

BRIDGE MEN LEAVE WORK

Men Engaged on Approach to New Bridge Struck Yesterday For $2 Pay for Day of Nine Hours.

The work on the west approach to the new bridge across the Reversing Falls was held up yesterday when a considerable number of the laborers went out on strike for a straight wage of $2.00 for a nine hour day. It is understood that when the men hired it was under the agreement that they would work for 20 cents an hour. Later they worked but nine hours a day, with the result that when pay day arrived they were paid at the rate of nine hours, receiving $1.80 a day instead of $2.00. When this became known the men to the number of about thirty left the work.

C. A. MacVey when seen at the Victoria Hotel last evening, stated that the men had gone on strike, but had not made any demands in the proper quarter. When the men were hired, it was with the understanding that they would receive twenty cents an hour. It is expected that the affair will be settled in a few days.

SUBURBAN RAILWAY SURVEY COMPLETED

Chief Engineer Jones Now Figuring on the Plans—Will Not Likely Start to Build Until Next Year.

The work of making the surveys of the different routes for the Suburban Railway has been completed and the last of the plans have been submitted to the chief engineer of the work, J. A. Jones of Lewiston, Maine. The lines surveyed were the Millville line, the Kothway route, Spruce Lake and Westfield.

The last of the plans was sent on Saturday to Mr. Jones. The work of going over these and computing the cost per mile for the various routes will take considerable time, and in the meantime the company will be unable to do anything as regards actual construction until they have the report of the engineer. One of the officials of the company, Mr. Jones, yesterday said that he expected it would be at least a month before the report would be available. Mr. Jones the engineer, is just recovering from a severe illness and has been unable to make much progress with the work.

When the report is ready a meeting of the company will be held and the matter of selecting a route or routes to be constructed will probably be decided upon. He did not think, however, that a start in actual construction work would be made until well into next year.

THAT RUNAWAY

As Charles Crawford was returning with his horse and wagon from the blacksmith shop on Tuesday afternoon the animal took fright at an automobile while entering the alleyway leading to Mr. Crawford's barn on Elliot Row and dashed into the yard. Here the animal continued to buck and plunge and speedily upset the wagon and smashed the harness after which it galloped out of the yard down Elliot Row, across Union street and down Erin and St. Patrick streets to the Marsh bridge. At the bridge it encountered the trench being dug for the street railway extension and in attempting to jump over the obstacle fell and was quite badly cut. Getting to its feet, the horse ran into an alley where it was caught and placed in Alexander's stable. Mr. Crawford was notified and hitching up another horse, drove down and secured the animal. The horse did not die as has been stated.

HOW ABOUT PAYING FOR THAT DOG TAX?

Tuesday Next will be Dog Day in Police Court—South End has 504 Unlicensed Dogs.

Tuesday next will be known as Dog Day in the police court, when the residents in the south end of the city who have been reported for owning dogs without a license will appear before Magistrate Ritchie and give their reasons. In the southern division the police have reported 504 dog owners and all have been served with notices to appear in court.

"Dog Day" in the court is usually a very interesting one, as those who are summoned give all kinds of excuses. Some say, "I don't own the dog," or "My dog died," "I sent my pup to the country," "I gave my dog away," "My dog is not worth the license fee, so I drowned him," are some other expressions heard. In the majority of cases the persons reported take out a license and the city revenue is increased considerably.

Seven hundred and eighty-four was the number of the check issued to the last citizen paying his dog tax yesterday morning. This signifies that that number of dogs have been accounted for in the city so far this year. The approach of the first dog day is boosting business at the city license office and no less than sixty dog licenses were taken out during the morning.

Shortly before five o'clock yesterday afternoon Officer Garnett saw the man on Douglas Avenue, and chased him down Main street into Murray street, where Stevens disappeared from view.

DEALERS REPORT A SCARCITY OF SHAD

Salmon 'also are not at all Plentiful for the Season—Retail Prices in Fish Market for Today.

The catch of shad about the bay and harbor this season has been unusually small and as a result the wholesalers throughout the city report a limited quantity of this fish in stock and they are unable to meet the demand in the city for shad. Whether the fishing fields in the bay and harbor have ceased to be good territory for shad is difficult to say, but certainly there has been a marked decrease this season in the quantity landed by the fishermen, and the retailers, who have a small supply on hand are asking high prices, twenty-five cents being asked for the small fish. Although salmon have for the last few weeks been caught in the harbor, no large quantities have been brought in yet and, consequently, the supply is limited and the price high for this time of year.

The quotations in the retail market for the day are:
Salmon, 18 to 28 cents a pound; shad, 25 cents up; mackerel, 15 to 20 cents; smelt, 12 cents; gaspareaux, 24 cents a dozen; halibut, 15 cents a pound; lobsters, 15 cents up. The smoked and salt fishes are selling at the usual prices.

NORTH END SILVER MINE STILL THERE

There was no startling news from the North End Cobalt yesterday. The city fathers have taken the discovery of the supposed silver mines very coolly and are patiently waiting the return of Dr. Mathew, who will be asked to make a report on the specimens of metal discovered. Quite a number of people, however, who have less money to spend than the city fathers, were prospecting on their own account in the North End yesterday, but if they found any more mines they are keeping it quiet.

Several local people who have been studying the get-rich-quick business, were at city hall trying to get an option on the supposed discovery of the silver mine, and even went to the trouble of offering 30 cents for a thirty days' option. But the city officials were too busy to sell mines yesterday. Should it turn out that the city has discovered a nickel mine instead of a silver deposit, it is said that it is likely if the nickel is abundant enough that the city fathers will have the streets nickel plated in order to keep the dust down.

When Summer Stops the Swing

Most of us can remember the school lesson in the law of accumulated motion—momentum.

If you exert a pound of pressure against a man in a swing, you'll start him moving slowly "to and fro." If you continue to exert a pound of pressure against him every time the swing makes a trip, you'll soon have him going so high that he almost turns the whole circle. If you stop pushing, the momentum will die out and the swing come to rest at "dead centre."

Winning trade follows the same natural laws.

Advertisements are the force behind the swing of public favor. Each new advertisement increases the momentum. Finally, the accumulated force of these numerous impulses swings indifference to the buying point.

If you stop Advertising, you lose momentum.

The moral of which is:

Don't stop the business swing in Summer. Keep adding the pounds of Advertising pressure.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 505 Sunland Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
