THE MERRY MILKMAN. He Meets Last Night and Reduces Price of His Wares.

An important meeting of the Toronto Allan's confectionery store at Queen and milk dealers' association was held last Beverley streets. Crossing over he obmilk dealers' association was held last night. The room at the west end of Albert hall was full when the meeting was called to order by the chairman. The broken window. Being surprised, called to order by the chairman. The most welcome part of the proceedings to the public will be that after to-day the lacteal fluid will be reduced from seven to six cents per quart. The dealers, how-ever say they will inaugurate the cash system. A full discussion of the proposal of the city council to license milk wagons was entered into. They also object to Inspector Awde's manner of pub-lishing the result of his tests. They say that his figures are ambiguous and misleading. The lactometer, it is claimed, only indi-cates a relative value. The newspapers who use the word "raid" in describing Mr. Awde's visits to the milk wagons and milk stores were censured by the meeting.

Hans and Gretel.

Two rehearsals for this operetta were held yesterday-one at the Grand opera house in the afternoon and another at Government house in the evening. The piece, ernment house in the evening. The piece, properly designated, should be called a spectacular, melodramatic, romantic, oper-atic extravaganza. It possesses dramatic merit and gives opportunities for capital effects in stage settings. The plot is very light and is something to this effect: Hans and Gretel are true lovers while Fritz is a rejected admirer of the same damsel whose suit is greatly favored by her parents on account of his wealth. Seeking aid from Regna, the Gipsy queen, he fixes a plot by which poor Hans is accused of theit of a ring, seized, and put in prison. Mary and Wilhelm, together with other friends of the lovers, manage to get Hans out of prison for a together with other friends of the lovers, manage to get Hans out of prison for a short time to say farewell to Gretel before being exiled: and in the meantime Regna, who has been, all the time, working against Fritz, towards whom she has a grudge, procures the ring, restores it, and makes everyone, who deserves to be, happy, while Fritz is seized and put into

tic troubles

The music, upon which of course depends in a large degree the success of the piece, is composed of numerous popular airs which, coming as they do to new words,
