The Earl of Onslow, in proposing a toast to "The United Empire," spoke of the object of the imperial conference. He denied the suggestion that the conference was the precursor of protection. The very opposite would be the result, he declared, namely, the strengthening of free trade. Greater freedom of trade would greatly advance the interests of the colonies. He believed in the free interchange of commodities between all parts of the empire would result in filling up the open spaces, allowing the British to stand or fall without outside assist-

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the granting of representative institutions, had brought prosperity, contentment and unity of the Empire. It would be tatal to try to force events in the British Empire. Any preconceived plan along the lines of general or individual efforts should proceed slowly. "His-toric experience," said Sir Wilfrid 'has clearly shown that political changes, unless prompted by actual necessity, generally fail. There is no finality to human affairs." The time might come, the Premier suggested, OF THE FEET when a Parliament of the Empire should assemble at London. It would than the present galaxy of free nations owing allegiance to the same flag. Sir Edmund Barton, Premier of Australia, said any selected plan of representation for the Empire, any scheme for Imperial defence, any common fiscal system, seemed unobtainable at present, but nothing should be regarded as out of reach of the Empire without an earnest effort. He agreed with In Rusticating Thirty Sand-Sir Wilfrid Laurier that rapid processes had not infrequently been the cause of dawnfalls. Caution meant success in any attempt to establish an Imperial zollverein at the present time. It was surely impossible to take away the revenues of the colonies. Canada' one-third trade with Britain would throw the burden of the other twothirds on Australian trade. The trade with Great Britain is so great, he argued, that free trade would mean the surrender of revenues, making it impossible to administer the country without direct taxation.

PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS:

S. T. WILLETT, Woolen and Shovel Manufacturer, Chambly J. E. SHOEMAKER, Manager Aluminum Works, HENRY C. DODDS, Secretary-Treasurer, JOHN W. BLAIR, Solicitor,

This Company is incorporated for the purpose of acquiring the business hitherto carried on by Messrs. Shoemaker & Dodds, as Manufacturers of Spun and Cast Aluminum goods.

The business was commenced a year ago, on a site acquired at Chambly Canton with cheap Electrical power, where factories have been erected and manufacturing commenced. The success which has attended their efforts has been so greatly beyond their expectations, that their only resource is to form a Joint-Stock Company, and increase the working Capital. Aluminum Ingots are purchased and such articles as Cooking utensils, Spoons, House fittings, Coat hooks, Door and letter plates, Pew numbers, Letters and figures for Signs, made therefrom. Castings are also made to order for Machinists and Manufacturers, according to patterns supplied. These articles can be cast in Aluminum, Copper, Brass or Composition. From Aluminum sheets a very large line of Cooking utensils, Funnels, Measures, Reflectors and Shades, Combs, Milk, Bread and Pool checks, Advertising novelties, Fancy goods, Notions, etc., are spun or stamped. The Company will be prepared to manufacture a large variety of Lamps, for use where there is no Gas or Electric Light, the patterns for these

The sales are increasing very fast, so that in May the amount more than doubled that of March, and it is this rapid extension of the business which necessitates the increase of the working capital.

The following considerations are submitted to prospective shareholders: This is the only Company of the kind in Canada. It is needless to point out the advantage this gives it, for while at present it has the field to itself, it will in the future should other Manufacturers start business, always be the established house with which the trade is accustomed to deal.

2. A bonus of $20,000 was granted by the Town of Chambly Canton, which is repayable $2,000 on 1st. June 1904, and the same amount in each of the nine following years, without interest. This amounts to less than the rent such premises would bring in the City, so that by paying a small rental for ten years from 1904, the works wil be free of debt.

3. Electrical power and Taxes cost much less at Chambly than in the City of Montreal, while Railway freight is only a small item. 4. Articles made from Aluminum are entirely free from any tendencs to rust or corrode, unless treated with strong Alkalis. There is therefor no danger of Verdigris, as in a Copper or Brass preserving Pan, or of the metal being eaten through by rust, as in Tin. The lightness of the metal makes it particularly easy to handle, and it can be alloyed so as to become as hard as Brass, and thus completely take the place, at a cheaper rate, of Nickelplated Brass.

5. The net position of May would have sufficed to pay a six per cent. dividend on the whole Capital of the Company for that month. As the net profit on the goods averages 20%, it is hardly boasting to say that the present principals have every confidence in their ability to pay a regular dividend at the rate of ten per cent. per annum.

6. It has been arranged that Messrs. Shoemaker and Dodds, who commenced and have built up the business, shall continue and devote their whole time to the service of the Company, as Manager and Secretary-Truasurer respectively.

7. The purchase money of the business has been fixed at $50,000 the whole of which will be taken in paid up stock. The above price includes, Land, Buildings, Machinery, Stock manufactured and unmanufactured, Book debts, and Cash in Bank; the business being handed over as a going concern.

Questions in the House of Commons to Mr. Brodrock, secretary for war, having failed to produce any satisfactory reply, the natural course would have been to move the adjournment of the house, but this step was not taken soon enough. A Conservative member -one of the new baronets-intervened with a notice of motion which, though it will never come on, prevents the adjournment being moved. There has, however, been a very interesting correspondence on the subject in the Times, including able letters from Winston Churchill, Lord Hugh Cecil and Lord Alwynne Compton, who is a soldier, and on Thursday Lord Carrington brought the matter before Poisons accumulate in the blood and spread with it every moment to all parts of the body. The brain becomes congested, the nerves irritated, and the result is that awful headache so well known to the female sex.

Most of these poisons are absorbed into the blood from the waste matter that has accumulated in the intestines resulting from indigestion. Matter which should be promptly passed from the system through natural channels. Ferrozone cleanses the entire intestinal tract, and the liver and kidneys as well. It cures constipation, and its many attendant evils. It makes the body strong and the blood pure, induces natural sleep, and enables to eat and drink anything at any time without risk or headache, nervousness or skin eruptions.

Ferrozone is nature's own remedy for headaches. It is a lasting potent tonic and the greatest health maker the world has ever seen. It masters all female derangements, and restores weak, sickly women to a healthy, vigorous condition of mind and body. No other remedy so effectually meets the requirements of a health-giving tonic and regulator as Ferrozone. Every woman and growing girl can derive marvelous benefit from its regular use, and if you suffer from Chlorosis, Anaemia, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Poor Appetite, Nervousness, or Female Disorders of any kind, you can make no mistake in selecting Ferrozone for a cure. Every reliable druggists recommends UNJUST AND CRUEL. Then the war office decreed that given up within two days all the cadets of C Company who could not prove an alibi would be rusticated and the servants dismissed. It was in the quarters of C Company that the fire broke out. There was some excuse for dismissing the orderlies, on the ground that they ought to have been on the spot, but as regards the cadets the consequences were unjust and cruel, even grotesque. Those who were playing cricket escaped, while those who were work-were most severely punished though they cannot all be guilty and may all be innocent. General punishments are always open to grave objections, but at the they should only be influenced by mutiny. As a mere method of extorting confession they are barbarous, iniquitous and almost always futile. These unfortunate cadets are threatened with professional ruin because Sir Edward Markham, the governor Sandhurst, cannot find out who lighted the fires.

No doubt, as Lord Roberts says. arson is a helnous crime, because it not only damages property, but endangers life, and for that reason he is visiting those who perpetrate it with exemplary penalties, not for counfounding the innocent with the guilty. REFORM NEEDED.

Another cablegram says: To the dismay of the government, the agitation on the subject of the "rustication" of the Sandhurst cadets, who were suspected by their inferior officers of being concerned in the recent incendiary fires at the military college, daily ga thers more influential supporters. Winston Spencer Churchill and Lord Hugh Cecil have now enlisted Lord Rose-bery, the Duke of Northumberland and hundreds of other prominent men, regardless of party, in their endeavors to see that justice is done to twenty-nine "rusticated" cadets. What at first seemed to be a trifling matter is now a grave source of annoyance to the government, in spite of the endeavor of the entire ministry, as the Saturday Review puts it, to shelter themselves behind Lord Roberts, the commander-in-chief. They are still in a dilemma, and Lord Roberts has lost more of his waning popularity. This week the question is likely to be the subject of a heated debate in the House of Commons. The underlying motive, in the movement in behalf o the cadets, is the universal desire to probe the war office inefficiency and Sandhurst a fit place to train British officers.

Too great wealth seems to have been the immediate cause of the suicide of Sebastian Gassiot, a retired captain of the royal navy. A brother of Capt. Gassiot, who died recently, bequeathed £500,000 ($2,500,000), to St. Thomas

He therefore became depressed by the weight of his responsibility and imbued with the delusion that he was exceedingly poor. Finally the captain shot himself July 8.
