

ANNIVERSARY.

In accordance with the resolution passed, the members of the Society and a large number of their friends, attended divine service in St. Andrew's Church, on Wednesday evening, the 29th November, when an excellent sermon was delivered by the Rev. D. J. McDonell. After the sermon a collection was taken up in aid of the charitable funds of the Society, from which the sum of $52 was realized.

The anniversary celebration was held on Thursday evening, the 30th November, at Mrs. Morrison's Grand Opera House, which was well filled with an appreciative audience. The performance consisted of tableaux, representing pictures adapted from the works of Burns and Scott, and notable incidents in early Scottish history. For this very successful feature of the performance, the Society is very much indebted to the many friends who so kindly gave their services, and especially to the able assistance rendered by Mrs. Morrison in arranging so successfully the several characters in the tableaux. This part of the programme was followed by Scottish songs and an exhibition of the Highland fling and sword dance, concluding the evening's entertainment with the well known play entitled, "Jessie Brown, or the relief of Lucknow," by Mrs. Morrison and company.

After defraying all expenses the committee were enabled to hand over to the Treasurer the sum of $231.40 to be applied to the charitable funds of the Society.
