residents assert. The work will be completed shortly.

Donate to Rellef Fund of Soldiers' Aid Commission

The patriotic organizations of Western Ontario are falling in line and are contributing to the "relief fund" of the local branch of the Soldiers' Aid Com mission. Today, Ed. Lance, secretary of the London branch, received a donation of $25 from the Ilderton Red Cross Circle. Last week the Florence Patriotic League sent a check for $10.

This relief fund is used for the up-
