RUSSELL'S DEFENCE

Says He Was Deceived—Also Alleges Political Persecution.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—William Russell, accused of obtaining money at Toronto under false pretences, and whom the Ontario Government is seeking to extradite, began his defence this morning in Commissioner Fred. Walthour's court.

Russell declares that all his statements, in prospectus and newspaper, were justified by the hopeful outlook of the properties. He will show that he placed his own money in large amounts in the enterprises and that he has made no profit, having put all money received from stock into the further exploitation of the mines and the business.

The defendant says that Ontario politics is responsible for his ruin. In that the Liberal party, by enlarging upon a minor technical omission of his, the failure to file a prospectus in accordance with corporations act, made it an entering wedge to show alleged loose administration of mining law and to accomplish, designedly or not, his ruin.

Russell's father, a man evidently far past three score and ten, is continually in the court room.

STAR WITNESS MISSING

THREE ONLY FOR DEFENCE

Turner Murder Trial Will Conclude
This Afternoon With Addresses by Counsel.

Mrs. Wagner, the mysterious woman to whom Mrs. Maud Turner says she gave the Author's infant, with whose murder she is charged, will not be produced when Mrs. Turner's defence is presented at the criminal courts in the city hall to-day. The production of this woman would be the strongest card that the defence could possibly play short of producing the living child, but T. C. Robbette, K.C., of course for Mrs. Turner, says that the efforts have been made to locate her she cannot be found.

This restricts the defence to two, and possibly three, witnesses. Mrs. Turner is determined to take the case in her own hands when she will tell the story of giving the child to this Mrs. Wagner an hour after she got it from the mother at the hospital on the day of its birth, Saturday, September 11. Dr. Dunlop, who lived with her as her husband at the Wood street house where it is alleged that the murder was committed, will be called to swear that he saw no infant in their room other than the one found by the police when the arrest was made, and which is now in the Orphan's Home. Another witness may also be called who was in the house between the time the child was taken from the hospital and the Tuesday night when it is alleged the murder was committed. This will close the defence, according to Mr. Henderson, who is conducting the case for Mrs. Turner.

Will Finish To-day.
The case will likely be finished to-day. All evidence will be put in during the morning session of the court, leaving the afternoon for address of counsel and Judge Magee's charge to the jury.

The stop-order was put on general entry to the court room yesterday as soon as the seats were filled and a considerable crowd hovered about the court doors all day. To-day it is expected that a still larger number will seek entry in an effort to hear Mr. Blackstock address the jury, which, if he comes up to the eloquence of his opening outline of the case, will be a masterly deliverance.

At the resumption of the trial yesterday Andrew Goldie was the first witness called. It was at his house that the prisoner boarded for some time, and his account of the events that have been heard while he and his wife were in Mrs. Turner's room on the evening of Sept. 14, was very similar to that of his wife. Someone had said the noise sounded like cats, but he had said, "That's to cats."

Mrs. Annie Walker, stewardess on the ship, testified to meeting Mrs. Turner the day she went across the lake, and she described the box which she was carrying and the time in which she said she had her lunch.

Mrs. Jennie Swale of 809 Pice-avenue, Niagara Falls, with whom Mrs. Turner boarded at different occasions under the name of Gindlin, rehearsed her conversation with Mrs. Turner on the night she was arrested, and while she said she belonged to a woman in Toronto, who was ill in a hospital, she later told witness of the receipt of the box containing the death of the baby's mother, and which necessitated the prisoner's return to Toronto. The crown witness then referred to the morning of Sept. 15, when Mrs. Turner returned to Mrs. Swale's house with a parcel. Mrs. Turner, she said, went up stairs, leaving the parcel on the landing. Witness lifted the package and found it pretty heavy, and she further said that the prisoner then going away had told her the parcel was for a friend at Lewiston, and that she pursued leaving it there whether the people in the house knew or not.

"Did she tell you the parcel was lunch?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"No, it was too heavy for that," replied Mrs. Swale.

On the morning of Sept. 16, was sworn to by Edwin O. Parish, conductor on the New York Central Railway, and was positive in his identification of the prisoner when cross-examined by Mr. Henderson.

Frank C. Fleming, a trackman, testified to seeing a box flying thru the air as the train was passing a certain spot, and to afterwards finding it.

He said he had seen it to see what was in the box and on opening it saw a baby's head.

Evidence of Strangling. Dr. Scott told the jury of the discovery of the body and of afterwards making an examination of it. He described to Mr. Blackstock the marks on the child's body, which showed evidence of the infant having been strangled.

In cross-examination Mr. Henderson wanted to know if the marks on the baby's throat could not have been caused after death, and the witness said that the child's body was so fresh that pressure exerted immediately after death.

Dr. J. A. Bishop of Niagara Falls, who performed the postmortem, said that the cause of death was asphyxiation, caused by strangulation from a cord around the neck.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR EXPORT RECORD. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 20.—Every shipping record in the milling history of Minneapolis was broken to-day when the railroads reported a carload containing 110,590 barrels of flour.

Banquet for Men. The Baptist Laymen's Missionary Movement will give a "Men's Banquet" at Massey Hall on Wednesday, Oct. 27. The purpose of this event is to review the progress of the laymen's movement since the first of the year, and to suggest such measures as may be essential for the highest success of the work during the coming year. The banquet will be held at 12.30 to 3 o'clock, will be in charge of the following committee: S. J. Moore, J. N. Shennott, Jas. Byrne, W. C. Senko, Wm. C. J. J. Brine, and C. J. Bodley. This event will be, doubtless, one of the largest gatherings of the kind, as over 500 invitations have already been accepted.

DRAYTON BACKS DEWART FOR POST AS COUNSEL

Crown Attorney Says He Never Had Desire to Secure the Office.

If there be any race for the position of corporation counsel, it is certainly not between County Crown Attorney H. L. Drayton and H. H. Dewart, K.C., the only two men as yet mentioned as possible appointees by the city.

When it was announced yesterday that there was to be a straight party fight for the job, The World saw Mr. Drayton as to his position in the matter. He said:

"If there is any race, then I am not one of the contestants, but I do not believe that there is any such thing as a straight party fight for the job. The World saw Mr. Drayton as to his position in the matter. He said:

"Certainly, there is no contest between Mr. Dewart and myself. I do not know of any man who could be got to take the position that would be able to fill it to the benefit of the city than Mr. Dewart. I know of no better choice that could be made, but I am not in the race, for I am not a candidate for it, and I never told that I would be likely to be given the position if I cared to accept it by Mayor Oliver should be sufficient to do away with any idea that the appointment is to be made on party lines."

Ready confirmation of Mr. Drayton's statement came as the reporter walked along King street with him. He encountered Ald. Thos. Church, and the two entered into conversation, when Mr. Drayton assured the alderman that he was not in line for the appointment and heartily expressed the opinion that no better choice could be made than in Mr. Dewart.

WOMEN AND VOTERS' LIST

W.C.T.U. Convention Urges That Every Man Should Go on List.

BELLELEVILLE, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Before the Ontario W. C. T. U. in session here, Mrs. Stevens, Toronto, today suggested that the county conventions be held as early as possible in the year, and that at least half a day be devoted to a school of methods as educational for new workers. Mrs. F. C. Ward, Toronto, noted a greater interest in the question of the enfranchisement of women. Those women who can fulfil the requirements of the franchise should be on the voters' lists, and many of their daughters could be qualified to vote as occupants, tenants or owners. Failure to list a woman's name on the voters' list meant the failure to win in one of the local union contests in Ontario.

Mrs. W. H. Newton demonstrated the advisability of holding medal contests, as they had been used to good advantage in helping to spread "dry" territory in the U. S. Mrs. Gray, Toronto, reporting for temperance in Sunday schools, urged a systematic pledging of the scholars. Splendid work had been accomplished by Mrs. Chrysler, Brantford, thru the medium of collegiate, public schools, Sunday schools, bands, leagues, mass meetings and primary classes, reaching in all over 600 pupils. In many cases every boy and girl signed the pledge against the use of both spirituous drinks and cigarettes.

The conference on lumber camps was conducted by Miss Sproule, missionary to the camps, and Mrs. Russell, Toronto, gave an opportunity for the recital of successes and difficulty attending this national missionary work. Miss Spruille had travelled in all 7190
