Government Cattle Jobbing.

It may be remembered that last November we directed attention to the Government's venture in cattle jobbing. On the 18th of that month we had the following, among other matters:-

"The story runs that the Government in its magnanimity bought a number of heads of cattle in the Burin District. The cattle were brought to the Government farm in St. John's, and a sale was determined on. Instead of proceeding in the usual way and engaging an auctioneer, and advertising the sale in the newspapers, so that farmers and all other persons interested in cattle would know of it, a quiet and less public procedure was decided on."

In the House of Assembly yesterday, Mr. Gear was supplied with some details in reference to this transaction. Twenty-five head were bought by the Government at the Burin exhibition at a total cost of $10,225.50. It cost $105 to transport them to St. John's. Some butchers were invited to the Government farm to buy them. Seven of them accepted the invitation and purchased the cattle at a total cost of $660.50. The Government lost on the deal $467, and the Premier declared in the House of Assembly a few days ago that the loss was a mere bagatelle. The remark was characteristic of the wanton way in which useless expenditure is made by the present Government.

Government Sanitoria.

In the House of Assembly yesterday Sir Edward Morris, the Premier, moved the House of Assembly into a Committee of the Whole to consider certain resolutions in regard to the subject of the Prevention and Treatment of Tuberculosis. These resolutions were in short as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Governor in Council, out of moneys which may be appropriated by the Legislature for such purposes, to construct, equip, manage and operate hospitals, sanatoria or dispensaries for the treatment of inhabitants of this Colony suffering from tuberculosis, and may accept, take over, manage, operate and control any hospitals, sanatoria or dispensaries which may be erected by any person or corporation in this Colony.
2. Regarding Notification.
3. Regarding Disinfection of bedding, clothing and other infected articles.
4. Regarding Committee of Management.
5. Providing that no loss of franchise shall ensue from use of facilities.
6. Regarding appointments of Medical Superintendents, nurses and other attendants.
7. Empowering the Governor in Council to make rules to prevent the spread of tuberculosis.
8. Regarding Disinfection of chambers occupied by consumptive.
9. Regarding Medical Officers duties in regard to disinfection of such chambers.
10. That any person violating any of the provisions herein contained shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty dollars, to be recovered in a summary manner upon complaint before a Stipendiary Magistrate.
11. That a Bill be introduced to give effect to the foregoing Resolutions.

Recovering.

Mrs. and Miss McCourt, who were nearly poisoned on Ash Wednesday by the eating of tinned salmon, particulars of which have been alluded to in the Telegram, are getting better slowly. We understand the police authorities are investigating this matter with a view to having the parties responsible for the putting up of this food stuff properly and severely dealt with.

The crew and 32 passengers were drowned by the foundering of the steamer Delivrance, a government vessel plying on the Kwango River on the borders of the Belgian Congo, yesterday.

Special to Evening Telegram.
PARIS, Feb. 27.
Le Matin understands that Britain, France and Russia, acting together, are ready to make energetic representations to Turkey to bring the war to an end. They are only waiting for the adhesion of the German and Austrian governments before taking decisive steps.

Special to Evening Telegram.
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.
A cable from Kingston, says that Jamaica will not send a delegate to the Canadian Conference on the question of closer trade relations between the Dominion and the British West Indies. The States form the Colony's natural market, and the belief is that any attempt in the direction of reciprocity with Canada, would insure the displeasure of the United States.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, Feb. 27.
An early settlement of the dispute in the coal trade is apparently more than probable, although it cannot yet be definitely announced. The Executive Committee of the Miners' Federation has agreed to meet representatives of the owners, with some members of the Government and Representatives of the Board of Trade. This meeting of the disputants, with mediators in the effort to smooth away the rough places, is confidently regarded as foreshadowing the termination of what promised to be the greatest industrial struggle of modern times in this country. This clearing of the atmosphere followed a conference between Premier Asquith and some of his colleagues, with members of the Executive Committee of the Miners' Federation, at which the Premier discussed the situation with the Premier for nearly two hours this afternoon. Mutual concessions will form the basis of the needed settlement of the dispute. Until a broad basis of agreement has been reached by the executive and committee and the coal-owners, nothing can be done to suspend the notices to quit. For this reason, many thousands of miners, whose notices expired to-day, have laid down their tools.

'Longshoremen

WILL ASK FOR AN INCREASE.
The Executive of the Longshoremen's Union held a special meeting last evening, dealing with the question of an increase of wages, mooted at a previous conference. Various phases of the subject were discussed but nothing of a definite character was arrived at and the meeting adjourned until to-morrow night when the matter will be further gone into. The Union propose making known their request during the spring season.

Splendid Ice

Last Night at Prince's.
Those who took advantage of the glassy surface and indulged in general skating at the Prince's rink last evening say that it was a pity the third inter-colonial hockey match did not come off then as the ice was in perfect condition. It is hoped, however, that 'Jack Frost' will not forsake us for at least another twenty-four hours until the finale is played which is scheduled for to-night.

On Trial To-day.

The much postponed case preferred against Mrs. Charlotte Butler for larceny, and who was out on bail for the past two months, is now being heard in the Magistrate's Court before Judge Knight, and it is expected the case will be finished during the day. The police authorities have secured sufficient evidence for the bringing of four charges against her, which were exclusively referred to in the Telegram. Mr. R. A. Squires appears for the prisoner.

Don't forget to have your guess in before the 1st March.—Feb. 19.

IN BATTERED CONDITION.

Mr. J. R. Goodison had word yesterday that the barquentine Calidora, Capt. Soper, belonging to Rorke & Sons, Carbonara, from Oporto with a cargo of salt, after being 75 days out, put into Barbadoes in a battered condition. The vessel encountered terrific weather, causing her to lose her canvas. She was damaged extensively about decks, and a portion of her cargo had to be jettisoned. Her captain and crew are well.

St. Bon's L. A.

Yesterday afternoon a special meeting of St. Bon's Ladies' Association was held in the Aula Maxima. The attendance was large and great enthusiasm manifested. Heavy votes of thanks were presented to the retiring officers and Mr. W. D. Reid for his liberal donation of $500 towards the building fund. The "Irish Night" will be held on the 18th March, and a dance will take place at Easter. The Vesper service will be held in November next. Rev. D. O'Connell will lecture during the present Lenten season in aid of the Association funds. A deal of business was done before the meeting adjourned.

HOCKEYISTS BANQUETED. — The Windsor hockey team were dined at Donovan's Hotel last evening by the local committee. The party, accompanied by a number of city gentlemen, drove to their sleighs and a very enjoyable time was spent.

ICE ON LAND. — The N. E. wind of yesterday and today has again packed the heavy slob ice on the land and St. John's is once again blocked as that shipping can neither enter or leave port. The Stella Maria, which left here yesterday was off Cape St. Francis at 12.30 p.m. and will likely have a hard job to get North.

New Disclosures

In Dynamite Conspiracy Through 40,000 Letters.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16. — New disclosures made in the dynamite conspiracy cases through 40,000 letters and telegrams quoted in the indictments as implicating practically all the officials of the International Association of the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, will be the basis it was declared to-day, upon which the Government will seek to convict the 54 defendants charged with committing or abetting in almost 100 explosions.

The correspondence contained in one of thirty-two indictments and embracing what are termed "unconsummated acts of conspiracy" is held as showing that a vast plot, known to Frank R. Ryan, President of the Ironworkers, and to members of his executive and many business agents was carried on for six years to destroy the property of steel contractors who employed non-union labor. It charges all the defendants with being equally guilty as abettors. It also purports to reveal evidence that jobs became the accepted term and that gradually the officials of local unions began to call on the international headquarters in Indianapolis to assist by dynamite and nitroglycerine in increasing the expenses of the "open shop" contractors. Orin McManigal, Herbert S. Harkin, second Vice-President, and James B. McNamara, became, it is charged, an organized "dynamiting committee."

Letters are included to show regular fees were paid to McManigal, and that the cost of doing local "jobs" frequently was discussed in letters.

Fads and Fashions.

None of the bac hair shows on the newest armor-like turbans, while the front hair is pulled out from under the hat brim in any way to suit the style of head covering.

The bracelet is to regain the favor which it once held. A very beautiful armband now being worn consists of a plain band of dull silver inset at intervals with large oval opals.

Velvet bags with hand embroidery of tinsel, beads and silk are seen. These are often made to match a suit, or as gifts, and mounted in gold, silver or platinum with heavy braid bangles.

Handbags made partly or entirely of fur are immensely fashionable. They have an outside of embroidered velvet, tapestry or silk bordered, touched up with tinsel and bordered with fur.

Jackets for the spring are just a trifle fitted in, twenty-six to twenty-eight inches long; sleeves plain, and the collar must give a cachet to the garment, it to be irregular, one-sided or with revers.

The newest drawer is the Isabelle, but with a circular top and flared below, to a width of one and a quarter to one and a half yards for each leg, resembling a short, full petticoat when worn.

The evening wraps are simply sumptuous. Made of wonderful brocades and many richly embroidered. The heights of luxury are those of fur, made reversible, so that they can be worn on either side.

A Frenchwoman nowadays adds as a last touch a long-stemmed glowing pink rose to the outside of her muff or pinned on the left lever of her fur coat. It is artificial, but requires close scrutiny to prove it.

Small roses of ribbon trim black turbans as a Garland surrounding the crown, sometimes wandering all over it. The large bunches of goura are as stylish as one trimming can be, their price prohibiting any general use.

The newest "models" shown and talked of show skirts averaging two yards in width, and a straight, narrow cut that does not slope into the figure; it gives a slim, straight effect, but does leave something to the imagination.

Bandeaux are worn by all ages and, we may say, of all sizes and materials. A pretty idea lately seen was a band of black velvet ribbon studded with small flat pink ribbon roses and a scanty frill of gold lace sewed to the front edge of the band.

BOVRIL IS ALL BEEF.

Questions we are often asked.

Q.—What is the sediment at the bottom of a cup of Bovril?
A.—That is a valuable portion of the nourishment, and should never be left.
Q.—Are you serious when you say that Bovril is more nourishing than ordinary Meat Extract or Home-made Beef Tea?
A.—Certainly! and we have for years offered large rewards to anyone who can prove the contrary.
Q.—But can you prove your statement?

A.—Yes—from the pen of Baron Liebig himself, who told the world that the man who managed to get the nourishing, as well as the stimulating properties of Beef in a liquid form, would produce something far better than Liebig's Extract, and would be a public benefactor.
Q.—And you have done this?
A.—Yes. By a special process, the prime nutritious constituents of the entire ox beef are separately treated, purified and added to specially-prepared Meat Extract, and that is Bovril.

Don't experiment with artificial imitations of dubious quality (which are dear at any price) when such a tried and proven nutritious food-beverage "made in England" is within your reach.

British Museum.

Care With Which It is Guarded From Fire and Thieves.

It is very doubtful whether the British Museum could ever be burned down. It is more likely to be swamped first. There is enough water stored there in tanks to last for many days' continuous pumping in case by any chance the ordinary supply gave out.

Every policeman on the premises, too, is also a fireman, being especially trained before he takes up his duties. There is not a nook or corner in the remotest part of the building which could not be deluged in two minutes if necessary arose.

Not only is there little chance of the museum itself being burned down, but also any building near it, for that matter, for the museum looks after them, too, hardly less carefully.

Thieves have just about as much chance as fire has. Immediately after closing every gallery and every room in the building is gone through, searched and locked up, and then the whole process is repeated again an hour later, this precaution being directed against fire rather than thieves.

It is a full hour's hard work merely to lock or unlock all the doors in the building.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Oriental's love of the extreme is to be found in some dressy waists of chiffon, crepes and net, with really brilliant linings of vivid green, blue, yellow, cherry-red satin and changeable taffetas of opal shades, and a reddish purple may also be worked up to the bright color scheme.

When you lock the big front door of your one-horse codfish store, then forget about your business till another day begins; for this thing of talking shop with a loud and boastful yawn, drives a weary old world distracted, put the lid on human grins. Old Man Bungle comes at night to the dungeon where I write, and he talks about his business and the hefty deals he swung, till I wish the law allowed me to wrap him in his shroud with a clamp upon his larynx and a thumbscrew on his tongue. Everywhere I go some bore backs me up against the door and begins to talk of profits and margins and the like, till I rise in my despair, brain him with a rocking chair and inter his mangled body in the middle of the pike. Talk of operatic tunes, talk of peanuts, talk of prunes, talk of Lillian's coming wedding, and you will not be a bore; talk of biliousness or books, talk of anything, gadzooks! but your little dinky business in your little dinky store!

Dear Sir,—I cannot help the letter signed "Citizen" the very best, commercial of what spirituality should have ever been written. If Kingdom is not of this world, 36) it cannot be a serious treatise dealing with Salvation.

Probably it is not intended rather is it fashioned on pleasant scheme of the smoking—monetary—social—social-distinction, qualifying missionary experience—were once wealthy, strong nations—mind you, and ascetic weak and that despised penurious Christians. I suppose, that pag the voice of Jehovah?
