VOL. XX
THE GUELPH WEEKLY ADVERTISER
THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 1, 1865.

THE PRESENTATION TO THE REV. HENRY WALL.

The friends of the Rev. Henry Wall assembled in the Town Hall at 10 o'clock, for the purpose of presenting to him an address and purse as a token of respect. George Edmond, Esq., presided, and read the object of the occasion. He then called upon Col. Saunders, who read the following:

Address:
To the Rev. Henry Wall.
REVEREND AND DEAR SIR—We the members of the Church of St. James, in this place, beg to assure you of our unforgotten regards at the separation. During a period of over 18 months, your ministrations as Assistant Minister at various parishes have been so faithfully and zealously performed, and so acceptable had become, that our hearts are increased in reverence of the relation between us, more especially as such an event is against our desire.

Wherever your future lot may be, we are persuaded that the best wishes, the fervent prayers, the united efforts of all our friends, will follow you and your family, whilst it shall ever be our earnest prayer that the choicest of heaven's blessings may be showered upon you, and your life and health may be preserved to you, to the glory of the church, which while amongst us you were so untiringly and devoted a pastor.

Mr. Wall replied as follows:—
My Dear Countrymen, Friends, and Brethren—It is with mingled feelings of pleasure and pain, that I receive your address and the assurance of your regards at our approaching separation. I must needs be devoid of all sensibility, did I not feel pleasure in this additional evidence that I possess so many kind friends in this place, and did I not feel pain that the church which has been so long so blessed by your ministrations, should be deprived of your services.

For the terms in which you speak of my ministrations among you, as "Assistant Minister at various parishes," I feel that I should not feel pain that the church which has been so long so blessed by your ministrations, should be deprived of your services.

My dear friends, I feel that I should not feel pain that the church which has been so long so blessed by your ministrations, should be deprived of your services.

My dear friends, I feel that I should not feel pain that the church which has been so long so blessed by your ministrations, should be deprived of your services.

My dear friends, I feel that I should not feel pain that the church which has been so long so blessed by your ministrations, should be deprived of your services.

My dear friends, I feel that I should not feel pain that the church which has been so long so blessed by your ministrations, should be deprived of your services.

Under the caption the London Press makes some very pertinent remarks about the present unsettled state of political feeling in this Province. A number of prominent journals are now earnestly advocating a union with the United States, while others are strenuously opposing the idea of sending a person for the evils complained of under the wings of the "globe" bill. Canadian politicians have long argued for a union with the United States, and we have seen how the Globe and Hamilton Times have decided to put an end to this awkward state of things, and have set about to divide the party world into two new parties. The Globe sets out by contending that the party it denounces are the young men of Canada, and have set about to divide the party world into two new parties.

THE ROBBERY.
EXTENSIVE ROBBERY AND ARREST OF THE THIEF.

Some ten days since, there arrived in Hamilton one John Atkin, who had recently come out from England to better his fortunes in a new country, and was prospecting for a propitious location to settle in Canada. Mr. Atkin very contentedly left his wife and family at home, and he had arranged for a new house to be built in the town of Guelph, and had included in the outfit for his journey the necessary tools for the trade of a carpenter. He was accompanied by a friend, and they were on their way to Guelph when they were stopped by a party of robbers.

MARY PATTERSON.
THE FATAL ERROR.

Let us change the scene for a little from the interior of the lock-up to the street outside. Some time since, a young man named Mary Patterson, who was a student at the University of Toronto, was arrested on suspicion of having committed a crime. He was taken to the lock-up, and there he remained for some time. His friends were unable to find him, and he was eventually released.

TWO MEN DROWNED—A THIRD COMMITS SUICIDE.

Two men were drowned in the River Credit, yesterday morning. One body was recovered immediately, and the other last evening. One of the men, named Bell, had been carrying a large quantity of goods, and had been crossing the river on a raft. The raft overturned, and the men were drowned.

DISRAELI'S SPEECH ON THE DEATH OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

On the morning of the 25th, says the Spectator, Mr. Disraeli was again arraigned before the House of Commons. He delivered a speech on the death of Abraham Lincoln, in which he expressed his sympathy for the American people and his admiration for the late President.

OUR PROSPECTS.

Much anxiety is felt at present with respect to the result of the forthcoming harvest in this Province. So far the prospects are encouraging, and well calculated to fill the heart of the industrious tiller of the soil with the hope of a speedy release from the burden of debt.

THE PEACH CROP.

There is good reason to believe that the crops of a week or so ago have destroyed all prospects for a good crop of early fruit. The peach crop is generally a failure, and it is not until the late season that the fruit begins to ripen.

And where was James Crawford, now in the thick of the crowd, who could not see the death of Lincoln, and who was so near the scene that he could have seen the execution of the murderer? He was in the crowd, and he was so near the scene that he could have seen the execution of the murderer.
