Patrons Will Protest Monk. DURNVILLE, July 23. --There was a largely attended meeting of the Patrons here on Saturday, at which it was decided to protest the election of Hon. R. Har-court. The matter, it is understood, is in the hands of their solicitors, and the pro-test will be entered at once. Our recent heavy loss by fire renders i peraitively necessary, in order to meet our obligations, that our present large stock of fur-niture be disposed of at once for cash. We have therefore made such reductions in price as are bound to sell the goods. This is a rare chance for any one requiring furniture. Call early and inspect thestock.
