SARNIA, Jan. 20.-Unable to get a ferry over the icebound St Clair River at Marine City for the Canadian side, Mrs. Carman Mitchell, wife of the man held by the Detroit police, to face a charge of attempted robbery in Sarnia police court next week, late this afternoon had a narrow escape from drowning when she walked over the frozen river, and came to Sarnia to make arrangements with a local legal firm for the defence of her husband.

Mrs. Mitchell arrived at Marine City from Detroit, and finding ferry service suspended, started to cross the ice on foot, and un-accompanied. Nearing the Canadian shore she ventured on some soft ice, and broke through. After a desperate struggle she managed to reach shore,

Crown Attorney Wilson tonight announced arrangements had been made with Sheriff Harrison Maines of Port Huron to have Mitchell handed over to the Sarnia authorities to face a charge of attempting to stage a liquor hold-up near Port Lambton a month
