GAG IS GAG ANYWHERE, SAYS SIR WILFRID LAURIER, WHO IS SORRY PREMIER GOT DOSE OF HIS OWN PILLS IN KITCHENER

Hopes Sir Robert Borden Will Be LAURIER WILL NOT Given Every Privilege Due His Rank as Prime Minister of Canada.

RESENTS TORY INNUENDO REGARDING HIS LOYALTY

Refused to Serve on National Service Board Because It Was Bedeviled With Partisan Interference — Recalls Order to Sir Sam to "Go Slow" on Recruiting - Wonderful Reception to Old Chief in Canada's Capital.

OTTAWA, Nov. 27.—For over an hour tonight Sir Wilfrid Laurier addressed a crowd which crammed the Russell Theatre. Outside there was a long queue of people who vainly sought admittance. E. J. Daly, vice-president of the Ottawa Reform Association, in his introductory remarks as chairman, asserted that five thousand had been turned away.

The old chief was at his best, he fairly scintillated. Sir Wilfrid dealt with charges made against him in reference to recruiting, and with recent disturbances at public meetings. Referring more particularly to the incident at Kitchener, when Sir Robert Borden was unable to speak, Sir Wilfrid expressed sincere regret that it had occurred. "I do not approve," he said, "of any interference with free speech. The gag is the gag, whether it is applied by a turbulent crowd in a public meeting, or whether it is approved in parliament by the obedient majority of a cold-blooded Government."

The Opposition leader dealt at some length with the assertions of the prime minister that Sir Wilfrid has not assisted in recruiting. After reading a list of meetings which he had addressed on behalf of recruiting, Sir Wilfrid said: "With such a record as this, I think it is very small potatoes on the part of The Liberal chieftain warmly repudiated any suggestion that he was dominated by Bourassa.

"I want to say," he emphatically declared, "THAT THERE IS NO MAN ALIVE WHO CAN DOMINATE LAURIER. MR. BOURASSA IS AN ABLE MAN. I KNOW ALL THE HARM HE HAS DONE ME, AND ALL THE GOOD HE HAS DONE THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT, BUT HE SHALL NEVER DOMINATE LAURIER."

In regard to conscription, Sir Wilfrid held to his position as set forth in previous statements.. He declared that if returned to power he would not repeal the military service act, but would put it to a referendum. Sir Wilfrid said that conscription was not a racial question, for it had been rejected by Australia, a purely British country.

Welcomed With Ovation.

Sir Wilfrid was received with loud cheering. He spoke of his twenty years' residence in Ottawa, and remarked that when he finally left public life, he would suggest that the Government of the day—whether Grit or wan Legislature yesterday afternoon

"I do not say that to a Union Government," he remarked, "although I see no difference between Unionism and Conservatism." He spoke of the pleasure he had in seeing so many returned soldiers present, "men who have borne the heat and the brunt of the war, who have met the enemy face to face and will continue here the battle for freedom they began

He then referred to a question put to him by Mr. Fripp (his opponent) a couple of weeks ago, whether Sir Wilfrid approved of the tactics of the crowd at St. Ansleme, in Dorchester County, Quebec, when they prevented the Hon. Mr. Sevigny from speaking.

Champion of Free Speech. "I am proud and happy that the question was put to me by Mr. Fripp," Sir Wilfrid went on, "all the more so because the question has been aggravated by what took place three days ago when the prime minister was refused a hearing what took place three tays ago when the prime limited was letased a healing in the city of Kitchener. He knows my sentiments upon that question. He knows them well. He knows that I am in favor of free speech. He knows that I disapprove of any interference with free speech, and I believe that Mr. Fripp himself disapproves of any interference with free speech when his friends are concerned. But I am not so sure of his sentiments when his opponents are gag the Opposition, to impose the closure and to interfere with free speech."

Gag Is Gag Anywhere.

The audience broke into loud laughter and Sir Wilfrid continued: "I disapprove of any interference with free speech, and I am sorry minister was not allowed to speak at Kitchener the other day. I want to have given to him every privilege that is due to his rank, due to the position he occupies and due also to the efforts he is making in support of a bad cause. I do not approve of any interference with free speech anywhere The gag is the gag, whether it is applied by a turbulent crowd in public meet ing or whether it is approved in parliament by the obedient majority of a coldblooded government."

blooded government."

Sir Wiifrid proceeded to contest the claim that the Unionst party was entitled to style itself the "win-thewar" party.

None More Loyal Than He.

"I object." he said, "to anyone in the Conservative party, claiming the privilege of alone wanting to win the Bode in the Sir Wiifrid continued that Sir Robert had asked him to assist in connection with the national service scheme, but he had refused, and, he said, for good privilege of alone wanting to win the Bedeviled With Partisanship. None More Loyal Than He.

"I object," he said, "to anyone in the Conservative party, claiming the privilege of alone wanting to win the war. We all want to win the war. I say that there is no one holding the position I occupy in this country—a position which is inherent to the system of Government we have, the position I occupy as leader of the position I occupy as leader of the position—I say there is not a man, in any one of the belligerent countries who has done more in his position to help his country to win the war than I have." (Applause.)

The Opposition leader reviewed efforts which he made to help the Government in its war policy from the day that war was declared. He had not done it, he said, from any love of the Government, but from love of the cause. He had given the Government every possible support to carry on the defence of the cause of liberty and civilization.

Surprised at Premier.

Surprised at Premier.

Sir Wilfrid was surprised at the statement made by Sir Robert Borden at Sydney a few days ago that he had been lukewarm or hostile to the cause of recruiting.

The object they had in view was perfectly satisfactory to me, but I wanted to know more before I gave an affirmative answer. I asked to be excused for the moment, and asked for some delay. Upon this the prime minister of Canada, who knows what I have done in the past, throws a doubt on my sincerity in advocating the war. It may not have been a very 'inspiring answer,' I admit.

The Order to "Go Slow."

"But I think it was just as inspiring as the answer given to General Sir Sam Hughes when the latter wanted to go recruiting and was told to go slow on the matter."

Replies to Guthrie.

Referring to his attitude on conscription, Sir Wilfrid said he felt bound to differ with the Government on its policy, and said so with all frankness. Referring to a statement recently made by Hugh Guthrie that there was "Quebec in Australia," he said; "There is no Quebec in Australia. It is a purely British country. There is not one of its inhabitants who has not come from the British Isles, yet that country, composed of races of the British Isles, deliberately rejected conscription. If Australia, which has no Quebec, which is all British, has rejected conscription, then it is not a racial question, as is affirmed by so many papers in this country. There must be in Australia some other reason than the race question to induce the loyal people to reject the system of compulsory enlistment. It is because Australia has remained true to the principles prevalent in all British, countries, prevalent in Great Britain, in its dependencies from time to time up till three years ago, that the British people will do their duty without being compelled to do it, and will come forward like men to defend their country."

The Fault With Quebec.

Sir Wilfrid then turned to the question of recruiting in the province of Quebec. He admitted that Quebec had not done her part as fully as the English-speaking provinces, but who, he asked, was responsible for this? The responsibility must rest upon the shoulders of the Government. The Conservatives had formed an alliance with the Nationalists of Quebec.

"We know," said Sir Wilfrid, "that there was an alliance between the Nationalists and the Tories. We have proof of this from the statements made by Mr. Bourassa himself."

Sir Wilfrid declared that Sir Robert's declaration with regard to the falling off of recruiting was absolutely faisified by the records of his own minister of militia.

to disgorge their ill-gotten gains.

Must Review C.N.R. Deal.

Referring to the Canadian Northern Railway purchase, Sir Wilfrid said: "I denounce the whole transaction and insist that it is the duty of Parliament to review it."

Sir Wilfrid characterized the new franchise act as an iniquitous measure. The Government, he said, had manufactured a franchise law to suit itself, although the former one was perfectly satisfactory. In provinces where the women had the right to vote, he contended that these women were also enasked, was responsible for this? The responsibility must rest upon the shoulders of the Government. The falling off of recruiting was absolutely falsified by the records of his own minister of militia.

Giving his reasons for asking that a referendum be taken, Sir Wilfrid stated that the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada had requested that this be done, and for the sake of the working classes who are most directly interested in the law, he felt that it should have been done. There was also, he said, a feeling in the province of Quebec to be considered. This feeling had been raised by the Tories and Nationalists, but he had felt that if the matter was properly put before the people, the province of Quebec the province of Quebec the considered. Hartley Dewart of Toronto criticized General Mewburn for a statement attributed to him that he regretted that the military service act limited the number of men to 100,000, and expressed the opinion that 25,000 men in the first six months of the act was a pretty poor record for the military service act. CHILD GETS SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruit laxative for stomach, liver, bowels.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm children and they love it.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels needs a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the Bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never falls to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for bables, children of all ages and grownups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

First: It is perfectly harmless and can be given with every confidence to the youngest or most delicate child. Secondly: It contains no alcohol, opium, chloroform, mor-

HAS KEPT CANADA SAFE

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27.—The Duke of Devonshire, governor-general of Canada, addressed 700 members of the Vancouver Canadian Club this afternoon.

"Today," he said, "the city and harbor of Vancouver are being defended by those mysterious forces tucked away somewhere in the North Sea."

Applause greeted his comment that if any enemy warship had approached the Pacific coast of Canada, "its stay was only remarkable for its brevity." The governor-general paid generous tribute to what British Columbia had, with Canada in general, done for the common cause of the war. There was no cause for pessimism, but it is important that every individual accept his personal responsibility and devote his maximum of effort if such a peace were to be obtained as the Empire had determined should be obtained.
