

invested many millions of dollars in the Dominion will aid in preserving that unity of interests, financial and social, that will shape the laws governing both nations so that their subjects may ever continue to greet each other in friendly intercourse and meet each other in harmonious business action. Thus it ought always to be between the United States and Canada, if the two nations continue to exist separately, as they most assuredly will, and so mote it be.

We recognize to-night, more than ever before, the sterling qualities of justice and rectitude that have ever been manifested and maintained by you, and our hope now is that the foundation upon which you have built your reputation may ever find resting upon it a character as bright and unsullied as it is now. We pray also that you and we may be so directed that when our days here shall have been numbered we may all meet again in the Pearly Court above, over which presides our Great High Chief, in whom we trust, and whose will it is our pleasure and happiness to do at all times.

We ask you now to accept with this address as a small token of our regard for you this Past Chief Ranger's Badge, which we trust may serve to remind you of the many friends you leave behind you in Court Maple, on whose behalf our names are subscribed.

Brother O Cruse replied in a short and appropriate speech, thanking the members of the Court for their address and present, and stated that he would ever feel an interest in the progress and welfare of Court Maple, wherever he might be located in the future.

The Grain of Salt.

A lady finding a beggar-boy at her door gave him a meal of coffee, meat, and bread and butter, which he sat down in the area to eat. A moment afterward, however, he rapped beseechingly at the door again, and on its being opened remarked with his hand upon his heart, "If I had but a little salt I should be perfectly happy."

Of course he got the salt.

Human nature is always lacking something. Oftentimes it were better off without its wishes, yet it is universally conceded that no permanent enjoyment can be had without the savor of health, which keeps good cheer fresh and preserves and sweetens life for the future.

The great, ruddy farmer pines because he has not won fame or position. The famous man longs for the lusty health of the sturdy farmer.

The grain of salt is wanting.

How to secure and retain the savor of health in the midst of this rushing, nervous, over-worked generation is a problem worthy of our closest attention. It cannot be done with stimulants, which but spur on the over-worked nerves to fresh efforts, only to leave them more jaded and shattered. Nor with narcotics, which temporarily soothe, but to create an unnatural appetite, the terrors of which a De Quincy has so graphically portrayed.

What is needed is something which will invigorate and calm, renew the appetite, build up the health and strength, and such an aid is Warner's Safe Cure.

It may be asked, what is the cause of this extreme nervousness, lack of appetite, lung trouble, deficient heart action, failing eye-sight, apoplectical tendency, etc. We reply, poisoned blood, caused by diseased kidneys, and the troubles indicated are after all, but symptoms of advanced Kidney Disease which is but another name for Bright's Disease. Unless remedied there will be a complete breaking down of the great blood-purifying organs, the kidneys, and they will be excreted, piece-meal, through the urine.

Now, in the spring of the year, owing to the extra work which has been put upon the Kidneys and Liver, through a meat diet during the winter months, these symptoms are more pronounced, and the danger to the patient correspondingly increased. It is therefore imperative that the poisoned blood be eradicated, and that the Kidneys be put in complete health, which can be speedily and effectually accomplished by the use of Warner's Safe Cure, a tried and proved specific in hundreds of thousands of cases.

Pursuing the path we have marked out you will possess the salt of content, without which life's banquet is "flat, stale and unprofitable."
