MHA;

Why does the bud that is near to its breaki Wake sweeter smiles than the fully-blown rose? Why does the dream on the verge of awaking Stir deeper truths than a deeper repose Why does the love that is broken with parting Lift itself higher by the fullness of pain?

Why is the incomplete rapture of starting Close on completion we never attain?

Why? for a boundless, unsatisfied longing Lies deepest down in a warm human heart;
Ever with this are the sympathics thronging
Ever by this do the heaven-flowers start

Grow with our spring-we can follow you wholly

Mr. Forepaugh then, with a small iron scraper, pushed the rope under the paw. The assistant drew the loop tight and pulled the seemed to awaken to the situation and made frantic struggles to free himself, growling fiercely. Disregarding these demonstrations, Mr. Forepaugh went on to secure the other paw in the same way. To secure the hind legs he now entered the cage and caught both legs in the noose. "Jim" sprang up to get loose, but the assistants, pulling the ropes, threw him on his broadside, and drew his four paws close to the cage bars in front, securing them there. The rope round the neck was now removed, and a man was stationed near the head with a stout oaken stick, with instructious to put it in the tigers mouth every time he raised himself and attempted to bite his fasten ings. Mr. Forepaugh now commenced with the rear right foot, the worst, and trimmed the claws of this and the others in succession. Burnt alum was rubbed into the wounds and balsam of fir was then poured in-the former to remove corruption and the latter to heal the wound. The operation with the forepaws tamer was forced to place his hands with in reach of the tiger's formidable teeth. Each time, however, that "Jim" started up the stick was presented to him to feet and was free. The relief was immediate, judging from the manner in which the great beast walked about his cage. the cut claws will probably grow in once

DANCING UNDER GROUND, -Underground dancing is the latest novelty in "gaieties' reported from the United States. In the should not look round." New York Mine in Virginia a grand ball took place 1040 feet below the surface About a 100 ladies and gentlemen were present : and the affair seems, by the account given of it in the Virginia City Chronicle, to have been a complete success. The invitations included the elite of society in Virginia Gold-hill, Silver City. and Carson, and were for sixty couples. On entering the works the guests were led up to the shaft, where some little dif ficulty was experienced by the superin tendent of the mine, who acted as master to go down in the cage. Several of them positively declined at first to descend, but others stepped boldly on the cage; and when it came up for a second and the £10 with it. third load confidence was gradually restored. On the guests reaching the incline station they found themselves in a chamber about 36 feet in length by 1feet in width, and 34 feet high next the his divinity students in a way which might shaft. TRIMMING A TIGER'S FOES.

This difficult operation was lately performed by a noted lion tamer at the Zoological Gardens in Philadelphia on a royal long from in-growing claws, and was in danger of lockjaw. The tiger was rather celebrated for its intractability, and had one day caused the death of the female in the next cage by crushing one of her legs which had slipped through the bars. From a graphic account of the trimming operation in one of the Philadelphia papers we gather that five stout manilla ropes were arranged on the rail in front the furnace. The supply of consumed the furnace is the role of the subjects.

I also took a prescription from a celebrated English physician, who said my trouble from medicine expectally prepared for Dyspepsia, and intended to propose a propose the model to do for physical and the supple of the subject in the next cage by crushing one of her led in the next leave the nearly sub

This is diffused through the air in part and in part absorbed by the bed clothes. If a single ounce of wool or cotton be burned in a room, it will so completely saturate the air with smoke that one can hardly breathe, though there can only be an ounce of foreign matter in the air. Yet the smoke thus formed is far less poisonous than the exhalations from the lungs of the sleeper, for while the dry smoke is mainly taken into the lungs, the damp odors from the body are absorbed into the lungs and into the pores of the whole body. Need more be said to show the importance of having bedrooms well ventilated, and thoroughly airing the sheets, coverlets and mattresses in the morning, before packing them up in the form of a neatly made bed? One Sunday lately a London minister related the following anecdote in his pulpit :- A friend of his lost a gold watch, quietly advertised for it, and paid for its recovery £10 to a man who confessed that he had stolen it. Being anxious to know how it had been done, this condoner of felony asked for the story, The thief, having the ten sovereigns safe in his pocket, stated that he had run up against him in Bow Lane, and so abstracted the watch. With admiring attention the of the ceremonies, in inducing the ladies owner of the watch showed the thief out of his house, and returned to congratulate himself and tell the story to his wife.

Detri Nir,—Allow me to say a word in favor of Vegettine. During the past year! have suffered from the third of November until the middle of the following June, and on an average did not sit up two hours a week; I had eight of the best physicians in the state, but got no help, and constantly grew worse. They agreed that I had heart disease, phthisis, pyaemia, and kidney complaint, and could never be any better. I was reduced in-weight 50 pounds, which is much, for I am naturally thin.

In June, finding that I was failing under the treatment of the physicians, I commenced the use of Vegettine through the carnest persuasion of friends, and, I am happy to state, with good a sails. I have gained ten pounds in weight, and can sit up ail day, walk half a mie and ride six.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color. A dressing with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dan gerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambrie, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving

PRINCE WILLIAM, May 10, 1876. Messrs McFarlane, Thompson & Anderson

GENTLEMEN.—After having used one of your Walter A. Wood's Iron Frame Mowers for the last hree years, cutting seventy tons of hay each season, I can, with a full knowledge of its merit, setlify to its excellent qualities. It is light of draught, cuts heavy and light, standing or lodged grass with perfect success, is easily managed, and very durable. It has never cost me one cent or repairs. It all appears in as good working order as when bought. The absence of boils and uits, in consequence of its solid boxing, I consider one of its most important and valuable improvements over other Mowers in our Market, and would most strongly recommend it to the armers of York County as the Mower to buy.

Every description of repairs on hand for our implements at all times. Sections on hand and knives manufactured to order for all other kinds Mowers, and sold at prices lower than any other. All of our implements warranted to give entire satisfaction, and will willingly subject them to field test with any other at all times.

Not employing General Agents or finding it necessary to swarm the country with local travelling agents, we are able to sell at low prices and on better terms than any other, thereby giving the farmer the benefit of the commission paid agents of other Mowers.

Don't sign order or buy from Mower Agents until you have seen ours, or sent for our circulars and price list. McFarlane, Thompson & Anderson.

They are warranted for six years.
