Lord Rosebery Takes Coach and Four to Drive Away Sleeplessness.

THIS IS NOW MUCH TALKED ABOUT Former Premier Generally Thought of as the Coming Leader of the Liberals.

London, Dec. 29.—Since his speech at Chatterfield, Lord Rosebery has been the most-talked-of man in all England. Even discussion of the Butler case seems to have lapsed. Anecdotes about the Liberal leader, which these days seem to doubt he will again become, have been revived.

One was told by a clergyman in his Christmas sermon. The preacher even went so far as to hail him as a sort of political Messiah, comparing the state of England to-day to that of Rome before the birth of Christ. He declared that Britain's hopes were centred on Lord Rosebery's making another advent into politics to save her from her trouble and perplexity.

Lord Rosebery, who has been spending Christmas quietly at Dalmeny, his seat near Edinburgh, has been exciting some curiosity among his neighbors in Midlothian by a form of exercise or recreation to which he has recently taken.

He has been in the habit lately, two or three times a week, of ordering a carriage and four horses to be got ready for him after dinner, sometimes as late as 10 o'clock. In this carriage, in the company of an outrider, the former Premier is rapidly whirled for an hour or two through the park or the road between Dalmeny and Edinburgh.

Lord Rosebery suffers, it is understood, from an occasional insomnia of an obstinate kind. He has an idea that he may induce sleep by rapid motion before retiring to rest. Hence these rather singular nocturnal excursions.

Speaking about Lord Rosebery, by the way, it is worth noting that two of his children, Lord Dalmeny and Lady Creve, celebrate their birthdays on the 29th. Lord Dalmeny will be 20. He is destined for the army.

His only sister, Lady Creve, is a daughter, was trained by the widowed mother, who was a practical first-class cook, while Lady Creve is a thoroughly skilled in all the arts and all the duties of an upper housewife.

PROTECT THE HOTELS. Rev. George A. Dewey Says They Are Indispensable Public Benefits. Rev. George A. Dewey, in his sermon at the Agnes-street Methodist Church Sunday evening, launched a strong argument for the protection of hotels, showing how that object could be attained, at the same time bringing about the abolition of the liquor traffic.

He chose his text from Isaiah, 1: 16: "Cease to do evil, learn to do well." He showed that the legislature by its method of licensing hotels was prohibiting and restricting them from becoming public benefits, whereas if it would urge them to become servants of the people, by debarring them from their places of business, hotel keeping would in time become one of the leading professions of the country. He said that it needed brains to run a hotel, but none to run a barroom, and a hotel could exist without the barroom. He said he did not believe in the government licensing clubs for the purpose of selling liquor to its members. He said if it were "on to" and not one of the clergy, he would get a ticket for the purchase of liquor at any of the city clubs.

Liquor will exist to the end of the world. But, he said, its manufacture and sale should be under government supervision and by government agents, and every other place selling liquor should be abolished. This is what the legislature has done by licensing hotels and by debarring them from their places of business. He believed in the abolition of parts of government, but he believed in the retention of the rest. He said that the government should be a government of the people, and not a government of the clerical class. He said that the government should be a government of the people, and not a government of the clerical class.

GEN. SHAFER BUNCOED. Was Led to Endorse Bogus Drafts By a Forged Letter. San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 29.—Major-General Shafter will soon be sued for two drafts amounting to $400, which he endorsed last June on the strength of a seemingly genuine letter from Major-General Arthur. It turned out that the letter was a forgery and the drafts were bogus. The drafts were presented to Gen. Shafter by E. E. Lawrence, who here letters from MacArthur asking Shafter to endorse them for his friend Lawrence. The letter was of genuine and Gen. Shafter promptly complied.

With Gen. Shafter's endorsement they were promptly paid by Hong Kong and Shanghai banks. After two months they were both sprung. Then the bank wanted the money, which had every appearance of being genuine. The general refused and they threatened suit. Papers are now being drawn to compel the general to pay.
