This dazzle of light, by day and night, is at first very trying to the eyes. No wonder the ancient Egyptians were such great astronomers, when the heavens present such a magnificent spectacle of planets and stars, and the arch of night is so brilliantly illuminated, from the zenith down to the horizon.

Eemverance.

I Can't Stop.

" Stay, Charles," I said, as I laid my hand upon the arm of a once fine-looking young man who was just stepping into the room of a noted haunt of the dissipated-one of those temples, reared to the demon, at whose shrine souls as well as bodies are offered in sacrifice.

He turned his face toward me. That once fair brow now flushed with fires of alcohol, revealed a fearful history.

I had known him when he was a manly, frankhearted boy, but what a contrast did that sullied but still handsome countenance present!

Following him in, I would have dissunded bim from drinking. I might as well have spoken to the whirlwind. Shaking off my hands, he said, Have done, sir; why do you talk of my father? He taught me to love brandy when I was eight years old. I saw him drink his cleven o'clock juleps; why shouldn't I?

"But your father long, long since has stopped drinking, Charles."

" Yes, yes, there's the difference : he was not so far down the hill as I am; I can't stop. 1 know what you would say," he continued in a tone of voice in which despair and sadness were gression. It is fast absorbing or displacing all ceremony, all children born during the year re- mingled. "Do you think that I have not looked at it all, and fathomed the hell into which I am so fast sinking; for I am almost at the bottom of the hill?" "What then, Charles Lee?" I said. "Why, then," filling a goblet of brandy, "I'll take an extra glass." He tried to smile, but his pale, rigid line refused to move. Dashing away his glass, he threw hinself across a table, and burst into a passion of bitter grief, till the rich curls of his glossy hair was wet with tears. To all that I could urge, the unhappy youth only replied, "It's no use; I can't stop."
