

but in which the Pension Tribunal or the Appeal Court has decided that the applicant is not entitled to a right under this Act.

(2) The amount of any compensation payable to or for any person shall be such as the Commission shall fix, not exceeding the amount to which the applicant would have been entitled if his right to payment had been upheld.

(3) Any application for compensation payable to or for any person which has been refused by the Commission, may be renewed before the Pension Appeal Court by his leave and on any such renewed application the Court shall have the same powers as the Commission has under this section.

(4) No final payment under subsection four to seven inclusive of section twenty-five of the said Act shall be made after the expiry date of this Act.

10. Section twenty-five of the said Act is amended by replacing subsection six thereof and by adding thereto the following subsection—

(2) Any pensioner who has accepted a final payment may if his responsibility disability has persisted but has not treatment, be treated as pensioner in respect thereof as from the date from which the amount of the final payment received by him is or was equal to the sum of the instalments of pension which he would have received if instead of accepting a final payment he had continued to receive pension at the rate in force immediately before such final payment was made.

11. Subsection two of section thirty-two of the said Act as enacted by section twenty-five of chapter thirty-eight of the statutes of 1925 is repealed and the following substituted therefor—

(2) Subject as in this Act otherwise provided, the widow of a member of the forces who had at the time of his death been for not more than ten years in receipt of a pension for a disability or an existing disability or had not would have been in receipt of such pension if he had not been in receipt of pay and allowances from the Department while under treatment shall, irrespective of the cause of the death of her husband, be entitled to a pension as if his death had resulted from an injury or disease or aggravation thereof attributable to or incurred during military service.

12. Section one of section thirty-two of the said Act as enacted by section twenty-five of chapter thirty-eight of the statutes of 1925 is amended by striking out paragraph (b) and (c) and by substituting therefor the following as section 32A—
