ACSUS, a non-profit organization, encourages the study of Canada at all educational levels and in all disciplines. Through its national secretariat, ACSUS coordinates developments and activities in Canadian Studies and works closely with academics, business executives and government officials in striving for an improved understanding of issues affecting the bilateral relationship. The majority of ACSUS' 1,300 members are university professors engaged in research and teaching about Canada. A growing number represent the corporate sector, the legal community and government agencies in both the United States and in Canada. Institutional members include libraries, publishers and professional groups.
