

guests of the Queen's, who viewed the assemblage from the gallery over the entrance. Before them they saw grey-haired veterans of the profession, middle aged graduates and undergraduates, lining four tables the length of the hall, chatting together about former days and recalling the good times they had had together, while disposing of the delicacies announced on the menu card, which was got up in a very handsome style, displaying on its cover the caricatures of many of the professors with their favourite fads and phrases, and many phases of college life.

Mr. R. M. Curts, the chairman of the evening, who occupied the seat of honour at the head of the table, had on his right Dean Geikie, Prof. Clark, Drs. Millman, Peters, Vaux, Wilson and Thorburn. On his left were: Mr. Barlow Cumberland, Dr. Chamberlain, Inspector of Prisons and Asylums; Dr. O'Reilley, Superintendent of the Toronto General Hospital, Dr. Sheard, Prof. Robertson, Dr. Brenen, Dr. Temple, and other prominent men in the profession and friends of the college.

About eleven o'clock the chairman arose and delivered a capital speech, welcoming the guests in the name of Trinity Medical College, commented on the good feeling existing towards Trinity and between Trinity and the other colleges throughout the province, and especially between the students and the faculty of Trinity Medical College, of which he was proud to be a student. He congratulated the "fresh men" added to the teaching staff, amongst others he named Drs. Powell, Strathy, Wishart and Spencer. He then proposed the toast of the Queen, which was drunk with the greatest of enthusiasm. To the toast of Trinity Medical College, Dean Geikie arose to respond and was greeted by prolonged and most hearty applause, showing what a warm place he holds in the hearts of the students. He congratulated the students on their choice of a president, spoke of the work of the college, of the Medical Council, and on the subject of medical education. He ended by hoping that the students, when they had graduated, would do as so many former students who had now graduated were doing, namely, return each year to be present at the annual banquet and renew old acquaintances and drink to the continued prosperity of Trinity Medical College.

Letters of regret were then read from the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Hon. Oliver Mowat, Col. Geo. T. Denison, Bishop of Huron, Dr. Bourinot of Ottawa, and Dr. Augusta Stowe Gullen.

To the toast of affiliated institutions, Prof. Clark, Dr. Peters, Dr. Gordon, Dr. Powell and Mr. Barlow Cumberland responded.

Dr. Peters, on behalf of Toronto Medical College, complimented Trinity on the success of her banquet, and hoped that the good feeling would always exist between the two colleges as at present.

Mr. Barlow Cumberland spoke of the splendid triumphs achieved by Trinity, and said he had no fear for her renown and fame as long as they had such men at her head as he saw before him. Speeches were also made by Dr. Mitchell, Dr. Brenen of Peterborough, Dr. Chas. O'Reilley, Dr. Chamberlain, and many others.

Sister institutions were represented by Mr. Mair, on behalf of McGill College, Montreal, Mr. Tent for Queen's of Kingston, Mr. Nixon for King's of London, Mr. McCormick for Toronto, Mr. Burnett of Bishop's College and Mr. Hill of the School of Pharmacy.

Mr. Cleghorn acknowledged the honour of the undergraduates, and Dr. Wilson responded to the toast for the ladies.

The guests dispersed about three o'clock, all agreeing that it was the most successful dinner that Trinity Medical College had ever given.

Great praise is due to the committee of the evening, composed of: Mr. R. N. Curts, President; Mr. P. J. Maloney, First Vice-President; Mr. F. C. Harris, Second Vice-President; Mr. W. G. McKechnie, Third Vice-President; Mr. J. T. Robinson, Secretary, Mr. E. O. Bingham, Mr. W. E. Switzer, Mr. T. Douglas, Mr. A. G. Storey, Mr. F. S. Nicholson, Mr. C. H. Sills, Mr. H. F. King, Mr. A. M. Cleghorn, Toaster.

VERY PITIFUL APPEAL

BY A LOVE-SICK SWAIN TO A YOUNG LADY WHO HAD DECLINED TO SEE HIM AGAIN.

LIKE a gale on the pitiless ocean,
'Mid the storms of a wild winter's night,
Creating a widespread commotion,
As the breakers dash high in their might,
Is my heart, that is throbbing so madly,
Yours might soften if only it knew,
How I grieve, cruel one, ah! how sadly
I grieve, who am banish'd by you.

"From the wreck of the past which hath perish'd,
Thus much I at least may recall,
It has taught me that what I most cherish'd,
Deserved to be dearest of all!"
Wrote in sorrow, the poet—prepare not!
Such sad retrospection for me—
For the coldness of others I care not,
If I may but linger by thee!

I have lov'd, aye, have worshipp'd you blindly,
My affection no language can tell,
Why then treat me thus, so unkindly?
Why cause me this misery?—well!
Perchance you may live to regret me,
Departing, I ask only this,
Sweet Eleanor, will you not let me
Imprint on your lips but one kiss!

Personal.

MR. H. MORRELL, '92, who has been assistant medical officer at the Mimico Asylum for the past few months, has resumed his lectures. Mr. Maloney, '93, has filled the vacancy caused by his return to College.

ON the resignation by Mr. Tilley of the position of President of the Trinity Medical College Literary and Scientific Society, Mr. Fenton was chosen to fill the vacancy.

THERE was a young student at Trinity,
Who went to his cupboard and in it he
Found some excellent beer
Which made him good cheer
And refreshed that young student of Trinity.

IN the death of the Rev. Dr. MacNab, of Bowmanville, the Church loses one of its most devoted servants, and Trinity a sincere friend and supporter. It is of interest to note that Dr. MacNab was one of the oldest of the Canadian clergy. A warm personal friend of the late Sir John Macdonald, he has been closely identified with the history of his neighbourhood, and prominent in all good works. A prize of twenty dollars was annually awarded by him at the midsummer examinations to that member of the Divinity Class who won the highest marks in Greek Testament subjects.
