Mail Brings Further Word From Soldier Lads at Salisbury Plain

If there is worry over the Canadian boys distasteful to the call to the firing line in Europe the lads themselves, judging by the tenor of their letters home, are not contributing very largely to it. A rather humorous letter was received by a friend from Wm. Wood, formerly a street car conductor, who left here with the Ambulance Corps. He speaks of the desire of the local volunteers to get into action. "We're not going to stop at any crossings," he wrote, "and there'll be no transfers given, either. And if the Kaiser ever tries to board our car we'll tell him that his money is no good, and that the only bell we'll ring for him will sound a funeral note. But say, Mac, wouldn't it be some idea if we could only capture the old codger, take him back to St. John, and make him a motorman? We'd never let him do it unless he joined the Union, and think of the fun we'd have watching him ride the goat!" Mr. Wood closed with best wishes to his former associates in the local Street Railway Men's Union.

Mrs. Bert A. Alcorn, of St. James street, has received a letter from her brother, Ned Sargent, with the Canadian contingent now at Salisbury Plain, telling of his trip across the ocean and of the life at the great camp. He says that it is quite cool in the mornings and the frost is thick on the ground. The soldier says that the men are able to buy an excellent meal for the small sum of twelve cents. Mr. Sargent was planning on going to London during the three days leave allowed the men.

He says that the men are anxious to get to the front and thinks that it will not be long before they are on the firing line. The letter was written by the soldier boy under difficulties, he being compelled to use his wash basin for a writing table.

Mrs. Alcorn has also received a letter from another brother, Etc. J. M. Sargent, who is also at Salisbury Plain. The brothers are camped about five miles apart. Both men send regards to friends in the city.

JUST A YEAR SINCE KANE'S CORNER STREET CAR LINE WAS OPENED

Yesterday marked the first anniversary of the opening of the street car line around Kane's Corner and the One Mile House and the people of the East St. John district were in hopes that the street railway people would celebrate the day with the announcement that the mile more street has been lying idle between Kane's corner and the Municipal Home since early in the spring would soon be employed for a very worthy purpose. But the anniversary passed off without any such explosion. However, the people out that way, hardened pedestrians every one, are consoling themselves with the thought that, even if they have nothing else, they have the tracks there upon which they may gaze at pleasure, and point out to their visiting friends as one of the sure signs of the expansion and development of the city.

ST. JOHN YOUNG MAN WEDS IN VANCOUVER

Many friends in St. John will be interested in an event which took place in the Mount Pleasant Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, on Tuesday evening, November 3, when Miss Vera Ametta, daughter of Mrs. Mary L. Fenton, of that city, became the bride of a former St. John boy, Harold Stanley Cunningham. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Joy Woodside, in the presence of only intimate friends, Miss Margaret Mitchell was bridesmaid and Allan Macdonald supported the groom. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham left on a honeymoon trip to Seattle, Tacoma and Portland, Ore. On their return to Vancouver they will reside at 68 Fortieth avenue west.

The best wishes of many friends in this city will be extended to Mr. Cunningham and his bride. Mr. Cunningham was formerly with the Western Union Telegraph Co. here and went west about five years ago. He is now an operator with the C. F. R. Telegraph Co. in Vancouver.

DESTROYING TREES IN WATERLOO STREET GETS $179.19 VERDICT

Commissioner Potts and the officials of the street department would be very grateful for information fixing responsibility for the destruction of trees along the streets. At least half a dozen trees in Waterloo street have had the tops or branches broken off by horses permitted by careless drivers to stand within reach. It is useless to plant trees and attempt to beautify the streets unless teamsters and others protect them. If information can be got, prosecution will promptly follow.

HEAVY DAY IN THE CITY COURT

Ninety cases were on the list before Hon. R. J. Ritchie in the city court this morning. This was a record day, the usual number of cases being between fifty and sixty at the most. Many this morning were contested and consequently there was very little time in which to dispose of the business of the police court. Twenty-eight of the cases were brought by Doctor Preston's estate for accounts on his books. Some of the accounts were eight or ten years old. J. H. F. Teed acted for the estate. In one of these accounts, the defendant denied ever having seen Doctor Preston. Mr. Teed asked for a judgment on the ground that an entry in the books showed the amount due. Hon. Mr. Ritchie said he thought Mr. Teed should ask for a judgment for the defendant as he would then be more likely to get a decision in his favor when it was appealed because he said that his judgment would be almost sure to be reversed whichever way. Judgment was given for the defendant.

Mr. Justice Barry delivered judgment this morning in the case of Samuel L. Gregory vs. Frank E. Williams et al for the plaintiff for the amount of $179.19. This was a suit to recover $1500, $1000 of which was alleged to be due as salary and $500 as commission. The plaintiff entered into an agreement with the defendants whereby he was to receive for his services $2,000 as salary as well as a minimum commission of $500 from the defendants who were known in the transaction as the Fundy Fox Company. The contract dated from May 7th, 1913 and was to run for one year, but the plaintiff was dismissed from his employment on December 10, 1913. He had been paid a six months' salary and brought suit to recover his wages for the balance of the term of his contract. The court held that as the plaintiff had treated the contract as rescinded and sued for wages, he was only entitled to recover the amount due for the work he had actually done, and gave a verdict accordingly. At the trial J. B. M. Baxter, K. C. appeared for the plaintiff and Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C. and J. A. Sinclair for the defendants.

GREY-MACKENZIE
A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of E. A. Benn, 106 Waterloo street, last evening, when Roy Cecil Grey and Miss Mary Elizabeth Mackenzie were united in the bonds of matrimony by Rev. Mr. Thompson. The bride was becomingly attired in a costume of steel grey silk and carried a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Walter W. Grey played Mendelssohn's wedding march. After a buffet luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Grey left for their future home, 14 Bentley street.
