SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

BOWLING

In Black's Alleys. In the two-men tournament on Black's alleys last evening Poshay and Howard took five points from Brown and Stubbs, 883 to 819. Burton and McLeod took all six from Sutherland and Irvine, 886 to 772. Burton's score of 94 2-5 and Poshay's average of 96 1-3 were the highest made. Tonight's games are: Cosgrove and Hurley vs. Moore and Harrison; Black and Gilmore vs. White and Beattie.

BASEBALL

City League

The opening of the City Baseball League has been postponed from May 15 to May 28 on account of the cold weather. The first game will be between the P. M. A. and Carleton teams on Monday, May 28.

Fairville League

The Tartars defeated the Athletics in the Fairville League last evening, 12 to 6. Batteries—Irvin and Engel, Melroy and O'Toole.

Players We Know

Frederick Gleaner—Art Finnamore, who has been getting baseball under way at McAdam is at home for a few days before going to Glace Bay to take charge of the team to represent the "big town" in the Cape Breton League. Stanley Seeley is now in charge of the McAdam team, and he is endeavoring to arrange two games for May 21 with a Fredericton team, and has written to Sandy Staples in that connection. Some of the local teams, or possibly a Maryville nine, may make the trip. The first player signed for the Glace Bay team by Art Finnamore is Bobby Fretz, who was with St. Stephen's Thistles in 1911 and last year was with the Houlton Reds for part of the season. His home is in New Bedford, Mass., and he is now playing with teams around Providence.

Joe Neptune and George Wilson were the heavy artillery for the Linn club in their game with Portland on Tuesday, which Linn won 14 to 1. The two former N. B. and Maine League stars each hit safely for four times in the game, Wilson's list including a double and triple. The excitement of doing so much hitting was too much for Neptune, however, and he made a couple of errors. Keane played short stop for Woonsocket on last Saturday and helped to trim Whitinsville in the Inter-City League around Providence, R. I. He had a hit, scored a run, had two stolen bases and accepted five chances. He is given special mention on two of his plays. Habley, pitching for Manhattan College, lost to Brown by a score of 3 to 2. He was defeated mainly through his team's poor playing.

Good Ones Passed Along

If some big league magnate could gather together all the players who were left on the supposition that their playing would not develop up to the standard, or for some other cause, what a marvelous team he would have. For example: Catcher Archer, whom Hugh Jennings, of the Tigers, could not see. Catcher Thomas, another backstop Jennings thought wasn't quite heavy enough for him. Pitcher Hub Perdue, the star Boston flinger Frank Chance didn't want around the Cub bench.

Pitcher Larry Cheney, now a great Cub performer, who didn't look good to ex-Manager Fielder Jones, of the White Sox.

Pitcher Lew Ritchie, of the Cubs, the Giant tamer, who the Phils. thought was down and out.

First Baseman Chick Gandil, one of the men who put the Senators on top this last season, who ex-Manager Hugh Duffy, of the White Sox, thought was a joke. Second Baseman Rath, of the White Sox, a player neither the Naps nor Connie Mack, of the Athletics, could discern through a telescope.

Shortstop Bridwell, of the Cubs, turned loose by the Giants to give Pitcher and Oriani's chance (Gardner's) to get into the majors.

Third Baseman Foster, of the Senators, one of 1912's sensations. Connie Mack thought he was too light for the job.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 15.—The question of "Who is best of the ball team on the diamond?" is answered by Manager Ed Smith, of the local team in the Central League. William Essick, its principal owner, went into the box yesterday and Terra Haute hammered his slants and shots to all corners of the lot in the first inning.

When the Terra Haute players had amassed five runs, Smith rushed over to Essick.

"You to the clubhouse," he ordered. Essick meekly obeyed, and Smith took over the pitching role, holding his oppon-

Jimmy Gardner Will Try to Work The "Come-Back" Act

By TOM ANDREWS

Jimmy Gardner, an eastern middle-weight, hailing from Lowell, Mass., and a member of a family that boasts of three good fighters, announces that he intends to return to the ring after an absence of a year. It is seldom that one family can boast of more than one really good fighter, but in this case the Gardner family was an exception, for George was champion light-heavy-weight of the world, Jimmy champion welter-weight, and his younger brother was a good light-weight.

Jimmy Gardner

Jimmy was really the cleverest of the three, however, and it was his extreme cleverness that won him the welter-weight title when he defeated Buddy Ryan of Chicago, in 1908, but later he lost a 90-round battle to Mike, Twin Sullivan. Again in 1908 Jimmy claimed the welter title when he whipped Joe Walcott in twelve rounds. Then came his two hard battles with Jimmy Clabby at New Orleans, winning the first by a scratch and getting a draw in the second after twenty rounds of fierce work. It was about this time that Gardner took on weight and graduated into the middle-weight class and Clabby claimed the welter-weight championship, which he never lost, advancing himself into the 158-pound class in 1912.

Jimmy Gardner has been fighting for nearly four years, having started his professional career in 1909, but having a few before that time. In all he has had more than 100 battles and during that time he has lost only five decisions, a record that any boxer might well be proud of. Jimmy Gardner, at one time welter-weight champion, married Jimmy's sister, Jimmy decided to retire from the game, but it seems that the old love for the excitement has gotten the best of him again and he intends to take another chance in the arena. He is only twenty-eight years of age now and should be in pretty good shape, for he is a boy that has always taken good care of himself. When you stop to think that Johnny Thompson, who is nearly forty years of age, is still fighting, it does not seem possible that Gardner should be worried about the age limit, but then a lay-off from the ring sends a man back fast these days. Jimmy is not going to select a poor one for a starter, as he is to meet Tommy Bergin, who has been fighting some pretty tough middle-weight down east, late. The "come-back" bill seems to be getting hold of all the boxers, so let us see what Jimmy will do.

Great Batting

Eddie Fitzpatrick, second base for Toronto, is leading the Leaf sluggers, and now has a batting average of .438.

"Fitz" has had twenty-five bingles in fifty-seven trips to the plate, and in the last two games with Jersey City has hit safely seven times out of nine chances. He is also hitting in brilliant style, despite the fact that he has a sore leg.

Of the five horses in the race Frog Legs got off fourth to Buckhorn, Rudolph and Billy Collins, with Cousin Pass trailing. Frog Legs, under a terrific drive won by a neck from Buckhorn with Rudolph three lengths back. Frog Legs is owned by J. W. Schorr. He is a son of Masetto, out of Prognosis.
