ROYAL COMMISSION IN ISLAND PROVINCE

Closely investigates the Fox and other fur farming industries.

Fur farming in Prince Edward Island received special attention from the members of the Dominion Royal Commission which met in Charlottetown this week.

The two witnesses examined were Mr. W. E. Cameron, B.A., one of the leading fox men of this province, and one of the Rhodes scholars from Prince Edward Island, also Hon. Charles Dalton, whose name and fame in connection with the industry have spread round the world.

Every member of the commission, starting with Sir Rider Haggard, took a hand in the questioning. They recognized that the business was a unique one—in the words of Sir Alfred Bateman, it reminded him of the diamond and ostrich industry in South Africa—and they were anxious to get all the information about it from the financial and other standpoints.

THE ACTIVITIES OF FOX COMPANIES

The report of the Commissioner of Agriculture shows good advance in business.

The following excerpt is taken from the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture issued March, 1914:

"The fox industry has created great corporate activity in the province in the year 1912 than in forty years before, while in 1913 the new companies exceeded both in their numbers and capitalization all that had been incorporated since the province was united with Canada, including those of 1912. And during the same two years more capital from outside of the island was invested, in corporation enterprises within its shores than had been brought in during the period of a generation before."

"Under authority of the act passed by the Legislature in April last entitled 'An Act to Impose a Tax Upon Foxes Held in Captivity in this Province,' which imposed a tax of 1 per cent on the value of the increase in the value of the foxes of 1 1/2 per cent, formerly paid, an official enumeration was made in August last, with a valuation of the young foxes for the purpose of taxation."

FOX SKINS AND THEIR COSTS

A London Fur Broker gives his idea of cost of Fox furs.

A London fur broker who visited Prince Edward Island in the Autumn of 1913, and inspected the foxes in some ranches in the vicinity of Charlottetown gave it as his opinion that the pelts he saw were on an average worth $1500 each.

In this connection the following extract from a lecture delivered by J. B. Tompkins, a well-known American Scientist before the members of the Academy of Science, Baltimore, Md., on April 20th, 1914 is significant:

"While I was in Europe last summer I visited the Zoological gardens in London, also those in Antwerp and Brussels and in Paris, France, and not one of these places had a specimen of a Silver Fox. They said when I enquired about them, 'they were too rare and expensive to be found in zoos.' Seeing some fox skins in a large retail fur store on Rue De La Paix, Paris, I went in and priced them; they asked fifteen thousand francs, that is three and four thousand dollars respectively. Upon my return to New York I saw in 'Revelation Press' window, on 4th Street, some skins. I went in and they showed them to me and they asked $500 for the lighter color skins and $2000 for the real dark ones, but they were no such skins as I priced in Paris, and I might say in neither case were the pelts to be compared with those I have seen on Prince Edward Island."

PELT VALUE

The pelts obtained from the ranch-bred foxes gradually improved in quality owing to careful selection.

Year	No. of Skins
1905	11
1906	8
1907	28
1910	27
1911	10
1912	1
Total	85

It may be noticed that since 1910 no skins of the highest P. E. Island quality have been marketed in London or elsewhere.

It Will Pay You To Investigate Fur Producers Limited

FUR PRODUCERS LIMITED is a promising, profitable proposition—it is built upon a sound business basis; the board of directors is made up of reliable men; the most successful fox raisers in Prince Edward Island are caring for the foxes; it has the lowest ranching arrangement of any company in existence, and the highest protective features have been adopted, which means good production and good production means good dividends.

The Consolidated Fur Farms Ltd.

offers to the investing public a great opportunity to invest in a company that is going to be a sure dividend payer.

THE CONSOLIDATED FUR FARMS LIMITED.
Authorized Capital ..... $150,000
Present Issue ..... 95,000
Shares ..... $50.00 each payable fifteen per cent. with application, twenty-five per cent. on the 15th day of September, 1914, twenty-five per cent. on the 15th day of October, 1914, thirty-five per cent. on the 15th day of November, 1914.

The company guarantees a twenty-five per cent. cash dividend on money invested for the first year.

With the low capitalization of the thirty pair of foxes, the company are putting in, and the up to date ranching methods that the foxes will be ranching under, will be a great factor for the company to pay a larger dividend on the money invested than the twenty-five per cent. guaranteed.
