CANDLEMAS DAY.

HANNAH MORE born 1745. English poetess, philanthropist, and religious writer. She went to London in 1774 and became intimate with Dr. Johnson, Burke and other literary celebrities of the day, but returned to Bristol where she spent much time in trying to improve the condition of the poor, showing in all her writings a desire to raise the general tone of society.

ADELAIDE PROCTOR died 1864, aged 39. English poetess, and daughter of Bryan Proctor, who made considerable name as a poet of patriotism. Her works include a popular volume entitled "Legends and Lyrics" published in 1858.

If Candlemas Day be fair and fine,
The worst of the Winter is left behind;
If Candlemas Day be dull and gloom,
The worst of the Winter is still to come.

THE FORWARD MARCH.

Hark! I hear the tramp of thousands,
And of armed men the hum;
Lo! a nation's hosts have gathered
Round a quick alarming drum.
Saying, "Come!
Freemen, come!
Ere your heritage be wasted," said the quick alarming drum.

Let me of my heart take counsel:
War is not of life the sum;
Who shall stay and reap the harvest
When the autumn days shall come?
But the drum
Echoed "Come!
Death shall reap the braver harvest"
said the solemn sounding drum.

What if, amid the cannon's thunder,
Whistling shot and bursting bomb,
When my brothers fall around me,
Should my heart grow cold and numb?
But the drum
Answered, "Come!
Better there in death united than in life a recreant—come!"

Thus they answer—hoping, fearing,
Some in faith, and doubting some,
Till a trumpet-voice proclaiming
Said, "My chosen people, come!"
Then the drum
Lo! was dumb.
For the great heart of the nation,
throbbing answered, "Lord we come!"
—Bret Harte.

Patriotic Concert at King's Cove.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—Please give me space in your much-read paper for a few remarks. On Tuesday night, 26th January, the Loyalty Club held a tea and dance in the C. of E. Schoolroom, and we take this opportunity to thank our outside friends who gave us considerable supplies for our table. We think it our duty to name some of them to show we are more than grateful for their kindness. Our thanks are due to Rev. S. A. Dawson and his lady, Mesdames Samuel Brown, sr., James Brown, sr., Walter Brown, Misses E. Duffell, Winnie Hart and Alice Hart. Our thanks are also due to the following ladies who were on the committee: Mesdames Samuel Brown of Wm. Samuel Brown, jr., Joseph Hancock, Ronald Curtis, Hy. Hancock, jr., Kenneth Brown, Thos. Curtis of Arch, James Curtis of George, John Brown of Thos. Frederick Hancock. We could not have been so successful only for the way our committee ladies worked. It was the largest gathering of people ever seen in the schoolroom. One would think they would never all get served. But glad to say all was pleased with the tea, and after tea was over the younger folk stayed until day break tripping the light fantastic, while the older folks enjoyed a song and jokes went around freely. "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" was sung by Edward Hancock and brought down the house, while John Coffin amused us for a while with the Highland Fling. A song given by Samuel J. S. Brown, entitled "When I Get You Alone Tonight" was enjoyed by all. But sorry to say Mr. Brown had to go home before daylight.
Thanking you for space,
I am, yours respectfully,
A MEMBER,

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES BURNS, Etc.

From the Heart of the Wheat

Comes the delicate flour.

There's only a little.

And around it lies gluten that's hard and tough—bothersome in baking.

To pick this cream of the flour from the ordinary, we sift it ten times—

Ten times through fine silk.

And only the daintiest particles, sifting through, go out as Gold Medal Flour.

The rest we deem unfit.

Do you want all of the flour, or just the best of the flour?

Will you have milk and cream, or just the cream, when both cost an equal price?

There can't be any question.

Then in ordering, Madam, don't merely say "flour." That means any flour.

Say the flour you want—say—

"STARR" HOCKEY SKATES

BEST FOR HOCKEY

THE MODERN MERCURY

Mercury, the winged messenger of the gods (according to ancient legends) had small wings on his feet to speed over the land with the ease of a bird. But Mercury had no advantage over the modern skater who uses Canadian-made "STARR" Skates.
"STARR" Skates take the place of wings—they are light, strong, comfortable—and enable the wearer to skim lightly and confidently over the ice—whether in pure fun or the swift sport of a hockey game.
The popular "STARR Mic-Mac Featherweight" Hockey Skate (trademark registered at Ottawa) shown at the bottom of this advertisement is a speedy hockey skate, and equally good for rink skating.
It is especially strong, because of the bar connecting the heel and sole plates. The specially welded and tempered steel blades retain their cutting surface longer and better. Very little sharpening is needed.
Hitch yourself to a "STARR" Skate and surprise yourself and your friends.
"STARR" Skates are equally good for artificial or natural ice.
We absolutely guarantee "STARR" Skates unconditionally—if they break, take them back and get a new pair.

Clary, Mepherston, then "Drake Goes West," after address of the evening was the Rev. and W. Bro. Cannon Bolton's address was a and patriotic one. He discussed the purpose for which they gathered, the righteousness of the cause, the question of sacrifice, Newfoundland's place in the struggle, and the confidence the brethren those who have volunteered in defence of the Empire. A speaker then briefly outlined the nature of the struggle, and at the same time that there is a general tendency to dwell on the exclusion of the Germans. The explanation for the conflict may be traced to the "Culture" different entirely known to Britons. In Germany was enthroned as the ideal, and very little known. Efficiency was the aim in a certain degree, but it was the excuse for the trampling of human rights. Germany had become intoxicated with the success of the wars of 1864, 1870 and since war had been the prosperity attributed to the war, and a welfare to the State had resulted. The latter that had to give way to the usurped place of Germany. This exalting in efficiency seemed to forget that the State is greater than the State, and is greater than Humanity. The episode of the "scrap" which to England meant a treaty. Following were attacks on defenceless towns and the horrors which Christian civilization could not tolerate. Canon Bolt addressed to the Volunteers present, expressing the pride in their brethren held them, with every happiness and success. J. King followed with a song "The Motherland," after which spoke in encouraging tones. A song "Hearts of Oak" by W. S. Cornick preceded by Capt. Montgomery, after which prayer was by Rev. Canon Bolt. The National Anthem of Belgium, Japan, France and England with Auld brought the enjoyable to a close.
