whom has much respect for the claims of the others. While the friends of Mr. Pugsley, ex-Premier of New Brunswich, are unging his appointment to the railway portfolio there appears to be a general protest from the other quarters against such a choice.

Some appears to think that he is too much of a "plunger" and are drawing lessons of caution from the desperate condition in which Mr. Pugsley left the public finances of his own Province on his retirement. Others, who care less about economy, and more for their party, are unwilling to strengthen Mr. Pugsley with a shoice portifolio when this brings the possibility that on the first Liberal reverse he will carry his vote and influence over to the other party as suddenly as he made the transfer in the other discussion.
