PROTECTING HUMAN LIVES

The Ontario Safety League continues to place a large amount of literature in the hands of motorists. and others throughout the Province. In the first three months of 1920 the League has distributed an enormous amount of safety material, including 35,000 industrial safety bulletins; 32, special bulletins; 8,500 traffic bulletins: 2.700 electric railway bullerins; 150,000 motorist's safety book-marks; 10.200 health bulletins; 6,500 news by the Canadian Cement Co., at Point letters: 9,000 safety calendars: 12,000 Anne, Ont. was found dead in a clay leaflets to the "new man;" 125,000 pit, having been atruck, by a steam gummed seals; 3,000 safety cards and posters.

The League will hold an annual meeting in Toronto, beginning Tuesday, April 13th at the King Edward

C. N. R. WILL NOT ELECTRIFY LINE

"The rumors in connection with the electrification of the roads operated by the Canadian National Railways are unfoounded, so far as the general system is concerned." said President D. B. Hannna yesterday: "We have taken over the railway known as the Toronto Eastern Railway, and also some other lines, and we have an agreement with the Hydro to sell these roads to the Hydro Commission, and when taken over by the commission they will naturally be electrified. This also concerns that line known as the old Central Ontario Railway, where passenger traffic is far in excess of the freight transportation, but this applies to that ection only, not to the Central Ontario Railways in general, some people have understood from my speech to the Canadian Club in rockville.

"So far as the inncrease i rates is concerned, we aresimply marking time awaiting the deciion of the Unted States Interstate Commission of

Dead, Second Found Dying

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March n bed and his twin brother, John Courtney, seriously ill with pneumonia, yesterday morning in their hermit like quarters in the rear of their brick block on Niagara Street, beween Third and Fourth Streets. Both of the Courtneys are well over 70 years old and came here from Toronto about 50 years ago, we a signal The two men had been ill for severa days, and this morning John himself barely able to crawl over the floor, found that James was dead. He managed ot attract the attenton of neighbors, and Dr. W. H. Hodge, was summoned and said that James had been dead for several hours. John's condition is such that little hope is held out for his recovery.

The brothers for a number of years ran a shoe store on Falls St. but a few years ago sold out and built the block on Niagara St. where they have since lived in two small rooms in the rear. They had few callers, and lived the life of recluses, although it was known that they had plenty of money. Coroner Harry R. Emes is invxestigating the death of James.

The Canada Steamship Lines, through an official of the company, announced yesterday that their new passenger steamer for the Niagara run would very probably be constructed in Toronto. The steamer will be 420 feet in dength, over 100 feet longer than the Cavuga, and wil have a capacity of 4.000 passengers. It will be the second largest passenger steamer on the Great Lakes, and will be the largest passenger steamer ever constructed in a Canadian port if built in Toronto:

If you were asked to name the most pronounced feature of our Dental Office, we would, with-out hesitation say: "It's sterling reputation for reliability."

To explain this more fully, we would point to the skilled specialists who are employed by us, the painless, gentle and courteous manner in which they treat patients and the extremely reasonable schedule of charges for Deutal treatment of the highest standard of character. And, as the most convincing proof of this reliability, we would point with great pride to our twenty-five years of public service and the endorsements of thousands who have received Dental attention at our hands. To those who seek a reliable Dentist, this has a deep meaning.
