

NOTE TO TEACHERS.

General Directions, which apply to the teaching of a subject in more than one year, will be found given when the subject is first introduced. Teachers should therefore be careful to study these directions as well as those given under a particular year.