LIPTON GIVES WAY ALL CONDITIONS FOR RACE

Irish Yachtsman Issues An Unconditional Challenge

"MUST EITHER RACE OR GIVE ME THE CUP"

Sir Thomas Gives American Yachtsmen Every Advantage—They Can Hardly Refuse to Give Him Race Now.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON.

London, April 8.—Sir Thomas Lipton, the British yachtsman, today sent an unconditional challenge for a series of races for the America's cup and after ten years undisturbed possession of the trophy American yachtsmen must again prepare to defend it.

Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge was cabled to the New York Yacht Club today through the Royal Ulster Yacht Club.

After the challenge had been sent Sir Thomas said to the Canadian Press: "They will now either have to race or give me the cup."

The cablegram transmitted to the New York Yacht Club read as follows: "I have the honor to inform you that the Royal Ulster Yacht Club has received the following communication from Sir Thomas Lipton:

Lipton's Communication.

"Although our opinions differ from those of the New York Yacht Club as to the meaning of the deed of gift, in the interest of yachting and with a view to eliminating any possible source of discord, I shall be glad if you will inform the New York Yacht Club that I withdraw all stipulations as to the size of the yacht defending the America's cup, and I look forward to a good race with my 75 footers in 1914.

(Sgd.) THOMAS J. LIPTON.

FRIEDMANN AGAIN BUSY

Noted German Doctor in Providence Accorded Privileges of Practicing Physician—Accepts Fees for First Time

Providence, R. I., April 8.—Dr. Friedmann came here today to demonstrate his vaccine, which he claims is a cure for tuberculosis. He received a flattering reception, the legislature taking a recess while Governor Potter received the visitor at the capitol.

Later Dr. Friedmann received the public at his home, Miss Sophie Berger, his first patient in this country, was among those who called. She presented him with a bouquet.

The physician will remain for at least a week, during his stay will be accorded the privileges of a practicing physician.

Dr. Friedmann announced he would treat as many poor people in the hospital and sanatoriums as possible and also, for the first time since his arrival in this country, receive private patients for fees.

Invitations on behalf of the States of Texas and South Carolina were received today by Dr. Friedmann. He gave out the following statement soon after his arrival:

"I have come to Providence at the invitation of His Excellency the Governor of Rhode Island, in order to demonstrate my treatment. While here I also expect to instruct physicians in the application of my remedy."

GOVERNMENT TO BRING IN THE CLOSURE BILL TODAY

Liberals Squirming In Vain to Find Some Way Out.

MEASURE GIVES NO CHANCE TO FIGHT

Opposition Expected More Drastic Treatment and are Angry Because they Can Not Cry "Gag"—Hon. W. T. White Continues Naval Debate.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, April 8.—Parliament has talked sixty today in the chamber and closed out of it. The Prime Minister's notice has been all day under the anxious scrutiny of the best parliamentarians in the Liberal ranks. Every argument that could be conjured up against it, and every precedent that can be twisted into a support for the Liberal attitude, has been diligently searched out for use in the debate upon the Budget resolution. The opposition will fight the closure with every weapon which the rules permit and when the rules are not wide enough the blockers are prepared to break them.

Measure Too Mild For Them.

The opposition hoped for and expected a form of closure much more drastic than that which is proposed. They wanted and expected a chance to talk about "gag" and "the right of British free speech." They are disappointed because there is no "gag" and because the right of British free speech is being amply preserved. Those Liberals who want the obstruction stopped, and they are many, secretly welcome the closure. Even the irreconcilable resolute in it a means of saving them from themselves.

Premier Borden will move the resolution tomorrow unless prevented by the slight indisposition from which he is suffering.

The House today discussed the naval bill for the last time under the old rules. One admirable speech was made by Hon. W. T. White, in which he reviewed the speeches of the various Liberal members and exposed their absurdities and contradictions; his criticism made the opposition very angry and they interrupted him constantly and viciously, but to his disadvantage.

Liberal, Dr. Clark and Mr. Carvell followed, and the House adjourned at 11:15 o'clock. Mr. Rogers announcing that the closure resolution will be taken up tomorrow.

Hon. Mr. White Opens.

The House went without delay into committee on the bill and Hon. W. T. White spoke. For his own part the minister believed that a momentous period had been reached in the history of the Empire since the passage of certain statements by Rt. Hon. Winston S. Churchill, the First Lord of the Admiralty, had been called in question by the Liberal speakers. A most important pronouncement had been made by Mr. Churchill on March 31 last in the House of Commons. The First Lord then said: "The three ships under discussion in Canada are absolutely necessary from 1916 onward for world service. Apart altogether from our needs in home waters they will play a real part in the defence of the Empire. If they fail, a gap will be open which will have to be filled up by further sacrifices without undue delay. The fact that these ships are necessary, is no measure of their value which far exceeds the value of three ships. We can build three ships ourselves, but the fact of this great new nation coming forward with all its measureless strength and possibilities to testify to the enduring life of the British Empire has already produced an impression throughout the world of more value than many Dreadnoughts, an impression which conducted to the safety of the Empire and the peace of the nations."

"In view of that statement," asked Mr. White, "does Canada wish to deprive Britain of those three necessary ships?"

Mr. Pugsley Lashed.

The minister of finance castigated Hon. William Pugsley for the derisive manner in which the latter gentleman spoke of the gift of a Dreadnought to the Imperial forces by the Malay States, and of the slender resources of that British possession.

"It was unworthy of him," commented Mr. White.

"It was worthy of him," interrupted a ministerial member.

"Let me tell my hon. friend from St. John," continued Mr. White, "that when the Malay States give a Dreadnought, they show themselves more patriotic than the hon. member himself when he was a member of the government of this country, and did nothing."

WOODROW WILSON SMASHES PRECEDENT IN U. S. HOUSE

President Bridges Gap of Over a Century and Addresses Congress During Session—Thousands Throng Streets and Galleries of House to Applaud Action.

Washington, April 8.—President Wilson today bridged the gap that for over a century has separated the pilots of public business, the executive and legislative branches of government of the United States. Not as a cog in a machine, not as an impersonal political entity, nor as a mere department of government, but as the human president, he went to congress to speak about the tariff.

Standing before the senate and house of representatives in joint session, as no other president had done for more than a hundred and twelve years, President Wilson stated simply and tersely what he thought should be done for the benefit of the country and asked his legislative colleagues, man to man, to aid in keeping the pledges of their party.

Shatters All Precedents.

With a sweep of decision that shattered precedent, the President brushed aside all imaginary boundaries between congress and executive office and expressed himself, as he expressed it, from that "isolated island of jealousy" which the presidency had come to be regarded.

When the much heralded incident was over, congress seemed pleased and the President was delighted. He expressed himself to friends as impressed with dignity of the occasion, and some of his confidants later declared that he left the capital greatly relieved to think that all his precedent-making had not been so catastrophic as some older heads predicted.

Visit Was Brief.

The President's visit to the capitol was brief, lasting about a quarter of an hour. No one except a secret service man accompanied him. He rode in a White House automobile and was driven through the crowds assembled about the house wing of the capitol. At 12:54 he reached the Speaker Clark's room, just off the house chamber, where a joint committee of senators and representatives welcomed him.

DIG RAILROAD FATALITY IS INVESTIGATED

Coroner's Inquest Held Over Bodies of Men Killed in Train Collision at Bathurst—Evidence Interesting.

Special to The Standard.

Bathurst, April 8.—The coroner's inquest into the death of Albert E. Beaman and Joseph E. Hachey, killed in the railway collision at Bathurst station on Saturday night, was commenced today before Coroner R. Gordon Duncan. George Gilbert represented the government and R. A. Lawlor, K. C., represented the Bateman family and N. A. Landry, K. C., represented the Hachey family.

After the jury had viewed the remains, the evidence of Dr. Michaud was taken, after he had made an examination of the bodies and disclosed that Bateman had received a bruise on the head, and several of his ribs had been broken and driven into the body, either of which injuries would have caused death. The charred remains of Hachey could not be recognized.

The evidence of the survivor, Roman Chamberlain, was then taken at the James H. Dunn hospital, which disclosed the fact that he and the two dead men were the only persons in the car at the time of the collision, and that he saw the other two thrown from their seats after which the engine passed through the car smashing it.

Other evidence disclosed that Bateman's body was picked up alongside the engine immediately after the collision and that the remains of Hachey's body were found in the wreckage after the fire which destroyed the wreckage and the railway station.

A brakeman on the engine at the time of the collision and Albert Wood, the engineer, both gave evidence that the night was stormy and that the semaphore, set against the train, had not been seen until the engine was quite near it, and that then the brakes had immediately been applied.

The inquest was adjourned until tomorrow when other witnesses will be examined. Hachey was unmarried.

HUERTA GOVERNMENT IS NOW RECOGNIZED

Washington, D. C., April 8.—Belief that Great Britain and Russia have recognized the Huerta government, was expressed today in a message from the Mexican foreign office to the embassy here.

Miguel Covarrubias, who has been at London, has been transferred to St. Petersburg, and Bartolome Carrvajal Y Rosas is on his way from St. Petersburg to London.

Guatemala also has recognized Luis P. Verdia as minister from Mexico.

and Bateman was quite a young lad. Chamberlain was much better today and is now considered out of danger, though he is very severely injured, his chest was crushed and several ribs broken. He had a bad cut on the side of his head.

THE POPE'S CONDITION CAUSES MUCH ANXIETY

BLOODSHED AND RIOTING IN BUFFALO

Lad Shot, Two Women Burned Clashes With Police and Street Car Service Tied Up During Strike.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 8.—Riots and bloodshed followed an attempt on the part of the International Railway Company to resume traffic on city and inter-urban lines with strike breakers in places of their motorman and conductors, who have been on strike since Sunday.

Francis Murphy, a 13 year old boy, was shot in the hip and probably fatally wounded in an exchange of shots fired during a melee in which strike breakers, police and a mob of several hundred took part. Two women were badly burned when a mob tore down an overhead trolley wire in the downtown section this afternoon.

Incidents of stone throwing were numerous and cars were stalled in all parts of the city when mobs put the crews to flight.

Chief Regan's automobile was attacked by a mob in Broadway tonight. Several shots were fired, two of which struck the tumbrel of the car in which the chief was riding, but neither he nor any of his men were struck. The police, with drawn revolvers, dispersed the mob.

All efforts to bring the strike leaders and the officials of the company together to discuss arbitration failed and there was little hope of a speedy termination of the dispute which began tonight was practically complete. The strike leaders expressed willingness to submit their grievance to arbitration.

The company officials took the position that they had sufficient men to operate their cars and made repeated demands on the sheriff and the mayor that troops be called out. Police protection, they declared, was totally inadequate.

The Observator Romano, the Vatican organ, published the following official statement this evening:

"Since yesterday afternoon the Holy Father has been indisposed with a relapse of influenza. His condition is causing no anxiety, but he requires much rest."

Much Anxiety Over Condition.

The truth of the matter is that the Pope's relapse is causing great anxiety because it was not expected, and for the further reason that at his advanced age there is the ever-present danger of his being unable to withstand the drain on his strength. During his recent illness the Pope was much depressed, but as he regained his health this distressing symptom disappeared. With the return of the influenza, depression is one of the symptoms that has been again manifested.

Today his temperature reached a little over a hundred Fahrenheit, which in itself is not at all alarming, but the heat showed weakness and there were evidences of kidney trouble. The condition known as albuminuria, which frequently accompanies influenza, is present, indicating nephritis or inflammation of the kidneys.

A Slight Improvement.

At a late hour tonight the Pope's condition was said to have materially improved, partly owing to the fact that he had remained confined to his bed, and with the exception of Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state, his sisters and a niece, received no visitors during the day.

Cardinal Merry Del Val, in reply to questions concerning the exact condition of the Pope, asserted that the official statement was absolutely correct. He said that the Pope was suffering only from a fresh slight attack of influenza, which had caused an insignificant rise in temperature. This condition, he added, needed greater care than the former attack, and a more prolonged rest. It indicated the constitution of the pontiff which he considered strong, was easily affected by any excessive fatigue or atmospheric changes, which are especially noticeable in these days when the vagaries of the weather brought summer heat one day and rain and cold the next.

"I feel sure," said the papal secretary, "that with extreme care, helped by the prayers of the faith, the Holy Father will be spared long for the glory of the church."

Publicity Brought Her Home.

London, April 8.—Lucy R. Dodge, grand-daughter of the late John Bissew, at one time American minister to France, and the daughter of the Hon. Mrs. Lionel Guest, was reunited to her family this evening. She communicated with her mother, saying that the publicity given to her disappearance had induced her to write to her relatives.

Miss Dodge left her home in London with a maid on April 2. She had become wearied of a life of idleness and desired to earn her own living. A reward had been offered for information concerning her whereabouts.

MONCTON NEWS.

Special to The Standard.

Moncton, April 8.—Hon. W. S. Fielding passed through the city tonight on the Maritime express en route from Halifax to Ottawa.

Navigation between Summerside and Point du Chene was opened today by the Empress of the Steam Navigation Company, which is expected to make regular trips in future.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER.

St. Paul, Minn., April 8.—The jury in the case of Prof. Oscar M. Olson, formerly of the University of Minnesota Farm School, charged with the murder of Clyde S. Darling, alleged wrecker of the Olson home, returned a verdict of not guilty at 8:35 o'clock tonight.

Pontiff Has Relapse of His Recent Illness.

IMPROVED AT LATE HOUR LAST NIGHT

His Heart Shows Weakness, and there are Evidences of Organic Trouble—Papal Secretary Says Rest is Need.

Rome, April 9. (1 a. m.)—The physician in attendance on the Pope throughout the night, reported that at midnight the Pope's temperature showed a slight rise. This, however, did not prevent the patient from getting a fair amount of sleep.

Rome, April 8.—Pope Pius X. has suffered a relapse, and, as is usual in relapses, his condition is considered graver than that occasioned by his illness of last month. The present attack began with a fainting fit, and Professor Marchisava, the Papal physician, was summoned late last night. He visited the pontiff again early this morning and several times during the day.

The official statement given out at the Vatican simply says: "The Pope is suffering from a relapse of the influenza."
