

The Liberty Observer.

y means of the Legion of Honor; and he completed his encroachments on the revolution, by being named, or by naming himself Consul for life!

Napoleon was a great genius, and he therefore pretended to reflect on so startling a proposition. He took a month for consideration, and at the end of this period he invited the Senate to make known to him all its thoughts.

The history of the Charter is very short. The Abbé Legentil was charged to prepare it. The Corps Legistif appeared, and the Chambers of Peers and Deputies subsequently confirmed it.

BRITISH NEWS. THE WEST INDIA TRADE. Tuesday a highly respectable meeting of Gentlemen connected with the West India Colonies was held in the City of London Tavern.

THE CONTINENT AND GREAT BRITAIN. From Bell's Messenger. There is certainly a fearful sea made of the French Revolution in this country, against which it is the duty of every wise and cautious man to guard himself.

to take courses, mistaken for popular, which are forced upon them by the turbulent passions of the people. We deprecate, therefore, these mischievous attempts which are making to get up the old cry of the rights of man.

IRLAND. The lord-lieutenant has given £1000, Lord F. L. Gowle £200 and the Earl of Wicklow £20 towards the Northumberland Mendicity Fund.

BELGIUM. The Antwerp Journal announces that Prince Frederic and his Staff arrived in that town about 11 in the morning of the 2d. Ghent, Nieuport, Ypres, Mons and Tournay were in possession of the Revolutionists.

The fortune of an army of 300,000 was in the hands of a single man; and as he was always well as the commander-in-chief, his sons were for M. de Boufflers. His success may be ascribed to his energy, his intrepidity, his military science, his patriotism, and his noble and generous heart.

OUR FEELINGS. These are not the feelings of a man, but of a man of letters, and they are not the feelings of a man of letters, but of a man of letters.