BETTER CROP REPORTS.

Arrangements are being made by the Canadian minister of agriculture to largely extend the work of the bureau of census and statistics by including a uniform system of gathering crop statistics from all over the Dominion. Hitherto the federal department of agriculture, in gathering statistics of this kind, has been obliged to rely princi-pally on information furnished by the pany on mornacion furnished by the provincial authorities. It is claimed that in some instances it has been found that the provincial returns have not been very reliable, and have not coincided with the information furnished the department by federal officials. The need of accurate statistics respecting crops, etc., covering the whole Do-minion is manifest. It is believed that by the extension of the system now
