

VARIETIES.

REASONS TO MAKE OLDADIS.

SIGNS OF A HORSE'S TEMPER.—The size, position, and motion of the ears of a horse are important points. Those rather small than large, placed not too far apart, erect, and quiet in motion, indicate both breeding and spirit; and if a horse is in the frequent habit of carrying one ear forward and the other backward, and especially if he does so on a journey, he will generally possess both spirit and endurance. The stretching of the ears in contrary directions shows that he is attentive to everything that is passing around him, and while he is doing this he cannot be much fatigued, nor likely soon to become so.

It has been remarked, that few horses sleep without pointing one ear forward and one ear backward in order that they may receive notice of the approach of objects in any direction. When horses or mules march in company at night, those in front direct their ears forward; and those in the middle of the train turn them laterally, thus seeming to be astounded by what is passing.

The ear of a horse is one of the most beautiful parts about him, and by this is the temper more safely indicated. The ear is more intelligible even than the eye: and a person accustomed to the horse can tell, by the expressive motion of the organ, almost all that he thinks or means. When a horse lays his ears flat back on his neck, he most assuredly means mischief, and bystanders should beware of his heels or his feet. In play, the ears will be laid back, but not so decidedly nor so long. A quick change in their position, and more particularly the expression of the eye at the time, will distinguish between playfulness and vice.

The hearing of the horse is remarkably acute. A thousand vibrations of the air, too slight to make impression on the human ear, are readily perceived by him. It is well known to every hunting man, that the cry of hounds will be recognized by the horse, and his ears will be erect, and he will be all spirit and impatience a considerable time before the rider is conscious of the least sound.—The Horse and the Rider.

ONE HAPPY HEART.—After being tapped three times.

Copy of a Letter from Anthony Smith, Esq. Halifax, Nova Scotia, dated the 26th August, 1854.

To Professor Holloway, I am happy to inform you that my Pills have restored me to health after suffering for nine months I suffered the greatest torture with this distressing complaint; was tapped three times, and finally given up by the doctor; having become as weak as a skeleton, and with no more strength in me than a child just born. It was then, that I thought of trying your Pills, and immediately sent for a quantity, and commenced using them. The result I can scarcely credit even now, although true it is. After using them for four weeks, I felt much better, and by persevering with them, at the expiration of two months, I was completely cured. I have since enjoyed the best of health.

I am, Sir, Your obliged,

Friend of the Prince Edward Islander.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF ASTHMA ! ! ! OF AN OLD LADY SEVENTY FIVE YEARS OF AGE.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thomas Weston, (Book Store,) Toronto, dated the 16th October, 1854.

To Professor Holloway,

Sir,—Gratitude compels me to make known to you the extraordinary benefit an aged parent has derived from the use of your Pills. My mother was afflicted for upwards of four and twenty years with asthma and spitting of blood; it was quite agony to see her suffer and hear her cough; I have often declared, that I would give all I possessed to have her cured; but although I paid a large sum for medicine and advice, it was all to no purpose. About three months ago, I thought perhaps your Pills might benefit her; at all events I resolved to give them a trial, which I did; the result was marvellous; by slow degrees, my mother became better, and after persevering with your remedies for nine weeks, she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health, although seventy-five years old.

I remain, Sir,

Yours obliged,

(Signed) THOMAS WESTON.

RUSSIAN SERFDOM.

Among the limitations of Russian serfdom, are these:

1. The master cannot sell the serf without the land on which the serf resides.

2. The serf cannot be separated, and the unmarried children, after the death of parents, constitute a family.

3. The master's power over the body of the serf extends not to maiming or polluting life.

4. The master cannot require the serf to marry contrary to his own choice and affection.

5. He is entitled to the labor of only three days of the week, and cannot require labour on the Sabbath or on high festivals.

6. Serfs cannot be held, except by the nobility and certain privileged classes and persons.

7. They cannot be held, except in proportion to the master's property in land, there being required for each serf the possession by the master of twenty acres.

A COMPLIMENT TO THE LADIES.—Walter Savage Landor, now residing at Bath, England, in his 81st year, became acquainted with Lady Blessington at Florence, in 1820. In Madden's life and Correspondence of that lady, just published, we find several letters of Landor's. We make the following extract from one of them. He writes to Lady B. "Cannot you teach those about you to write somewhat more purely? I am very fastidious. Three days ago, I was obliged to correct a friend of mine, a man of fashion, who so far forgot the graces as to say of a lady, 'Say presence; we are in the company of men, in the presence of angels and women.'"
