

OLD SUBJECT IS REVIVED

JANADIAN VESSELS IN NEW YORK CANALS

Lose Privileges Owing to Regulations Passed by State House

Ottawa, March 12.—G. H. Perley, of Argenteuil, brought up in the House yesterday the question of the use by Canadian vessels of New York state canals on terms of equality with other vessels. There was for many years a feeling in Canada that the United States had not given fair play, and it appeared to be generally conceded that no vessels of Canadian register could go through from Ottawa to New York down the New York state canals on equal terms with United States vessels. Mr. Perley read a letter he had received from the superintendent of public works at Albany, N. Y., showing there was no discrimination against Canadian boats, and Mr. Perley thought the public mind should be dissipated in some manner, as the general impression was that the discrimination did exist.

A. Broder, of Dundas, remarked that for forty years no Canadian vessels had had the privilege of using the New York state canals on equal terms. When under the treaty of Washington the right to use federal-owned canals had been accorded to Canada, the United States government had urged New York state to give us permission in their state-owned canals.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said his understanding of the matter was that the state of New York had passed the necessary legislation, but subsequent regulations had upset it. The matter, however, would be looked into.

Railway Belts. In the Senate yesterday third reading was given to the following bills: Respecting the Calgary & Edmonton Railway, respecting the Calgary & Fernie Railway, respecting the Vancouver, Westminster & Yukon Railway, respecting the Canadian Northern Railway.

PREPARING REPORT ON ANTI-GAMBLING BILL

Five Members of Special Committee of House Favor Measure

Ottawa, March 11.—The special committee appointed to consider the Miller anti-gambling bill met yesterday to consider the report which is to be presented to the House. Five members of the committee favor the bill, while two others, Messrs. Monk and McCall, suggest an amendment which would permit public betting during the progress of a race.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, having given the opinion that the wording of the bill is not clear, it was decided that before reporting to the House the department of justice be asked to give an opinion as to its phraseology in order to make certain that private betting is not declared illegal. Messrs. Monk and McCall will present a minority report to the House based upon the objections raised by counsel, who represented horse-racing and breeding interests of the Dominion when the bill was under consideration by the committee.

LUMSDEN INVESTIGATION.

Ottawa, March 12.—R. C. Smith, E.C.C. counsel for the transcontinental railway commission, examined Former Chief Engineer Lumsden upon the resumption of the inquiry of the latter's charges yesterday. Lumsden said he had full responsibility under the commission and he considered that his authority was supreme over the contractors in respect to the quality and quantity of their work. He said the payment of progress estimates was now binding upon the commission. Engineers in districts B and F were appointed on his recommendation. He could not possibly remember an instance in which the commission appointed an engineer in opposition to his recommendation.

Regarding the engineers in whom he had lost confidence, Lumsden said he could not make a definite charge because he did not know when they had made classification. He would not suggest that the principle of classification had been changed by them. He stated distinctly that he made no charge against the engineers of doing intentional wrong.

GERMAN EXPEDITION TO SOUTH POLE

Decision of Geographical Society Welcomed by British Explorers

London, March 12.—British explorers welcome the decision of the German Geographical Society to send out an expedition in search of the South Pole. Nothing would please the promoters of Capt. Scott's expedition better than that the German, English and American expeditions all start at the same time.

BARNARDO CHILDREN SAIL

London, March 12.—Four hundred Barnardo children here sailed on the Allan line steamer Tunisian for Canada. A large percentage of the emigrants sailing this month and in April are going to Ontario.

FIRE DESTROYS APARTMENT HOUSES

Panic Among Occupants—Several Women Sustain Injuries

San Francisco, Cal., March 12.—Several women were injured, some seriously, in a fire which destroyed three apartment houses, several stores, a grocery, baker shop and restaurant yesterday.

A number of thrilling rescues were made by firemen, in which two of the men of the department were seriously hurt. The fire started in the basement of the Hays Valley rooming house shortly before daybreak. The flames quickly spread to the Valley apartment house adjoining, and to the Russ hotel nearby, in which were scores of sleeping families. Soon the three buildings were ablaze, several stores on the ground floor of the apartment houses containing inflammable material adding to the rapid spread of the flames.

When the firemen arrived, men and women in night clothing were preparing to leap from the windows to the street.

Miss Mary Rae Fenner was awakened by the smoke which filled her room on the third floor. She became frenzied with fear, ran to the fire escape and leaped. She landed among telegraph wires and hung suspended in mid-air.

Fireman Jas. Herthly, of engine 34, went to her rescue. He climbed the telegraph pole and holding on with one hand, reached from his precarious perch and dragged the fainting woman to safety. As he started, he slipped and fell to the ground. Both he and Miss Fenner were seriously hurt and were taken to the Central emergency hospital.

In the meantime similarly heroic rescues were being made by firemen and police. The work of the firemen was impeded by the general panic in the halls and corridors of the buildings and on the streets in front of the burning structures.

The police aided in arousing the endangered occupants of the apartments and in getting them to the street in safety. The flames threatened to wipe out the entire block.

Among the injured who were taken to the Central emergency hospital were Mrs. Annie McIsaac, Mrs. Matilda Lorenzo, Mrs. Lolo Romero, Mrs. Gualoupe Diaz, and Fireman Thomas Gualaher. Most of the injured suffered from slight burns and shock.

PROPOSED NEW WHARF.

New Westminster, March 10.—The advisability of the city building a wharf and shed for the storage of pipe and other supplies at the lower end of McNelly street on water lot No. 3, was broached at the city council meeting by Mayor Lee. He suggests that a shed 48x58, could be built for the storage of pipe, crushed rock, pipe, etc., and that supplies could be unloaded at a small wharf to be built at this point. This could be economically done and money saved for the city.

The board of works will bring in a report on the scheme.

SURVEYING ROUTE FOR CANADIAN NORTHERN

Engineer Reports Having Secured Satisfactory Gradients

Vancouver, March 12.—A preliminary survey of a line for the Canadian Northern railway between Tete Jaune Cache and Yellowhead Pass at the summit of the Rockies was completed about a month ago. This was the news sent out by courier to Kamloops and thence wired to Thomas H. White, chief engineer, whose headquarters are in this city.

The survey party, comprising twenty men, is in charge of F. Hamilton, a well known civil engineer, and has been engaged on the upper section since last November. Mr. Hamilton, in his communication briefly stated that he had secured very satisfactory gradients, and that details would follow on his arrival here. The railway engineers are now on their way south. When the courier left them the surveyors were checking up a portion of the winter's survey near Cranberry lake, on the divide between Tete Jaune Cache and the North Thompson River valley.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

ALL OVER THE WORLD thousands of housewives use Sunlight Soap in preference to any other, because it cleanses the clothes more thoroughly, and at half the cost without injury to hands or fabric. Follow directions.

DOUGLAS MATHESON GIVEN SIX MONTHS

Walter Jackson Embraces a Chance to Return to the Yukon

Having remained in jail for the best part of a week waiting for hear the sentence to be imposed on him after having been found guilty of entering the house of Skookum Jim by night, Douglas Matheson, formerly a steward on the C.P.R. boats, was this morning sentenced by Magistrate Jay to serve six months' imprisonment.

J. A. Alkman, for the accused, made a strong address for a suspended sentence and brought three witnesses to testify to the previous good character of the convicted man. Charles J. Tuik, formerly proprietor of the Victoria hotel, said Matheson had worked for him for six months and had been honest and hardworking. He had not been drunk while in his employ, as he knew he would be out of work instantly. Until the present case he had never known anything against the prisoner.

J. W. Appoth and John Watson King, of the C.P.R. stewards' department, said Matheson had worked under them, had always performed his duties well, and although there had been numerous chances for theft he had never been known to do anything wrong. Now and again he had been drunk, which was his one failing.

The magistrate said the offence of which the prisoner had been found guilty was a sufficient reason for this provision of a life sentence. He sympathized with the wife of accused, but felt the fact of the prisoner being married could not influence him in the sentence. Realizing this prisoner was a young man and was appearing for the first time in court, the magistrate said he had decided to order him to be imprisoned for six months.

On hearing the sentence the prisoner asked if he could not find bonds for his good behavior, but the magistrate replied: "No." The wife of accused, who when he was married last August, has appeared in court from day to day undergoing the ordeal of seeing her husband convicted after a raking cross-examination of her evidence in the witness box, with remarkable fortitude, broke down this morning when she heard the sentence.

Walter Jackson, a colored man, who said he owned a mine in the Yukon, had wanted to get back to the Yukon having promised to stick a long hunting knife into the lady who runs the Grand Pacific restaurant, by name Louise Goet. The prisoner said he was just cutting tobacco. The plaintiff, however, said he had threatened to stab her with the knife last night at the restaurant. In reply to Mr. Alkman, who appeared for the accused, the witness said the colored man had threatened to kill her six or seven times during the ten years they had known each other.

John Alexander, who said he was a Frenchman, and was not sober, made a rambling statement in the box. He had been sitting on the counter at the lunch room and heard the proposal of the prisoner. If anything had started him to do it he would not have done so. He was very emphatic in regard to the state of the colored man and caused considerable amusement in the witness box. The magistrate allowed accused out on his own recognizances until Monday, and accused will leave the city to-night.

FIGHT FOR SKYSCRAPERS.

Seattle Council Asked to Repeal Law Limiting Height of Buildings to 350 Feet.

Seattle, Wash., March 11.—At a meeting of the council to-night the mayor will be asked to call a special session to pass an ordinance to amend the ordinance restricting the height of buildings to a 350-foot limit.

This will allow the construction of the proposed twenty-six story L. C. Smith building at Second avenue and Yester Way.

BIG RESERVOIR A BAD BOTCH

EXPOSE LAST NIGHT BY CITY ENGINEER

Estimated That Repairs Will Cost at Least Thirty Thousand Dollars

(From Saturday's Daily.)

That the Smith's Hill reservoir is a botch, that the city was grossly deceived by those responsible for its construction, that it is yet a matter of speculation as to what it will cost to place it in a state of efficiency, and that a rigid enquiry should be held, was the unanimous opinion of the members of the streets committee of the city council at the meeting held last evening, when G. H. Bryson, acting city engineer, made his report.

This report sets forth that grave structural defects have been discovered in the reservoir and advises that work of this kind could be undertaken, are estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $30,000, the contractor to put up a guarantee that the basin shall be made watertight. On the report being made there was an animated debate thereon, but no definite action was taken by the committee beyond deciding to recommend to the council that the same be adopted. Mr. Bryson's report read as follows:

Gentlemen,—With reference to the waterproofering of Smith's Hill reservoir, I beg to state that owing to the poor class of work or material, or both, which is plainly evident in numerous places, it will be impossible to make the reservoir tight by ordinary coating process, which only would have been necessary had the cement work been done in a first class manner. As things now stand the entire bottom of the reservoir should be covered with a strong covering of asphaltum, which would be held under the various conditions of temperature, 8,000 tons of water without leakage.

This can be done by using two inches of bituminous concrete finished with a quarter inch coating of proper fluxed and tempered asphalt. The sides to be covered with asphalt, burlap and brick. The city has no plant with which to do this kind of work, and in fact a full asphalt paving plant is necessary, as I am sure the work cannot be done satisfactorily by hand.

I would recommend that the work be done by contract on the basis that no payment be made until the work is finished and proven watertight in every particular.

It would take some thirty days before the work could be installed for carrying out this work, and the time necessary to complete the work would be about 35 working days.

Prompt action is necessary in this matter if the repairs are to take place before the dry weather sets in, when the reservoir is most useful to the city in case of fire and shortage of water.

I recommend that a sum of $30,000 be set aside for the above mentioned repairs.

G. H. BRYSON, Acting City Engineer.

The report having been read, Ald. Ross jumped to his feet and demanded that a thorough investigation be made into the whole business. He produced a report from the city engineer, which had been shipped off with a pick since the basin had been emptied, and declared it was a shame the way the city had been deceived.

Mayor Morley—Donovan, what time the reservoir was constructed. He wanted to see all the men who were in charge of the work, and made to explain. The guilty ones should be dismissed from the service of the city.

one in the city hall who knows a good deal about it.

Ald. Ross—What about your water commissioner? Mayor Morley—Well, to begin with, you would have to put ex-Mayor Hall on oath.

Several aldermen—Well, put him. Mayor Morley—Oh, what good would that do? He has told many lies already about the reservoir, and he would probably do the same thing again. Let's get it fixed first and investigate afterwards.

Continuing, the mayor said that he, in company with the water commissioner, the city engineer and Ald. Bannerman had visited the reservoir that day. His worship had visited the tunnel where there had been a great deal of trouble. He was of the opinion that possibly the chief defect would be found to be in the faulty construction of the tunnel.

Mr. Bryson explained that the whole of the concrete was porous, and that in his opinion the fault did not lie mainly in the tunnel.

Replying to a question, Mr. Bryson added that the most that the reservoir over leaked was 200,000 gallons per day. Ald. Humber—Last year I said it was leaking at the rate of 60,000 gallons per day, and they said I was crazy. (Laughter.)

Mayor Morley—I am still suspicious that there is something wrong in that tunnel. I would not be surprised to find that there is a bad joint.

Ald. Bannerman—A man showed me where most of the water came through the walls.

Mayor Morley—I'll get Mr. Icke up in the morning and have him bring his plans.

Ald. Humber—The whole of the banks surrounding the reservoir are full of water.

Mr. Bryson—Yes, between the concrete and the bank.

Mayor Morley—There is really some danger of it flooding the city if the banks were to give away.

Ald. Sargison—Yes, Ald. Langley was not so far out when some months ago he pointed out the great danger there was of something like that occurring.

Top Shirts and Overalls

The Celebrated "IRONCLAD" BRAND Made By

PAULINE & CO.

Wholesale Drygoods. Victoria, B. C.

ARE ALIVE TO OPPORTUNITIES

FRUIT GROWERS MOST ANXIOUS TO LEARN

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Tells of Tour Through the Okanagan

There is a great awakening among the fruit growers of the interior of British Columbia, according to the reports brought back by W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture, who has been holding meetings in the Okanagan country. Mr. Scott says that the people are fully alive to their opportunities and are very anxious to learn everything there is to be known about the business. As evidence of this he instances the fact that four hundred people attended an open air demonstration at Summerland to witness some practical spraying and pruning.

Mr. Scott was accompanied on his trip by J. C. Metcalf of Hammond, who last year investigated the marketing question for the provincial government. At the same time R. W. Winslow, the department horticulturist, and B. Hovey, the district demonstrator, gave practical demonstrations in the matter of spraying and pruning. Mr. Scott himself spoke on the general work of the department and the advertising tours in the Okanagan.

The meetings were held at Kelowna, Kettlewell, and Vernon. At Vernon the board of trade held a luncheon in their honor, the public meeting being held in the evening. They were banqueted at Kelowna, but at Summerland there was the biggest crowd at the meetings.

"The work of giving practical demonstrations and organizing packing schools which has been so successfully started as an experiment in the Okanagan, will be extended to all the fruit centres in the province," said Mr. Scott. Arrangements will be made at as early a date as possible. The difficulty in the work has been that it has been impossible to secure expert packers to conduct the schools. It has been proved that British Columbia can grow fruit which cannot be beaten anywhere in the world, but there is still room for improvement in the methods of packing and marketing. There is sharp competition from the states of Oregon and Washington, and the British Columbia growers cannot afford to lose the markets just because the fruit is not put up in the best possible shape.

"The demonstrations in spraying and pruning have been much appreciated. The growers are taught how to prepare the spray and how to apply it. They are also shown the latest methods of pruning. This is the pruning which is prevailing in that body. The spraying season. Later on demonstrations will be given in cultivation and summer pruning.

"Everywhere I went," continued the deputy minister, I found renewed interest in institute work. Where formerly the audiences were counted in tens, on this trip they were counted in hundreds.

The secretary then read the financial statement, which showed the total receipts from all sources $2,755.50. Prizes and accounts left over from 1908 to the amount of $59.50, were paid, prizes for 1909 paid amounted to $1,290.15 ($500 more than paid in 1908), for relaying pipe line, $447.35. The balance on hand is $78.82. Accounts to be paid by the association $170.88, against which there is yet to be collected for advertisements and subscriptions, $190. With the exception of $28.50 all the prizes have been paid.

REORGANIZING ARMY OF UNITED STATES

Plans Call for First Line of Defence to Consist of 250,000 Men

Washington, D. C., March 12.—The initial step toward the organization of an army of 250,000 trained men as the first line of national defence, was taken yesterday in accordance with an order just issued by Secretary of War Dickinson, locating the first army of the United States.

This army consists of three divisions made up of the National Guard of New York, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Maine, and the full strength of the regular army in these states. It will consist of 36,000 men.

Top Shirts and Overalls

The Celebrated "IRONCLAD" BRAND Made By

PAULINE & CO.

Wholesale Drygoods. Victoria, B. C.

ARE ALIVE TO OPPORTUNITIES

FRUIT GROWERS MOST ANXIOUS TO LEARN

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Tells of Tour Through the Okanagan

There is a great awakening among the fruit growers of the interior of British Columbia, according to the reports brought back by W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture, who has been holding meetings in the Okanagan country. Mr. Scott says that the people are fully alive to their opportunities and are very anxious to learn everything there is to be known about the business. As evidence of this he instances the fact that four hundred people attended an open air demonstration at Summerland to witness some practical spraying and pruning.

Mr. Scott was accompanied on his trip by J. C. Metcalf of Hammond, who last year investigated the marketing question for the provincial government. At the same time R. W. Winslow, the department horticulturist, and B. Hovey, the district demonstrator, gave practical demonstrations in the matter of spraying and pruning. Mr. Scott himself spoke on the general work of the department and the advertising tours in the Okanagan.

The meetings were held at Kelowna, Kettlewell, and Vernon. At Vernon the board of trade held a luncheon in their honor, the public meeting being held in the evening. They were banqueted at Kelowna, but at Summerland there was the biggest crowd at the meetings.

"The work of giving practical demonstrations and organizing packing schools which has been so successfully started as an experiment in the Okanagan, will be extended to all the fruit centres in the province," said Mr. Scott. Arrangements will be made at as early a date as possible. The difficulty in the work has been that it has been impossible to secure expert packers to conduct the schools. It has been proved that British Columbia can grow fruit which cannot be beaten anywhere in the world, but there is still room for improvement in the methods of packing and marketing. There is sharp competition from the states of Oregon and Washington, and the British Columbia growers cannot afford to lose the markets just because the fruit is not put up in the best possible shape.

"The demonstrations in spraying and pruning have been much appreciated. The growers are taught how to prepare the spray and how to apply it. They are also shown the latest methods of pruning. This is the pruning which is prevailing in that body. The spraying season. Later on demonstrations will be given in cultivation and summer pruning.

"Everywhere I went," continued the deputy minister, I found renewed interest in institute work. Where formerly the audiences were counted in tens, on this trip they were counted in hundreds.

The secretary then read the financial statement, which showed the total receipts from all sources $2,755.50. Prizes and accounts left over from 1908 to the amount of $59.50, were paid, prizes for 1909 paid amounted to $1,290.15 ($500 more than paid in 1908), for relaying pipe line, $447.35. The balance on hand is $78.82. Accounts to be paid by the association $170.88, against which there is yet to be collected for advertisements and subscriptions, $190. With the exception of $28.50 all the prizes have been paid.

REORGANIZING ARMY OF UNITED STATES

Plans Call for First Line of Defence to Consist of 250,000 Men

Washington, D. C., March 12.—The initial step toward the organization of an army of 250,000 trained men as the first line of national defence, was taken yesterday in accordance with an order just issued by Secretary of War Dickinson, locating the first army of the United States.

This army consists of three divisions made up of the National Guard of New York, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Maine, and the full strength of the regular army in these states. It will consist of 36,000 men.

Advertisement for Steedman's Soothing Powders, featuring an illustration of a baby and text: 'SPEAKING FROM EXPERIENCE', 'The Doctor: "Ah yes, restless and feverish. Give Steedman's Soothing Powders and he will soon be all right."', 'Steedman's Soothing Powders', 'CONTAIN NO POISON'.

Advertisement for Sportsmen, featuring text: 'SPORTSMEN', 'Get our catalog free', 'Send us your name and address, and we will mail to you absolutely free, the most complete catalog of sportsmen's supplies ever published on the Pacific Coast.', 'FRASER HARDWARE CO.', 'VANCOUVER, B. C.'.

Advertisement for Colonies and House of Lords, featuring text: 'COLONIES AND HOUSE OF LORDS', 'VOLUME 3', 'HAVE FAITH IN UPPER CHAMBER, SAYS', 'Better a Second Duke Than First of Demagogue', 'London, March 17.—Lord the House of Lords, yesterday the weekly debate continued the House would confine the House had justified the principle and hereditary position of the upper House. The colonies have all upon this House as a constant perception of imperial feeling. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority an If they found a second posed exclusive. Lord Cromer's comments here where their case is experience, regarded with and judged with authority has served the Empire in 1 cannot exaggerate the position of the upper House. This consideration. It is take to suppose that be ones are liberal or demotiment therefore they have to an aristocratic see. What they want in the se character, authority