BY THE REV. PROF. JAMES DENNEY, D.D. The Way Everlasting

A Volume of Sermons

12mo., Net, $1.50

Professor Denney's books have won for him the place as the greatest of expositors. This is his first volume of sermons and is an example of the highest type of combination of the practical application and exposition. As Professor Denney stands alone in his class as Theologian so his sermons are equally as distinctive and remarkable. His unornamented manner of preaching is all his own and sui generis.

ACETYLENE

Helps To Keep The Boys
And Girls At Home

There's nothing like plenty of light to make the home cheerful and attractive, particularly when it's that soft, white light, ACETYLENE.

Easily installed in any house, and actually cheaper for the same amount of light, than coal oil lamps. Acetylene floods the home with the nearest approach to daylight that science has yet produced for lighting homes.

It makes reading or fine sewing delightfully easy. It enables one to follow the music score in any part of the room. It shows up the true values of the colors in pictures, wall-paper, carpets and furniture, as well as in pretty clothes, bright cheeks and flashing eyes.

The horns, too, can easily be lighted with Acetylene, and the "chores" robbed of much of their drudgery.

Let us give you facts and figures on Acetylene, its cost and how to use it. You'll be under no obligation for the information.

Christ Church, Cambridge, Mass., celebrated its 150th anniversary lately. The Bishop of the diocese took part in the commemoration, which was largely attended and the occasion of which will be long remembered.

St. George's Church, New York City, observed its centennial anniversary on a recent Sunday, when the Bishop Suffragan of the diocese celebrated and Dr. Manning, the rector of Trinity Church, preached an historical sermon. St. George's is, however, in a sense 163 years old, but its independent organization began just a century ago. The centennial of the parish will be marked by the erection of the "Anniversary Chapel" to the north and adjoining the church.

The Right Rev. Dr. Harding, Bishop of Washington, D.C., officiated at the formal opening recently of the chapel of All Saints' Mission, which is in the parish of St. Alban. The chapel is unique in that it was built in five days. The foundation of concrete was laid on a Tuesday and on the following Saturday the structure was completed. It is a portable building of wood, erected in sections, put together on the concrete foundation.
