ANNUAL CONVERSAZIONE A BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Trinity College Artistically Decorated for Function Given by Literary Institute.

Trinity College was brilliant on Thursday evening, the occasion being the annual conversazione given by the president and members of the literary institute.

The large assembly hall was artistically decorated with bunting in the colors of the college. The big hall and the corridors were splendidly arranged for sitting out, but not very much in demand, only between dances, for the splendid floor and orchestra proved irresistible to the young folk.

The guests were received by Provost Mackinnon and Mrs. Charles Fleming, who wore black sequined net, and Miss Cartwright in black and white with a soft blue scarf.

The ladies who graciously gave their patronage were Mrs. J. J. Whitney, Mrs. Mavor, mauve crepe with emeralds, Mrs. Elmes Henderson, black satin with lace bertha.

There was the usual number of pretty maids besides a number of handsome matrons, who seemed to enjoy the dance as much as the younger people. Miss Gladys Sweetman looked very well in pink mousseline, Miss Isabel Jackson, the clever little woman from St. Margaret's College, was gowned in pale blue liberty satin.

Miss Playter, white and black chiffon with flower design of pink roses, Mrs. Mavor, mauve crepe with emeralds, Mrs. Elmes Henderson, black satin with lace bertha.
