

The MISSES McLEAN are teaching at Atlanta, Georgia. Acadia may graduate many young ladies, but it will be hard to find the superior, of the two of '93, not only as students, but as whole-souled workers for the interests most vital to the best life at their Alma Mater.

WILSON is at present in an insurance office. He has the teaching profession in view. He was one of the most apt students in his class.

SAUNDERS is preaching at Elgin, N. B. His excellent judgment and steady influence for the right, will be much missed among the boys.

MACFARLANE is engaged in journalism in his native city. He intends taking a special course along his line of work next year.

NICHOLS got his A and is now teaching in Kentville Academy. He has law in view.

HARRIS is still in the Land of Evangeline waiting for receptions.

JONES is attending Normal School at Regina, N. W. T.

BILL is taking the theological course at Newton.

WYMAN is taking the medical course at McGill.

MUNRO is still sheltered by the paternal roof.

CHESLEY is in a law office in his native city.

STARRATT is teaching in Annapolis County.

BAKER is preaching at Woodstock, N. B.

EPHEMERIDES.

VERSICLES.

SWINBURNE.

Lo ! Summer suns are over ;
The snow the fair fields cover ;
Mild maid and languid lover
Sing Swinburne's swinging strains.
And ringing roof and rafter
Re-echo tears and laughter,
And artists all are after
A theme of joys and pains.

BURNS.

NA' simmer robes the earth in green,
And doon sins dimplin a' in sheen ;
Blithe o'er the field my bonny Jean ;
Comes trippin' sweet ;
In a' the land she's beauty's queen,
Sae trim and neat.

POPE.

Let nature be ; seek not for God to grope ,
The proper study for mankind is—Pope.
