THOSE QUESTIONS

As Mr. Burpee has falled to answer the questions which we saked last week, we think the reasonable inference is that he could not satisfactorily do so; that the charges those questions implied were truthful and consequently had better be left unanswered. In view, then, of this fact we sak the honorable and intelligent electors of St. John, if this man who showed himself so utterly void of principle, as to be willing to barter his convictions, if his presumptuous ambition was not satisfied, is such a one as they ought to send to Ottawa as their representative If this man who represented to Mr. Mackensie that the majority of the people of this province were such unreasonable bigots, that no matter how much inclined they otherwise would be to support him, they would oppose his government or any government of which Mr. Anglin was a member, solely because that gentleman had the misfortune to be a Roman Catholle, is a true representative of this county. If this man who basely betrayed the gentlemen who, relying on his promises of support, consented to become a candidate for this county in 1874, is one calculated to reflect credit on this constituency, or in any case to act honestly or honorably towards his fellow man! If this man who to reflect credit on this constituency, or in any case to act honestly or honorably to-wards his fellow man? If this man who, in the appointment of Mr. Rowen to the puttion which Mr. Campbell had every right to receive, displayed his readiness to

Isn't it a nice state of things?

Burpee is put in power by the electors of St. John,

Burpee is put in power by the electors of St. John,

of St. John,

Everything he is as a public man he owes to them.

Yet he orders HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS of dollars worth of matterial from the STATES which can be manufactured here; he sends the money of our own people to employ working men in the States; and men here in St. John who pay for these American goods and labor, and who put Burpee in power, go about our streets looking for word!

Now, isn't it a nice state of things?

A VALIANT KNIGHT.

The Chapman men of Moncton invited Sir Albert J. Smith, K. C. M. G.—a Knight of unbounded stomach—to meet Mr. Ghapman and Mr. Landry at their meeting in Moncton to night, The valiant Knight declined. Mr. Carwright had been atating that he met the House with a deficit of the proceeding year having been $1,900,000.

Does any one one suppose that, had The Chapman men of Moncton invited Sir Albert J. Smith, K. C. M. G.—a Knight of unbounded stomach—to meet Mr. Chapman and Mr. Landry at their meeting in Moncton to-night. The valiant Knight declined. He will only attend his own little meeting—that is, himself and Hickman. He speaks in Dunlap's Hall, which holds about four hundred persons. Messrs. Chapman, Landry and Hanington speak in Moncton also this evening, in the Skating Rink, which will hold 2,000 to 2,500 people!

A. A. Stockton says, publicly, that the cry of "Canada for the Canadians" represents a false theory. Does in?
