Scientific American. PROSPECTUS.
VOLUME FOURTEEN
BEGINS SEPTEMBER 11, 1848.

MECHANICS, INVENTORS, Manufacturers and Farmers.

Manufacturers and Farmers.

The Scientific American has now reached its Fourteenth Year, and will enter upon a New Volume on the 11th of September. It is the only weekly publication of the kind now issued in this country, and it has a very extensive circulation in all the States of the Union. It is not, as some might suppose from its title, a dry, abstruse work out technical science; on the contrary, it so deals with the great events going on in the scientific hechanical and industrial worlds, as to please and instruct every one. If the Mecha is or Artizan wishes to know the best machine in use, or how to make any substance employed in his business—if the Housewife wishes to get a recipe for making a good color, &c. If the Inventor wishes to know what is going on in the way of improvements—if the Manufacturer wishes to keep posted with the times, and to employ the lest facilities inchis business—if the Man of Leisure and Study wishes to keep himself familiar with the progress rade in the chemical laboratory, or in the construction of telegraphs, steamships, railroads, reapers, mowers, and a thousand other machines and appliances, both of peace and war—all these desiderial can be found in the Scientific American, and not elsewhere. They are here presented in a reliable and interesting form, adapted to the comprehension of minds unlearned in the higher branches of science and art.
