Speak no Ill. Nay, speak no ill-a kindly word Can never leave a sting behind; And, oh! to breathe each tale we've heard Is far beneath the noble mind. Full oft a better seed is sown, By choosing thus a wiser plan; For if but little good be known, Still let us keep the best we can.

Give me the heart that fain would hide-Would fain another's faults efface, How can it pleasure human pride To prove humanity but base? No, let us reach a higher mood, A nobler estimate of man; Be earnest in the search for good, And speak of all the best we can.

Then speak no ill-but lenient be To others' failings as your own; If you're the first a fault to see, Be not the first to make it known For life is but a passing day, No'lip may tell how brief its span; Then, oh, the little time we stay, Let's speak of all the good we can.
